Today

No Frills, Says Hoover.
Strange Old Chinese.
Lamb Heels Up Again.
Billionaire Farmers.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

A GOVERNMENT without frills, run like an engineer's office, seems to be the Hoover plan. The President will not have military and naval aides to go with him wherever he goes, to prove that he is head of the Army and Navy.

HE IS going to abolish much of the handshaking. He might well abolish it all.

There's no reason why congressmen should have the right to bring their little droves of constituents to the White House, exhibiting the President to them, and compelling him to shake hands when he ought to be attending to business for which he was elected.

This promises to be strictly a business administration.

A VERY old Chinese statesman named Wu Tze-Hui was one of three that, on their word of honor, guaranteed the life and safety of Li Chai-Sun, governor of Canton.

Yesterday Li Chai-Sun was executed by the Nationalists, in spite of the guarantee. The aged Wu Tze-Hui considered himself disgraced and killed himself, although he had nothing to do with the execution of the man guaranteed. Many Westerners will find it difficult to understand that suicide.

WALL Street is many things, but NOT dull.

Speculators that had been paying 20 per cent for borrowed money on Wednesday could borrow yesterday morning for 15 per cent and were quite happy. They almost thought "cheap money" had come back.

Later in the day they borrowed at 10, and then 8 per cent, and their childish joy knew no bounds.

LITTLE lamb heels went up in the air, and so did stock prices. Much talk filled the air, of mergers, distributions of stock, all the trimmings that go with the Wall Street table d'hote.

Plus signs all up and down the line.

THE Federal Reserve, which hasn't quite succeeded in creating the panic that it seems to desire, tells banks they mustn't make brokers' loans because their money is needed for "legitimate commercial customers." That is plain nonsense.

IF BANKERS could lend only on good commercial paper, they wouldn't lend much.

Commercial borrowing is not what it used to be. Ask any banker.

Great corporations, once heavy borrowers, have made so much money that they are now heavy lenders, competing with banks in the call money market.

Other corporations that need money get it by selling stock financing themselves in the open market, instead of borrowing.

"CLASS A" commercial paper is as rare as white blackbirds.

If the Federal Reserve should drive the public out of Wall street, it would be a bad thing for banks and worse for industries, now able to finance themselves, if they have good reputations and records, by stock sales.

SENATOR McNARY, head of the committee on farm relief asks John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Henry Ford, Charles M. Schwab, J. P. Morgan, Paul M. Warburg and Owen D. Young to give advice.

That interesting collection of farmers would probably tell the farmers first of all to organize their business, eliminate lost motion and time, including an hour and a half for the hired man to harness and unharness the team. But Rockefeller, Schwab and Young decline to advise. Morgan is in Europe.

KELLOGG, NOTABLES SAILING

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS.)—Headed by former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, the passenger list of the Isle de France, which sails for Europe late today, reads like a page from "who's who."

In addition to the sponsor of the peace pact, those sailing are:

Sir Henry Deterding, head of the Royal Dutch Shell Company; Jean Borotra, Admiral Paul Cuepratte, Anita Loos, Antonio Moreno, Noel Coward, Count and Countess Mercati, Crosby Gaige, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gimbel and Louis Brooks.

Also sailing on the Isle de France are Edwina Booth, Harry Carey, W. S. Van Dyke and other members of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film organization, who will spend three months in Africa making a movie version of "Trader Horn."

SUNSHINE IS EASTER PROMISE

There will be sunshine for Easter, early weather forecasts indicate.

The day will be cool and morning clouds are expected to roll away by noon, according to Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman.

With rain centering in North Dakota today, it is likely to reach here late tonight and the showers are expected to continue throughout tomorrow. The temperature will probably hover around 50 degrees or slightly higher today and the same tomorrow, but general indications point to fair weather Easter.

Crushed by Cars, Man Fatally Hurt

Caught between two freight cars today in the Versailles yards of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Oscar Rieger, 30, a brakeman, of 297 Glen Caladh street, Hazelwood, suffered internal injuries which caused his death a few hours later in the McKeesport hospital.

Flying Publisher Lands in Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt, March 29.—(AP.)—Van Lear Black, Baltimore publisher, landed here last night from Assouan in continuation of his flight from Capetown to Croydon, England.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Alfred E. Smith has been elected a director of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. He also is a director of the Country Trust Company of New York.

10-STORY DUQUESNE CLUB ADDITION PLANNED

An addition to the Duquesne Club, 10 stories or more in height, is contemplated, dependent on negotiations for adjacent property reported today to be in progress.

The tentative plans of the club embrace an addition that would constitute an important downtown improvement and greatly enlarge the facilities of the club, in addition to providing much greater accommodation for members residing at the club and for guests.

$1,500,000 PROJECT

In view of the fact that only sketchy plans have been drawn, no estimate of the cost of the improvement is available, but real estate men say that the improvement would represent an investment of at least $1,500,000. The property sought by the club is stated to possess a value in excess of $300,000.

Representatives of the club were reported yesterday to be in New York for the purpose of concluding negotiations with representatives of the Arbuckle estate, which holds the property. Directors of the club are sanguine that these negotiations will be successful, in view of the attitude expressed by heirs of the estate in the past favorable to the transfer of the property to the club.

IN REAR OF CLUB

The property sought by the club is in the rear of the club building and comprises a rectangular plot 115 feet in length and 90 feet in

G. H. FLINN, LEADING CONTRACTOR, DIES

George H. Flinn, 54, president of the Booth & Flinn Co., oldest son of the late William Flinn, died today in West Penn Hospital of pneumonia.

Taken ill Monday, his condition was regarded grave from the first and he was at once removed to the hospital, where he succumbed at 11:15. At his bedside when death came were his daughter, Mrs. Stuyvesan Wainwright; a brother, A. Rex Flinn, and a sister, Mrs. Simon Patterson.

G. H. Flinn

Mr. Flinn, as successor to his father in directing the affairs of Booth & Flinn, was recognized as one of the foremost engineering contractors in the country. His firm built the Liberty tunnels through Mt. Washington, the Holland tunnels under the Hudson River, in New York. The firm is now engaged in constructing a subway tube under the Harlem River, in New York.

Like his father, Mr. Flinn was identified with the independent Republican movement here and was a strong backer of Theodore Roosevelt.

He was allied with the independent Republicans behind the candidacy of Gifford Pinchot for governor.

His wife, Mrs. Clara Negley Flinn, boarded the Olympic at Cherbourg, France, yesterday, for home after word of her husband's serious condition had been sent to her by radio. An effort will be made to notify her in mid-ocean, by radio, of his death.

In addition to being head of the

MELLON WILL RADIO TREASURY POLICIES

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—Secretary Mellon will outline Treasury policies in an address tomorrow night on the nation-wide hookup of the National Radio Forum, arranged by the Washington Star.

Secretary Mellon's talk is to be the first of a series of addresses on governmental topics by members of the Hoover cabinet. It will be his first extended speech since the inauguration. He will go on the air at 10 o'clock, eastern standard time.

FEDERALS DISCOVER PLOT TO KILL CALLES

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—(AP.)—Enrique Liekens, Mexican consul at El Paso, informed the government today that there was a plot on foot to assassinate Gen. Plutarco Elias Calle at his headquarters in Northern Mexico.

The consul said a telephone conversation between two prominent rebel leaders (presumably at El Paso or Juarez) had been overheard in which it was related that the rebel general, Jose Gonzalo Escobar, on fleeing from Torreon, left behind him "well paid agents" to kill Mexico's former president and minister of war.

Thus far no attempt has been made on the life of Gen. Calles who

RAIN MAY PREVENT PIRATE-GIANT GAME

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

SAN ANTONIO, March 29—Prospects for an exhibition game between the Pirates and Giants here this afternoon were none too bright as rain greeted the players of both clubs as they arose this morning. The opening battle between the two clubs, scheduled yesterday, was called off on account of rain.

The Pirates will remain in this city tomorrow and Sunday, engaging the San Antonio club of the Texas League in exhibition contests. The Giants are scheduled to leave tonight on the first lap of their journey East. They have been in training here for more than a month.

If a game is played today Jess Petty will shoot his portside offerings against the Giants.

BANKER'S STOCK AID TO REACH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—Congressional leaders are closely watching the fluctuations of the stock market and their effect on the public.

Senator Glass, of Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury, has advanced a proposal that the Federal Reserve Board dismiss Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, as a Class A director in the board for supplying money to the stock market this week when call loans were boosted to 20 per cent.

Senator King (Dem.), Utah, is preparing a bill to authorize the Federal Reserve banks to forbid loans to be used in marginal trading operations on the stock exchanges.

However, there is a general disposition at the Capitol to leave the situation, for the present at least, in the hands of the Federal Reserve Board. The board is seeking to check the constant growth of loans by member banks to brokers and dealers.

Senator Glass has been working

'His Honor' No Prospect, Panhandler Finds Out

A collector of rare and not-so-rare dimes was operating on his side of the thoroughfare in Grant street today. He was having a good day, it seems, what with the pre-Easter air and the holiday atmosphere.

He had progressed to the City-County Building and a better state of financial stability when he spied a tall, well-groomed figure of a man tripping down those steps to his limousine.

"Pardon me," the collector apologized, unaware that he was pardoning himself to Mayor Charles H. Kline.

Before the frown that began to form on his honor's features could attain more than an outline, Patrolman Thomas Leonard, poet laureate of the Pittsburgh Police Department, had the collector by the arm and was escorting him to Central Police Station, where dime collectors hold a daily convention.

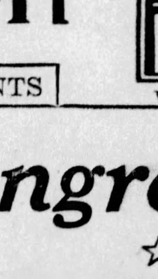
LURED BY KIDNAPER, VICTIM'S LIFE IS MENACED

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(AP.)—Curtis S. Devonshire, 30-year-old salesman, and Alice Labutis, 12 years, who he is accused of kidnaping from her home here on Wednesday, were found today at Charlotte, N. C., police announced. He was arrested when he called at a telegraph office for money. The girl was with him.

The telegram to Devonshire was a decoy from Philadelphia police, who learned he had little money when he left with the girl.



Alice Labutis

According to word received here, Devonshire told Charlotte police that he had been drinking when he took the girl from her West Philadelphia home. The police said the girl was unharmed.

TO WAIVE EXTRADITION

Devonshire said he would waive extradition and would come back to Philadelphia immediately with the police.

The girl was enticed into Devonshire's automobile late in the afternoon. The little girl was an invalid the result of drinking lye when very young at her home near Shamokin, Pa., and had been under care of physicians here ever since. She was boarding at the home of Mrs. Stella Ross as the ward of the social service department of Jefferson Hospital. She had to undergo treatment every week in order to keep her esophagus from closing. When she was kidnaped it was feared this lack of attention might phove fatal. Whether Devonshire knew of this condition is not known.

RUM WARRANT OUT FOR CONGRESS 'DRY'

CHICAGO, March 29. — Congressman M. Alfred Michaelson, of Chicago, who voted for the severe penalties of the Jones law and who was elected with the support of the Anti-Saloon League, was named in a removal warrant issued by United States Commissioner Walker for "smuggling taxable goods" into this country.

The warrant followed the indictment of Michaelson last October in Florida, a fact that became known today after an apparent indisposition by the federal government to prosecute the case.

Bond was set at $2,000 and it was understood Congressman Michaelson would be given 24 hours to surrender and file bond, pending a hearing on removal proceedings. He was charged with possessing and transporting liquor, and importation of liquor without payment of revenue. The latter charge is a felony and

"Fairchild," according to a statement by Assistant State's Attorney Carleton Schults, is the "undercover man" who obtained the original information against the De Kings. U. S. REPORT ON RUM SHIP SINKING GIVEN CANADIANS

HORST DEATH BY RUM CAR DOUBTED

WOOSTER, O., March 29.—(AP.)—Special Assistant Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey last night said he placed little credence in an anonymous letter received by the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, which said 4-year-old Melvin Horst, missing from his home at Orrville since last December 27, had been struck and killed by rum-runners and his body thrown in a river near Columbus.

Mougey said the boy had been seen by several persons later than 4:40 p. m., the hour at at which the letter said the truck killed him.

He also said it was unlikely that liquor runners would have stopped if they had killed the boy because in doing so they would have encountered an additional risk of being discovered with their cargo.

SIGNED "LIQUOR RUNNER"

COLUMBUS, O., March 29.—(AP.)—Four-year-old Melvin Horst, Orrville, O., child for whose disappearance last December Elias Arnold and his son, Arthur, have been sent to prison, was struck and killed by a rum unner's truck and his body thrown into a river near Columbus, according to an anonymous letter received by the Ohio State Journal yesterday.

The letter, signed "Liquor Runner," purported to come from one of four persons whom the writer said were in the truck when it struck the boy near his home December 27.

EXONERATES ARNOLDS

The missive exonerated Elias Arnold, 55, now serving a term in Ohio penitentiary on charges of child stealing, and his 17-year-old son, Arthur, who was sentenced to the Mansfield State Reformatory on a similar charge.

While the letter resulted promptly in an active effort by Columbus police to trace the alleged liquor runners, they were handicapped because the place where the boy's body was supposed to have been thrown, and the name of the river, were not disclosed.

has his headquarters in the vicinity of Torreon.

Mexican government troops advanced on two fronts today, finding little rebel opposition to delay their progress. Mile after mile of destroyed rail lines made going slow and arduous.

In the north, Federal cavalry under Gen. Benigno Serrato occupied Escalon, former insurgent headquarters, after a fight in which two Federals were wounded and four rebels killed. Another Federal advance guard cut in near Jimenez, nearer Chihuahua City, but made no attempt to enter the city.

REBELS QUIT JIMENEZ

Federal aviators reported Jimenez had been deserted by the rebels who re-established themselves at Santa Rosalia, 13 kilometers to the northwest, although dispatches from the border said the rebels claimed still to hold this city. The main body of Gen. Almazan's army was operating out of Jaral Grande, below Escalon.

Government announcements said there had been numerous surrenders of rebels who no longer wished to fight against the government.

BATTLE BELIEVED NEAR

JAUREZ Chihuahua, Mexico, March 29.—(AP.)—The crisis of the Mexican revolution apparently was near at hand today as only 17 miles of desert separated the Federals at Escalon and the rebels at Bellano, to the north. Reports received here said a battle before night was imminent.

The revolutionaries made their first air raid yesterday, bombing Bermejillo, believed to be the headquarters of Gen. Calles. Reports from rebel headquarters at Jimenez said the attack was successful. "doing much damage and creating much consternation among the Federal forces."

Two bombers, accompanied by an unannounced number of pursuit planes, made the raid, the rebels reported.

A telegram from Gen. Escobar to the Associated Press said:

"The aerial escadrille of the revolutionary army is ready and well equipped to combat the Calles army."

TWO WOMEN DIE FROM MOTOR ACCIDENTS

Two women are dead today as the result of automobile accidents. One, was struck and killed by an automobile last night. The other, injured in a crash February 4, died of resulting pneumonia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hillman, 59, of 2401 West Carson street, was killed when struck by an automobile driven, police said, by Peter Ostronic, 31, of 1011 Third street, West Park, in front of her home. Ostronic was arrested.

Mrs. Lena Davis, 65, of 5962 Alder street, died of pneumonia in the West Penn Hospital, resulting from injuries suffered while riding in a machine driven by her son, Charles Davis, which was struck by one operated by Luther Ray, of 8 Collingswood avenue, Swissvale, police said. depth. It is bounded on the north by Strawberry way, on the west by Coffey way, on the south by a 10-foot private way dividing it from the club building and on the east by property owned by the club, on which is erected an extension of the club to Strawberry way.

The private way extends 90 feet from Coffey way to that section of the club, 26.5 feet in width, which runs from Sixth avenue to Strawberry way, and if the plans for the erection of the addition are consummated, it is expected that the way will be closed. This would give the club a rectangular plot extending 240 feet from Sixth avenue to Strawberry way, with a uniform width of 116.25 feet on each of these thoroughfares and occupying all that city block between the Gimbel store and Coffey way.

STREET BARKER LAW ENFORCED

"No barking" is the edict of Police Superintendent Peter P. Walsh to sidewalk merchants along Diamond street.

Fifteen merchants protested to Walsh yesterday against arrest of several of their number. Three vendors have been fined small sums in Central Police Court this week.

BIG oil men of America agree to a definite plan for preventing waste and reckless competition. Sir Henri Deterding, manager and director of the Royal Dutch-Shell, a sort of British Standard Oil, promises 100 per cent co-operation. What it will amount to remains to be seen.

EUROPE also reports that United States Steel plants will combine with European steel companies in a sort of international trust to regulate prices and other things.

ONCE, in the good old "muck-raking" days, this country swooned and then had fits about a poor little trust amounting to a billion dollars. It chopped that trust, Standard Oil, into tiny pieces. Now each piece is worth a billion.

The trust fever has gone down, and men can talk calmly about a trust to include all steel plants in the United States, and plants across the ocean. "We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

LEO MAXSE, editor of the London "National Review," has a program for Britain's salvation.

Mr. Maxse suggests that Great Britain stop paying installments on the money she owes Uncle Sam. The good excuse offered being, "We have discovered that America uses our annual tribute to build battle cruisers."

That's almost as bad as the King of Crete using the annual Greek tribute of youths and virgins as lunch for the minotaur.

ENGLAND lacks gold, England has much unemployment, England is heavily taxed. But in England those that buy stocks borrow the money at 5 per cent.

WE SENT five billions to England in the war, about four billions to France, and scattered other billions around "like drunken sailors," and Americans pay their banks 20 per cent interest if they want to buy stocks on margin. In "poor England," money is borrowed for the same purpose at 5 per cent.

High finance manages its business better here. It could teach Shylock something about getting that pound of flesh.

CHECK FOR $500 HOLD CLUE TO FATAL BLAST

City detectives today were endeavoring to establish the history of a $500 check which they said was found on the person of James Lomeo, 26, of 618 Fairview avenue, McKeesport, victim of the alleged incendiary explosion which blasted the butcher shop of Samuel Benjamin, 5170 Butler street, Wednesday night.

Benjamin himself is under arrest, accused by detectives of conspiring with Lomeo to fire the shop. The check was made payable to cash and was signed by Benjamin, who was quoted as saying that he had never seen Lomeo.

The detectives said Benjamin had denied knowledge of the cans filled with carbon oil and explosive powder cans which were found in the shop.

Lomeo's body was identified at the morgue by a brother, Paul Lomeo.

Two of Benjamin's employes, held as material witnesses, were at liberty on bail today pending Benjamin's hearing. They are John Burke, 24, of 32 Forty-eighth street, and Hyman Dobkin, 19, of 822 Highview street.

woman who had lived next to the Ross home had moved to. The man offered the girls 50 cents, Helen Ross said, and Alice agreed to go in his car to the house. Helen said she urged Alice not to go.

When she did not return, Helen told her mother and said she recognized the man as Devonshire, who was a salesman and collector, and had frequently been in the neighborhood. When Devonshire failed to return to his home Wednesday night or report at his place of employment yesterday, the police last night notified the authorities of other cities to pick him up.

Devonshire is married. His wife was prostrated when he failed to return home and was informed the police suspected him of taking the Labutis girl away.

DROVE ALL NIGHT

"I thought I was nearly home," Alice told Detectives Porter and Lee, of Charlotte, according to a statement telephoned here. "Every time I asked him, he said we would soon be home. I got into his car to show him the new home of Mrs. Anna Jenkins, who used to live next door to us.

"He didn't go near there, but kept on driving all night. I begged him to take me home, and all day yesterday he kept telling me we were only a short distance away. He drove all the first night, but I slept some. Every once in a while he would leave me in the car somewhere and go and get some food. We ate in the car.

CHILD SCARED

"Then we kept on driving last night. He didn't hurt me, but I was scared. He didn't know where we were going. We drove into the city and he went to the telegraph office. Then we drove out by the side of a road in the country and slept in the automobile.

"When we started out this morning he told me we would be back home soon."

Devonshire's wife, who is about 20, closed her apartment yesterday and went to her home in Tacoma Park, near Washington, D. C.

SOBERED, PANICKY

According to a statement telephoned here from Charlotte, Devonshire is quoted as saying that he was so intoxicated that he did not know what he was doing when he took the girl for a ride.

"I didn't harm her, and had no intention of doing it," he said. "I sobered up and discovered I was lost, but I knew I was quite a distance from Philadelphia.

"Then I realized that police had probably been told she was kidnaped and I would get into trouble if I went back.

"I became panic-stricken and started South. I intended to go to Florida—I don't know why. Every mile I went was against my better judgment, but fear kept me going. I knew it was only a question of time before I got caught.

"I'm glad it's over with. I'll go back to Philadelphia willingly."

"I am certain, too, that with Attorney General Oscar Carlstorm at the inquest, when it opens here Tuesday, we will be able to produce evidence that will startle the state, if not the nation."

Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who fired the shot that killed Mrs. De King and was then shot in the leg by the woman's 12-year-old son, is in an Elgin Hospital critically ill from an infection of the wound. Physicians said there is grave danger of gangrene poisoning.

KELLY FAVORS LOWER TAX

CONGRESSMAN CLYDE KELLY

Congressman Kelly signing one of the petitions to which thousands of Pittsburghers are adding their names to forward to Congress asking for a reduction in the tax on earned incomes.

CLYDE KELLY INDORSES CUT IN TAX ON EARNINGS

"The difference between the income earned by brain and brawn and the income from stocks and bonds should be recognized by the law to the extent of lifting the burden from the real workers."

Congressman Clyde Kelly, of Braddock, at his home today between sessions of Congress, made this forceful expression in favor of a revision downward of the federal tax on earned incomes. He continued:

"There should be a proper differential in favor of earned incomes. I am hopeful that when the next revision is made, a just recognition will be given and the levy adjusted on a fair basis.

'WORM TURNS'

"I am not surprised that there has been an avalanche of petitions received by the Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers. For years professional people, salaried men and women and wage earners have felt that they were not privileged to charge off heavy expenditures and now we behold how 'the worm turns.' It is important that these petitions be presented at the special session of Congress which opens in April. I shall do all in my power to effect a revision downward on earned incomes."

Mayor Robert H. McBurney, of Washington, Pa., is heartily in sympathy with the movement sponsored by the Sun-Telegraph.

"I have always felt," said Mayor McBurney, "that since the end of the war emergency it is too great a burden on the man with average earning power to be compelled to pay a federal tax on his income. The avercitizen, especially one with a household to support, requires all he earns to properly keep his family. This is especially true of the man or woman whose children are above the exemption age of 18. These children in nearly every instance may be classed as dependents. The expense of maintaining a boy or girl at that age is heavier than when they were younger, yet no exemption is granted. I will go so far as to say that I am in favor of abolishing the federal tax on such earned income."

R. H. McBurney

MUCH HEADWAY

Mayor McBurney called attention to the headway being made by the movement in Washington where hundreds of petitions have been signed. In Canonsburg, Monongahela, Charleroi and other Washington County towns there is strong sentiment against the tax on earned incomes, as shown by reports reaching the Washington executive.

The Optimist Club members at their luncheon in the William Penn Hotel yesterday indorsed unanimously the Sun-Telegraph campaign for a reduction of the tax on earned incomes and urged their members individually to sign petitions.

'DRY'S' ARREST ORDERED

carries with it a maximum penitentiary sentence of two years and a fine of $5,000 in case of conviction.

If Michaelson does not appear of his own accord the warrant will be turned over to a deputy United States marshal for service.

BROUGHT FROM CUBA

The charges resulted from the confiscation of liquor in the Congressman's baggage, brought from Cuba after a tour of the island. It was said the baggage bore an "expedite" order, which assured the Congressman freedom of the port.

Having passed the Key West customs men without inspection, he proceeded to Jacksonville.

W. T. Day, United States prohibition administrator for Florida, whose department worked up the case, said the liquor was contained in two of six trunks seized in the Jacksonville station on or about January 6. The baggageman was said to have noticed a leak from one of the trunks and reported it to local authorities, who turned the case over to the prohibition department.

CHOICE LIQUORS

The indictment charges that on June 3, 1928, at Key West.

"The defendant, M. A. Michaelson, did unlawfully and knowingly have in his possession certain intoxicating beverages intended for use in the United States, to wit, six quartes of John Haig whisky, two quarts of Creme de Menthe liquor, one quart of Taffel Akvavit, one quart of Creme de Menthe de Cacao Charac, one quart of cherry brandy and one keg of plum Barbaucourt."

The second count charges Michaelson with bringing in the liquors "without submission to inspection of any officer of the customs of the United States and without payment of duty thereon."

Still a third count charges the Congressman with the technical violation of the national prohibition law.

SAILOR LOST, PARIS ALSO MAY ACT

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—The Canadian legation now has before it the Coast Guard's preliminary report on the sinking of the rum runner I'm Alone, for its consideration with that of the British consul at New Orleans in shaping a course to pursue in connection with the incident.

Whether it will consider this information sufficient to lay before the Ottawa government or will wait for more complete official reports before asking for instructions, has not been indicated, but the latter is thought to be the more likely procedure.

CLAIM NEW EVIDENCE

The Coast Guard report, which supports its position that the pursuit and sinking of the Canadian schooner was legal and justified under American law and the rum smuggling treaty of 1924 with Great Britain, was forwarded to the Canadian minister, Vincent Massey, late yesterday by the State Department.

This action, complying with a request for information from Mr. Massey, followed the announcement by the Coast Guard that it had new evidence from "responsible officials" at New Orleans not connected with the service, corroborating the statements of officers concerned, that the pursuit began within 12 miles of the American coast and was "hot, continuous and unbroken."

FRENCH MAY PROTEST

The preliminary report did not satisfy the State Department when received several days ago from the treasury and was held up pending further study. Although it has been forwarded to the legation, it is not regarded as complete, since the American investigation of the incident is continuing and is expected to produce more details which also will be furnished to the Canadian minister.

The French embassy, which is interested in the case because of the drowning of a French seaman when the I'm Alone was sunk, had received no reply from the Paris foreign office last night to its request for instructions. If the French government should decide to press the case, its most likely course, in the opinion of diplomatic circles here, would be to demand moral reparations in the form of an apology or expression of regret by the American government for the loss of the seaman's life, and possibly material reparations for relatives he might have left.

BELIZE CALMS DOWN

BELIZE, British Honduras, March 29.—(AP.)—The high feeling aroused locally over the sinking of the schooner I'm Alone by the United States Coast Guard, which caused special police protection to be given Consul G. Russell Taggart, was calmer today pending results of the inquiry into the case.

Government authorities declined to discuss the matter.

and then fired two shots into his back as he fell. Menna fled to his home near the church, where police squads, armed with tear bombs and riot guns, arrested him.

The priest was hurried to a hospital where doctors said he probably would die. Menna's two sons, John and Paul, were arraigned in the boys' court today on charges of having stolen from the church.

The father said his sons, Paul and John, 19 and 18, respectively, had been arrested last Wednesday with a companion on information furnished by the priest. The police said they had since confessed robbing more than 30 Catholic churches, among them the Church of the Holy Ghost.

Menna said he received a letter yesterday from his son in jail, accusing the priest for causing the arrest. Menna said this so enraged him that he took the letter to the priest and shot him as the victim read it.

Motor Car Designer Killed in Smashup

DETROIT, Mich., March 29.—(AP.)—William Henderson, chief designer of the Duesenberg Motor Car Company, Indianapolis, died two hours after a car he was driving left the pavement and crashed into a tree here this morning. His companion, Shannon Brown, of Indianapolis, was cut and bruised.

ST. PAUL'S CHOIR BOYS ABOUT TO ENTER SACRISTY

Good Friday, day of pennance in respect to the Crucifixion, found many of the churches of Pittsburgh thronged. Here a group of choir boys is about to enter the sacristy of St. Paul's Cathedral, where today Bishop Hugh C. Boyle conducted services.

MEXICAN BOMB FACTORY BLOWS UP; GIRL, 4 MEN DIE

NOGALES, Ariz., March 29.—(AP.)—Five persons met violent deaths and three others were injured last night in an explosion that destroyed a Federal bomb factory near Mexicali, capital of the northern district of Baja California.

Franz Schulenberg, German bomb maker, his 17-year-old daughter, Blanche, and three Mexican Federal soldiers on guard duty were killed. The blast resulted when a bomb exploded in the process of manufacture, touching off nine kegs of explosives and thirty aerial bombs.

The explosion, which jarred Calexico, Cal., just across the border, injured Francisco Kenneth, chemist, engaged with Schulenberg in making bombs, and two soldiers. All three were in a hospital in a serious condition.

Another soldier was blown out a window but was uninjured.

The factory was on the Packard ranch of the Colorado River Land Company, five miles east of Mexicali. The Federal government had obtained permission to use the building for storage of war material.

Mexicali is the civil and military headquarters of Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez, of Baja California, who remained loyal to the government. For several weeks he has been concentrating troops and war materials in the city.

RICHES MADE IN PHONE FAILURE, SUITS CHARGE

PITTSBURGHER DEMANDING $200,000

WHEELING, W. Va., March 29.—How millions are alleged to have been made by a few men 17 years ago in a gigantic independent telephone merger, which later collapsed, leaving stockholders nothing, was to be bared in a trial which started here today in the Circuit Court of Ohio County.

Three suits will be tried involving alleged profits obtained by organizers of the Continental Telegraph and Telephone Company, which was formed by consolidation of 32 independent companies in West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, New Jersey and Delaware, in 1912.

After operating for about four years, the Continental company went into the hands of receivers and its holdings were sold at public sale to the Bell Telephone Company.

CROSS-SUIT FILED

J. Nelson Vance and William M. Vance, sons of the late James M. Vance, in one proceeding are demanading an accounting from Samuel W. Harper, who negotiated many of the deals, it is set forth, connected with the merger of independent companies. The Vances aver that Harper made a fortune out of his transactions.

Harper filed a cross-suit against the Vances, making similar allegations.

The third suit is that of John W. Garland, retired businessman of Pittsburgh, a brother of Councilman Robert Garland, of that city, against the Vances and other to recover approximately $200,000 as his share of alleged profits of the sale of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company of Pittsburgh, which went into the merger.

PERSECUTION CHARGED

The first suit was filed by the Vances a year ago. Harper's cross suit, averring that he was being persecuted, followed. Garland's suit was filed after certain records of transactions are said to have been uncovered.

One of the affidavits filed in the case sets forth that the late James M. Vance contracted wtih the late William Flinn, of Pittsburgh, to buy $680,000 bonds, but that Vance stopped making payments on the purchase after paying over $273,511 to Flinn.

IMPEACHMENT ACTION OIL TAX REPRISAL—LONG

GOVERNOR HITS BACK WITH STATEMENT

BATON ROUGE, La., March 29.—(AP.)—The Standard Oil Company today had been drawn into impeachment proceedings by Gov. Huey P Long, who charged its agents instigated the accusations from official misdemeanors to a plot to murder against which he must defend himself Monday night before the House of Representatives sitting as a supreme grand jury.

In a signed statement, Gov. Long charged the oil company was attempting "to tear the state wide open and to remove the Governor from office who dares to mention that anything can be done with them."

Gov. Long

"They (Standard Oil Company) have stormed the State House to where the weak - hearted feared even for the life and safety of my supporters and myself," he asserted. "By some process, known only to them, they have been able to either take over, to beat over or to buy over, some in whom I reposed respect and confidence and for whom I yet indulge a charity.

"What I proposed was a tax on the business of the Standard Oil Company to make and sell lubricating oil and gasoline in Louisiana. That form of tax has been and is now paid by nearly every merchant, doctor and lawyer and by nearly every business in this state. So I proposed that out of the same one hundred millions of dollars made by the oil trust in this state, that they pay the state a wee bit so that we might help those unfortunate human beings who are suffering and dying because we cannot help them and in order that we might give relief to schools that cannot run without some help.

NAMES DEMANDED

"But, no sooner had this bill hit the Legislature than the oil trust woke up and shook this state from one end to the other like a toy. This nefarious criminal element and its newspapers began immediately to say that if I did not draw down this proposition that I should be impeached.

"I had rather go down to a thousand impeachments than to admit that I am governor of the state that does not dare to call the Standard Oil Company to account so that we can educate our children and care for destitute, sick and afflicted."

By unanimous vote the state Senate adopted a resolution demanding that the Governor name the legislators whom he said accepted bribes and name the oil company financial agents charged with paying the bribes. Last night the Governor had not furnished the names.

Sinn Fein Meetings In Ireland Banned

BELFAST, Ireland, March 29.—(AP.)—The Ulster government has taken decisive measures with so-called extreme Sinn Feiners in Northern Ireland, the latter having arranged meetings for Easter Sunday in the large centers to commemorate the 1916 rebellion. Declaring that these assemblies would lead to disorder, Sir Dawson Bates, home secretary, announces that none will be permitted. The police have orders to disperse all such gatherings.

FREE IN SCHOOL 'KIDNAPING'

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 29.—(AP.)—County Detective Jones and Corp. Carr, of the state police, are satisfied that Frank Janskiewicz, a Hunlocks Creek farmer, had nothing to do with the alleged kidnaping of Miss Margaret Dodson, teacher of the Santee Public School in Hunlock Township. The officers questioned the farmer yesterday and found ample corroboration of his story that he was in Plymouth, 18 miles away from the scene, at the time of the kidnaping. He admitted that he had been arrested and fined three times on testimony of Miss Dodson that his children were not attending school regularly.

Miss Dodson is still at Nanticoke Hospital. Hospital authorities say that while she apparently had not been injured in any way, she is being held for observation.

Detectives and police at work on the case admit that they are puzzled and that they cannot understand how Miss Dodson could have been seized by two men and a woman, and then bound, gagged and thrown into an automobile and carried into the woods without suffering the slightest bruise or laceration. She says she became unconscious when seized and can give no description of the trip or to what transpired from that time until she was revived at the hospital.

The police are satisfied that Janskiewicz did not write the alleged threatening notes as he cannot read or write English. Janskiewicz declares he is a victim of prejudice against his nationality and that there have been concerted moves to drive himself and family of seven from Hunlock Township.

Officers working on the case were told by her father that Miss Dodson had been the subject of fainting spells for some time and that a few years ago she was injured by a fall down a stairs at home following a fainting attack.

Sun-Telegraph Encourages Savings Bank Depositors

To encourage thrift, the Sun-Telegraph will deposit $10 to the credit of each of the first five bank books in the following list, and $5 to the credit of each of the others. If you hold one of these bank books, bring it to the Sun-Telegraph office, Gazette Square, and present it to Robert N. Laughlin, cashier.

Amount.	Name of Bank.	Book No.
$10	Terminal Trust Company	670
$10	Monongahela Trust Company	11,724
$10	Hamilton State Bank	10
$10	First National Bank of Wilkinsburg	33,221
$10	Carnegie National Bank	408
$ 5	Pennsylvania Trust Company	15,064
$ 5	Mellon National Bank	13,796
$ 5	Farmers Deposit National Bank	126,666
$ 5	First National Bank at Pittsburgh	18
$ 5	Diamond National Bank	44,165
$ 5	Colonial Trust Company	40,589
$ 5	Peoples Savings and Trust Company	50,127
$ 5	Union National Bank	1,007
$ 5	Pittsburgh Trust Company	8,100
$ 5	Keystone National Bank	4,321

The books designated may be presented during business hours any time within a week, but not later than 5 p. m. Friday, April 5.

Any bank in Greater Pittsburgh having savings accounts may have its passbook numbers included in these thrift gift lists by a request from a bank official to the Sun-Telegraph Thrift Department.

Watch tomorrow's Sun-Telegraph for more information of interest to savings bank depositors.

TWO MORE WOMEN GET THRIFT HABIT REWARDS

To one not accustomed to it, it may be a little irksome at first to deposit part of one's earnings in the savings bank every payday instead of spending all. But after a while it becomes second nature, and is no more a hardship than any other ordinary routine procedure.

Mrs. Sadie S. Junge, of 800 Bellaire avenue, Brookline, called attention to this in acknowledging receipt of one of the Sun-Telegraph's thrift gifts. She has been awarded $5 as holder of bank book No. 1,106 in the Brookline Savings and Trust Company.

MRS. SADIE S. JUNGE

"I have always had a savings account," said Mrs. Junge. "Ever since my childhood it has been my practice to lay aside part of all the money that I received. It has become habitual with me. There is no urgent need for my continuing to make savings deposits, but I keep on doing it as a matter of habit."

To encourage such thrift as this, the Sun-Telegraph is depositing sums of money ranging from $50 to $5 to the credit of the holders of bank books. If you have a savings account, you, too, may receive one of these awards. Watch the Sun-Telegraph every day for the bank book numbers of those who are to be rewarded.

Mrs. Susie V. Henigen, of Fallston, W. Va., has received a $5 thrift gift as holder of bank book No. 11,963 in the Pittsburgh Trust Company.

JENSEN BREAKS AIR RECORD

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS.)—Martin Jensen, runner-up in the Dole flight to Hawaii, broke the solo record, it was definitely determined here today.

Much confusion followed Jensen's landing shortly after 5:30 p. m. yesterday. It was generally believed that an aviation endurance mark had to be excelled by a full hour before a new record was created. This does not hold in the case of the solo record, according to Harry Booth, Roosevelt Field representative of the National Aeronautic Association and the Federation Aeronautic Internationale.

There is no officially recognized record for solo flights as distinguished from any other endurance flight. Booth said that he had checked the time of Jensen's flight and that, inasmuch as he had recorded the time for the N. A. A., that officially registered Jensen's time with the association.

Booth's figures show that Jensen stayed aloft eight minutes and 20 seconds longer than Lieut. Royal V. Thomas, who had held the record. Since the record is not an official one it is not necessary to improve on it by an hour to set a new mark, Booth said.

27th Ward Traders Make Banquet Plans

Victor Muhr has been appointed chairman of a committee of the Twenty-seventh Ward Board of Trade to arrange a banquet to signalize the recent successful conclusion of a membership campaign. The date of the banquet has not been fixed.

Disappearance of Read, 38, 6922 Greenwood street, active in Masonic circles, was reported to the Missing Persons' Bureau. He left home Saturday and his wife is reported suffering a nervous breakdown.

U. S. TO INVESTIGATE PLAN TO CURTAIL OIL OUTPUT

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—The announced plan of the American Petroleum Institute for contral of production is to be investigated by both the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission.

Attorney General Mitchell has been asked by Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department for an opinion on the legality of the plan under the anti-trust laws, and the trade commission plans to study the institute's curtailment program on its own initiative.

When announced, the plan was described by the institute as having been devised in compliance with the advice of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, which includes the War, Navy, Commerce and Interior secretaries. That board, Mr. Wilbur holds, can act only in an advisory capacity, and any assistance the institute might obtain for its program would have to come from other agencies.

Members of the board have withheld comment on its program. It has been proposed, however, that the president of the institute and its general and regional committee chairman meet here with the board April 3. Meanwhile, officials who have studied its proposal are inclined to regard it as one intended to reduce production and storage costs rather than to raise prices, and while they see in it a possibility of higher crude oil prices, they think it unlikely to affect gasoline and refined oil prices very much if at all.

Man Dead in Sulky Wreck, Suspect Held

POTTSTOWN, Pa., March 29.—(AP.)—William Ehling, 45, of Gilbertsville, was arrested last night and taken to Norristown in connection with the death of Harry Correll, 50, also of Gilbertsville. Correll was found dead yesterday in the road between Boyertown and Pottstown, in the harness and wreckage of a sulky. He had gone riding Wednesday night and the horse had returned to his farm about midnight with the harness cut. Correll's head had been battered in, according to police. Ehling told police he and Correll had been drinking and that Correll fell from the sulky and was kicked by the horse. He said he saw that Correll was dead and went home after cutting the horse loose.

'Stolen Bond' Story Explained by Darrow

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—Clarence Darrow, Chicago attorney, accused by State Senator Roy C. Woods of having been forced, by him, to return a stolen bond, gave his version of the case yesterday.

Darrow declared the bond had been taken by his partner as a fee in a law case. When a woman told him the bond was one of $5,000 worth stolen from her, he paid her the $500 and worked three months to help her regain the rest. Mrs. Ella Howard, from whom the bonds were taken, supported Darrow's statement.

Conshohocken Man Admits Auto Slaying

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., March 29.—(AP.)—Police announced last night that Frank Jendila, 35, of this city, had confessed the slaying of Joseph McFettridge, 28, also of Conshohocken. McFettridge was shot to death while riding in an automobile with Charles Strouse late Wednesday night. One of the five bullets pumped into the rear of the car pierced his brain.

Cutter Hazards Shot, From British Boat

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 29.—An international incident was narrowly averted here on the arrival of the U. S. Coast Guard Cutter Chapman, when Commander Parker ignored a British naval pinnace with an officer aboard to grant permission to enter the harbor.

A sharp signal from the dockyard brought the cutter to a stop before a shot was fired across her bows.

Then, with due ceremony, the British officer was taken aboard and permission granted for the Chapman to proceed to anchorage. The affair occurred Tuesday. But has just been disclosed.

'LIFE-FOR-PINT' LAW KILLED

LANSING, Mich., March 29.—(AP.)—Michigan's legislature yesterday closed the books on the state's troublesome criminal code law, with its accompanying threat of life imprisonment to the prohibition law violator.

The Senate passed the Watson House bill, embodying amendments to the criminal code which eliminate dry law offenses, with approximately 120 other "minor" felonies, from the class of crimes punishable upon fourth offense with life imprisonment. The measure now goes to Governor Fred W. Green, who announced he will sign it early next week.

Gov. Green announced he would commute some life sentences now being served by violators of the prohibition law. Among these victims are Mrs. Etta Mae Miller, mother of ten children, four of whom are living. The governor was not sure whether he would act in behalf of Fred Palm, whose case gained national attention because the fourth conviction which sent him to prison for life was for possessing a pint of gin.

Braddock Rotary Club Holds Session

The guest at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Braddock yesterday was Jay Ward, mascot of the American Legion, appearing at a Pittsburgh theater. He was accompanied by his parents and his manager. Joseph Shermer, Braddock borough secretary, also was a guest.

Quebec Official Stricken, Dies

QUEBEC, Que., March 29.—(AP.)—Sir Lomer Gouin, 68, lieutenant-governor of the province of Quebec, died suddenly late yesterday after two heart attacks. He was stricken as he was mounting the stairway to the legislative council to prorogue the session of the Quebec Legislature.

BOWMAN GUILTY IN RIVER DEATH

HARRISBURG, March 29.—(AP.)—Harry B. Bowman was convicted yesterday of murder in the first degree in the drowning of Verna Klink, confectionery manager, in the Susquehanna River. The jury recommended life imprisonment.

It was little more than two months after the night Miss Klink disappeared on January 25, when Bowman, the perfume salesman who had been taken into the woman's confidence, went back to prison to spend the rest of his life behind the bars for a crime he has steadfastly maintained he never committed.

By its verdict, the jury upheld the chain of circumstantial evidence woven about the defendant by the state, which contended Bowman drowned Miss Klink after robbing her of the $900 which she told him she wanted to use to purchase the little store in which she worked.

ICE COVERS HUNDREDS OF ACRES OF BOTTOMLANDS

When Crooked Creek, Armstrong County, suddenly overflowed its banks it left hundreds of thousands of tons of ice littered in the cornfields and meadows, after crushing fences, blockading roads and overturning large trees. The ice is expected to remain far into April.

Bankers' Acceptance Holdings Decrease

NEW YORK, March 29.—Developments this week in the bankers' acceptance market attracted special attention to the New York Federal Reserve Bank's report on its holdings of bankers' acceptances bought in the open market. These holdings decreased $7,993,000 for the week, and the total—$35,621,000—compared with $104,034,000 at this time a year ago. The revival of interest in this market, which had caused a cancellation of an earlier advance of ⅛ of 1 per cent in yield rates, had created a belief in some quarters that Reserve banks were supporting the market. The figures showed, however, that the maturing bills were being allowed to run off without replacements. The buying was partly traced to foreign accounts.

Post Card Delivered After 19-Year Delay

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., March 29.—(INS.)—M. J. Campbell was wondering today where a postal card just received had been for the past 19 years.

The card was mailed April 18, 1910, from Whiting, Ind., addressed to his daughter Marion, two years deceased. The postal was from a cousin of the dead girl, Eleanor Huck, of Whiting.

No explanation as to the 19-year delay was offered when the postman delivered the card yesterday.

LIQUOR SUPPLY BASE WITNESS DISAPPEARS

Shades of another day fell over Center Avenue Police Court today.

Memories were stirred when Inspector James N. Hoey spread before Magistrate Leo Rothenberg thousands of labels, which boasted in sizeable print the qualities of fluids now banned.

Golden Wedding, Carstairs Rye, Biltmore, Old Schenley, Old Crow, Sam Thompson, Gordon Gin — all these were represented in print, but not in substance.

SEIZED IN TWO RAIDS

These labels were found yesterday when police raided a plant at 815 Locust street and another in the 1300 block of Our Alley, Hill district addresses. The police also found thousands of bottles—pints and quarts—bottle caps and 42,000 bogus strip stamps.

From these plants, Inspector Hoey reported, everything was supplied but the actual stuff. The seizure was valued at $25,000 by the defendants, Hoey said.

HEARING POSTPONED

Thirteen men were arrested and released on bail, all charged with being suspicious persons. Only 12 appeared for hearing. And the thirteenth, one Arch Mortin, 28, Negro, of 2318 Center avenue, is the important defendant whose testimony is needed, Hoey explained in asking for a week's postponement. It was granted.

Mortin's bail and that of Ike Danovitz, 46, is $1,000.

DEATH REVEALS BUDDHISM

HARTFORD, Conn., March 29.—(AP.)—Authorities investigating effects left behind by Harry E. Adams, found dead from an overdose of an anesthetic, administered to him by his wife, Mrs. Olive Adams, according to her confession to police, today were piecing together his diary to learn of his movements in the past few years.

The diary tells of his interest in Buddhism, his desire for reading murder mysteries and a craving for pleasure. Nearly every entry refers to the reading of either mystery or murder stories or articles relating to Buddhism.

The names of five women have been found in the diary.

Adams' interest in Buddhism is revealed in a little book in which he wrote the following:

"Christians say Buddhists are pessimists. What of it? A cheerful pessimist is better than an optimist with a perpetual grouch."

Further along he wrote:

"Wouldn't it be better to spend one's time after death making a ouija board wiggle than to spend all eternity twanging a harp?"

Criticized, Federal Prosecutor Quits

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(AP.)—George W. Coles last night announced that he had resigned as United States district attorney for this district in order to devote his time to private business. Coles was appointed Federal district attorney here in August, 1921. Much criticism recently had been directed at him by the Law Enforcement League and prohibition officials. Samuel O. Wynne, prohibition administrator for Eastern Pennsylvania, carried his complaint direct to the Attorney General.

Robbers' Car Mired, Store Loot Found

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., March 29.—An automobile bearing Pennsylvania license plates, containing loot stolen from Harry Dickey's store at Schoenbrunn, was found mired in a road near Beach City by Sheriff Harry C. Smith. Three men were seen to abandon the car, a farmer said. Inside the car were found Ohio license plates, issued at Steubenville, where the machine is believed to have been stolen.

Woman Justice's Records Returned

Dockets of Justice of the Peace Margaret Morgan, of Sewickley, called in a month ago for examination, were returned to her yesterday by District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner with the announcement that they had been found in good order. No irregularities not traceable to casual error were found, Gardner said.

Starts Fire With Gas; Fatally Burned

Burns suffered Wednesday when gasoline which he was using to build a fire in the plant of the United States Chain Forging Company, McKees Rocks, exploded, caused the death last night in the Ohio Valley Hospital of William J. Ward, an electrician, of 120 Earl street, according to the coroner's report.

WIND WRECKS BLIMP, 2 HURT

LAKEHURST, N. J., March 29.—(AP.)—The Army non-rigid dirigible TC-5 was torn from the grasp of a ground crew of 100 and hurled nearly a mile by a gust of wind that struck it last night while it was being walked into the hangar here.

Capt. John McCullough, commander of the blimp, and a seaman of the landing crew were injured by being knocked down as the ship blew away.

Warrant Officer Lassiter and three soldiers were aboard the blimp. They escaped uninjured when the ship, relieved of its helium gas, came down near the Lakehurst railroad station.

The accident to the TC-5 is the fourth mishap to overtake the blimps. The TC-10 was wrecked in a storm at Langley Field and sank in the Delaware river. The J-3 and J-4 suffered severe damage in a storm near Washington March 4.

Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, in command of the dirigible Los Angeles, wirelessed the station last night that he was returning after cruising along the coast in a futile search for T. Raymond Finucane and three others missing in an amphibian plane.

KINLOCH SOON TO RESUME

Within two weeks operations may be resumed at the Kinloch mine of the Valley Camp Coal Company, where explosion and fire killed 46 men and caused $200,000 damage to the mine, tipple and fan house, O. F. Taylor, superintendent, announced last night.

However, the mine must be approved by the State Department of Mines before it is reopened. Meanwhile, those who escaped the blast are clearing the wreckage and getting the diggings into shape for operation.

Hoover Wire Lauds Hyde at Testimonial

TRENTON, Mo., March 29.—(AP.)—President Hoover joined with the home folks of Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, in honoring the former Missouri governor at a banquet here last night. The following message was received by Don C. McVay, toastmaster:

"In common with Gov. Hyde's friends the country over, I am delighted to know of the honor his home folk are doing him. It is encouraging that men of the type of Gov. Hyde are willing to give their time and strength to the public service. My best wishes for a pleasant evening.

Crewless Mystery Schooner Held At Havana

HAVANA, March 29.—(AP.)—A crewless mystery schooner, bearing the number F-4172, and the half obliterated name "Sea Wasp" painted on the inside of her cabin door as her only identification, has been taken from her moorings in the Almendares River and placed under vigilance of Havana port authorities.

A customs inspector stationed at the Almendares River said the boat sailed slowly up the river and dropped anchor in mooring grounds forbidden to freight schooners, but when he climbed over the side, skipper and crew had disappeared.

LOVE OF DOG CHUM ENDS ELEPHANT'S RAMPAGE

HOUSTON, Tex., March 29.—Love for a dog chum stopped a circus elephant on a rampage here yesterday. The elephant tore out the side of an arena at the Christy Brothers Circus winter quarters, terrorized motorists on a highway and threatened to enter a farm house before it was subdued.

When a leopard being trained to ride the elephant around the arena rebelled, the huge beast became excited, breaking its chain and butting its way out of the building. Fences went down before the elephant as it crossed and recrossed a railroad track and motorists were sent scampering to safety as the fugitive lumbered down the Galveston highway for a mile, waving its trunk wildly.

Slim Walker, "bull man," hung on to a hook in the elephant's ear, vainly trying to quiet the beast.

Finally, at a farm house a dog barked furiously. The elephant hesitated.

Then Walker showed his wits.

"Here, Rover! Here, Rover!" he called, tugging at the elephant's ear.

The huge animal quieted down, listened to the keeper for a few minutes and then tamely submitted to being led to the circus headquarters.

"He thought the dog was his chum, which rode in the car with the elephant for several seasons," Walker grinned.

CHURCHES HOLD GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

Today is Good Friday. Throughout the Pittsburgh district, churches will commemorate Christ's death on the cross by holding special services.

The Roman Catholic churches began their special services with processions early today to be followed during the afternoon and evening by the recital of the 14 stations of the cross.

Services in Trinity Protestant Episcopal Cathedral, Sixth avenue, began at 10:30 o'clock with a Litany and Ante-Communion. A three-hour service, from noon until 3 o'clock, was broadcast over Station KDKA. Gounod's "Gallia" and Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be rendered by the choir at 8 o'clock.

The cantata "Seven Last Words of Christ" will be sung by the double quartet choir at the Second Presbyterian Church, Eighth street, at 7:45 p. m. to be followed by communion services. The Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton will preach.

SERVICES SCHEDULED

A German and English service will be held by the Rev. Dr. Carl August Voss at 10:30 o'clock at the Smithfield Evangelical Protestant church. Other services scheduled are:

Smithfield Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. Dr. G. E. Brenneman, pastor; Three-hour service from noon until 3 o'clock.

First Lutheran Church, Grant street, the Rev. Dr. A. J. Holl, pastor; services at noon and 8 p. m.

First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, the Rev. Dr. Clarence E. Macartney, pastor; noonday service with sermon by the pastor on "It Is Finished."

Emory Methodist Episcopal church, East End, the Rev. Dr. W. Wofford T. Duncan, pastor; service at 7:45 p. m. with sermon by the pastor and music by a quartet.

NORTH SIDE SERVICES

North Presbyterian church, North Lincoln avenue, North Side, the Rev. Dr. J. E. B. McIlroy, pastor; service at 8 p. m., with sermon by the pastor on "The Finished Work of Christ."

North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, North Side, the Rev. W. Sproule Boyd, pastor; illuminated cross service at 7:45 p. m.

First Evangelical church, Center avenue and Graham street, the Rev. N. C. Milliron, pastor; community service with sermon by the Rev. W. C. Chappell, executive secretary, Baptist Association.

St. John English Evangelical Lutheran church, Forbes and Jumonville streets; cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," at 8 p. m.

1 KILLED, 3 HURT IN ACCIDENTS

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., March 29.—Three miners were injured, one seriously, while a fourth escaped, in mine accidents in this district.

Joseph Kobuck, 38, of Leechburg, suffered a broken back when caught under a fall of roof coal in the Leechburg mine of the Maher Coal and Coke Company. His helper, John Zubi, Jr., Leechburg, escaped.

Steve Bokowski, 45, of Puckety Creek, suffered a lacerated right leg while at work in the Hillman Coal and Coke Company mine, while John Scharba, 22, suffered a crushed finger in the Consumers' Mining Company mine at Harmarville. Ambulances brought the injured to the hospital here.

An unidentified man was killed while asleep on the tracks of the Conemaugh Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near West Kensington. The body was taken to the Allegheny County Morgue.

Uniontown Pioneer's Will Aids Charity

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 29.—Virtually all of the $17,000 estate left by James G. Johnston, 93, Uniontown's first burgess, who died recently, is left to four charitable institutions. The estate, with the exception of $500 is to be equally divided among the Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A., Free Library and the Uniontown Hospital. Five hundred dollars was set aside for the publication of a book to contain all the historical and biographical sketches ever written by Mr. Johnston and also a biographical sketch of himself. The publication is to be copyrighted and turned over to the Uniontown Free Public Library for publication.

3 Accused of Arson After Fire in Cafe

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 29.—Investigation of a small fire in a building at 64½ West Chestnut street, occupied by the Plaza Restaurant, resulted in three arrests on charges of arson and conspiracy to defraud. The defendants, Peter Vaselakas, 33, and Gust Pappas, 38, proprietors of the restaurant, and Albert Wolfe, 17, were held for court. Cotton batting, soaked in an inflammable liquid, was found in the building. Wolfe is alleged to have gone back in the building to destroy evidence after the building had been padlocked by Fire Chief Harry Cundall.

Rotarians Prepare For Annual Meeting

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 27.—More than 1,500 Rotarians and their wives will attend the annual convention of the thirty-third district of the Rotary International in Greensburg, April 17 and 18. An elaborate program has been prepared. Among speakers are Almon E. Roth, of Palo Alto, Cal., vice president of Rotary International, and Harry Whyel, of Uniontown, district governor.

Washington Plans Street Bond Issue

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 29.—Washington City Council authorized the solicitor to prepare an ordinance for a bond issue of $115,000, the money to be used in improving streets of the city.

SPANISH FLIERS WELCOMED AT RIO

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 29.—(AP.)—Capts. Jimenez and Iglesias yesterday reached the goal toward which they headed their plane when they took off form Seville, Spain, last Sunday and received as tumultuous a welcome as if they had not been forced by shortage of gasoline to come down at Bahia, 800 miles north of their objective.

Four Brazilian airplanes took off from Campo Dos Affonsos at 3:15 this afternoon and headed northward to give the Spanish aviators escort to the Brazilian capital. More than 2,000 persons had traveled the 18 miles out to the field in automobiles and trains. Representatives were there from President Washington Luis, the army and navy and the ministry of communications.

At 4:30 the Spanish airplane, Jesus del Gran Poder, was sighted coming through the entrance to the famous harbor at the head of a wedge formation formed by the Brazilian planes. The crowd broke into prolonged cheers as the planes appeared from the grey clouds just outside the harbor. They swung over the city and then landed at 4:45. Members of the Spanish colony received the fliers and they were immediately besieged by photographers and reporters.

The Spaniards left Bahia at 8:30 a. m. and maintained an average speed of 100 miles an hour. They have now flown about 4,800 miles in two hops since leaving Seville.

I. T. & T. RADIO $100,000,000 DEAL SEEN

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—R. C. A. Communications, Inc., the globe-girdling wireless system of the Radio Corporation of America, has been sold to the International Telephone and Telegraph Company for approximately $100,000,000, the New York Herald-Tribune says.

An agreement to transfer the system to I. T. and T. was signed in a suburb of Paris yesterday by Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation; David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of Radio, and Thomas W. Lamont, a partner in the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., for I. T. and T., it was said.

WALL STREET STIRRED

It was the talk of Wall street yesterday that negotiations for a gigantic communications merger involving the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, which owns Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cables, and the Radio Corporation of America were nearing completion.

Gen. James G. Harbord, president of Radio, declined to comment on the reports, and no confirmation was available at the offices of I. T. and T. Osthenes Behn, president of the company, could not be reached, and Hernand Behn, executive vice president, was ill.

While the reports were vague in detail, it was generally understood in banking circles that Radio would sell its recently-formed subsidiary, Radio Communications, Inc., to I. T. and T., and would in turn receive a substantial stock interest in the latter.

STOCKS SENT SOARING

Some time ago, Radio officials discussed with officials of the Western Union Telegraph Company plans for combining their communications businesses and this gave rise to reports that Western Union eventually might be included in the Radio-I. T. and T. combination, although such a development appeared remote.

The combination of Radio with Western Union was believed to have been definitely blocked by the White act, which forbids the merger of telegraph and cable companies with radio companies.

I. T. and T., however, while controlling Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cables is already in the radio business through other subsidiaries. Wall street is speculating as to how the provisions of the White act can be avoided in a Radio-I. T. and T. combination.

Communications stocks were sent soaring on the New York Stock Exchange by the merger talk.

KEITH TO MERGE PANTAGES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—(AP.)—The Examiner said today that "further progress" in the pending deal between the Radio-Keith-Orpheum interests and the Alexander Pantages theater group has been reported. It was indicated that instead of a purchase of the Pantages interests by a larger chain, the deal would be in the nature of a merger.

Final papers in the transaction have been sent to Alexander Pantages in Los Angeles, and to Morris Goodman, general legal counsel for the Radio-Keith-Orpheum interests, who left here Wednesday for New York, the newspaper said.

Under the pending arrangements, it is understood, Pantages will retain an interest in the merger circuits. The Pantages theater in San Francisco will become the Orpheum. The new Pantages theater now under construction in Hollywood will not be included in the merger, but will be run by Pantages, it was reported.

MOTHER, INFANT DIE IN CRASH

NEWARK, O., March 29.—Mrs. Georgia Bloom, 37, and her 8-months-old son were killed on Alexandria pike, 13 miles northwest of here, when the machine in which they were riding with the husband and father, Allen Bloom, and Mrs. Bloom's sister, Miss Hester Snyder, collided with a car driven by Joseph McToskey, of Cambridge.

Bloom and Miss Snyder were injured seriously and taken to a hospital in Columbus. The machines were wrecked.

Cruelty Charged By Wife in Suit

Anna S. Marston, 2117 Wilson avenue, North Side, has brought suit for divorce against Joel B. Marston, alleging cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple were married in 1917 and separated 10 years later.

Parents Arrested, 5 Children Go Along to Jail

MEADVILLE, Pa., March 29.—(AP.)—What's to be done when five small children, all under 10, are brought to jail with an arrested father and mother?

This was the problem facing county officials here last night when Mr. and Mrs. John Cook, of near Jamestown, accused of aggravated assault and battery on a neighbor, refused to leave their children alone at home.

A consultation of the sheriff, two county commissioners, the district attorney, the county welfare worker and several attorneys ended in the woman's being permitted to return to her home with her children on the promise that she would appear at the hearing Saturday morning.

Nurse Who Followed Civil War Mate Dies

DAVENPORT, Iowa, March 29.—(AP.)—Mrs. Isabelle Compton, who became a Civil War nurse in order to follow her husband onto the battlefields in the Civil War, is dead here at the age of 91 years.

She was said to have been the oldest living widow of a Civil War soldier killed in service, who had not re-married. Her husband was John F. Compton of the Eleventh Iowa Infantry, Company E, killed in the Battle of Shiloh, April 6, 1862.

Legislators to Scan Co-Ed Cigaret Rumor

LANSING, Mich., March 29.—(AP.)—A legislative investigation to find out whether there is truth to a rumor that University of Michigan co-eds smoke cigarets, and if so, whether the company that supplies the cigarets violated a law, was ordered by the House of Representatives yesterday.

Cartons of a well known brand of cigarts were mailed recently to hundreds of university students, co-eds and men alike. A committee of three was appointed to sift the cigaret charges.

Rival Store Faction Ousts Founder's Son

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—A $10,000,000 chain store candy business founded 30 years ago by George W. Loft passed yesterday from the control of his family. An opposing group of stockholders took advantage of its stock holdings to oust George Leon Loft, son of the founder, from the presidency, electing its own directors.

The stockholders committee was headed by O. E. Dunham, President of Page & Shaw Company, another candy concern. Dunham heads the new board of directors.

Potters to Meet In Atlantic City

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., March 29.—(AP.)—The 1929 convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters will be held in Atlantic City the first week of July, it was announced last night. Among the nominations for national officers to be voted upon at the first meeting in May of the local unions were:

President, James M. Duffy, East Liverpool, and R. H. Smith, Erwin, Tenn.; secretary-treasurer, John D. McGillivrey, East Liverpool, unopposed; first vice president, George H. Cartlidge, Trenton, N. J., and second vice president, George H. Chadwick and Charles Podewells, both of East Liverpool.

PORTER CALLS ON STATES TO HELP IN "DOPE" CURES

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Rehabilitation of drug addicts is a dual responsibility of the federal government and the states.

Representative Porter (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, made this assertion yesterday in appealing to the states to provide adequate facilities for the unfortunates addicted to dope.

Congress has authorized construction of two narcotic farms. It is hoped to have the work started next winter.

PENNA. PLANS FARM

California has established a farm. Alabama and New York have provided limited means to treat addicts.

A bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature calling for a narcotic farm. An initial appropriation of $200,000 is provided. The farm will be not less than 150 acres.

Outside of these moves, the states generally have been slow to realize the necessity of providing facilities to rehabilitate addicts. As a consequence, a major problem confronts the country, according to Porter. While dope is comparatively easy to obtain in illicit channels, sufficient means are not available to treat those who have become enslaved to insidious drugs. The result is that many addicts, even if desiring to be cured, have no agency which can assist them in breaking the dope habit.

'DUTY OF STATES'

"We should recognize the complete helplessness of the addict in fighting this disease," said Porter. "Will power alone cannot do it. To effect a cure requires patience, time and scientific care and treatment.

"We will have a drug problem so long as we allow the addicts to remain the prey of the unscrupulous sellers of dope.

"The federal government is powerless to fight this problem without the assistance of the states.

"States should recognize that it is their plain duty to the citizens to treat and rehabilitate drug addicts within their borders. It is the only way that we can break the grip of the vicious dope habit."

Under present conditions addicts who are ensnared by the law are sent to prisons where they receive the so-called "cold turkey" treatment, that is, they are withdrawn entirely from the drug, whether it be morphine, heroin or cocaine.

The abrupt withdrawal, according to leading physicians, has resulted often in physical wreckage. Numerout instances have been recorded where addicts in prisons and jails have committed suicide while in the throes of the withdrawal agonies.

Sponsors of the narcotic farm idea believe that revolutionary results can be obtained through the scientific treatment provided.

Boy Hurt by Auto Sues for $25,000

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 29.—John Balls, a minor, and his father, Enoch Balls, of Canonsburg, have entered a suit in the local court asking $25,000 damage from Alfonso Polifrone, of Canonsburg, for injuries alleged sustained when the younger Balls was struck by Polifrone's automobile. The boy's skull and right leg were fractured, it is claimed, the leg later being amputated.

Officials Inspect New Castle Mills

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 29.—Officials of the United States Steel Corporation and the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, headed by James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, yesterday inspected of the plants of the corporation and subsidiary companies located in this city. The officials inspected the Shenango Works of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company and other plants.

Heflin's Son Able To Leave Hospital

COLON, Canal Zone, March 29.—(AP.)—J. Thomas Heflin, son of Senator Heflin of Alabama, last night left Samaritan Hospital where for a day he had been under treatment for acute indigestion. He plans to rejoin the congressional party with which he arrived here Wednesday from New York for a sight seeing trip today.

Fraternity Meeting On at Waynesburg

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 29.—The biennial district convention of the Pennsylvania district of the Delta Sigma Phi national fraternity opened here yesterday when two business sessions and one serial event were held. Official delegates to the meeting are L. Vorich and J. Speigel, University of Pittsburgh; L. Temple and J. Heman, Penn State College; L. Rankin and Y. Bayers, Franklin and Marshall Colleg : K. Helwig and L. Horner, University of Pennsylvania; T. Werheimer and C. Rebigzik, University of Maryland and Bennett Rich and Lloyd Wright, Waynesburg College. The meeting will close Saturday.

Girl Stowaway, First in Air, Back Home

OAKLAND, Cal., March 29.—(INS.)—Oakland's first girl air stowaway was home yesterday—and still excited. She is Gwen Ponton, 16, who was returned from Salt Lake City after she had packed a tooth-brush and comb and crawled under the baggage of a big plane leaving the Oakland port Sunday.

Miss Ponton had been under the impression the plane was to be piloted by Col. Lindbergh as he had brought the ship here from Los Angeles. When the young lady emerged from the baggage compartment to find another pilot in place of the "Flying Colonel" she was disappointed—momentarily.

"Everybody laughed and was nice to me; and even if it wasn't Lindy, I had a glorious time."

COUNCIL URGES DAILY CHECK ON TRUCKS

Council has requested Safety Director James M. Clark to continue with the campaign for protecting city streets by checking the weights of trucks and prosecuting owners when the legal weight is exceeded.

That action followed receipt of a report from the Bureau of Weights and measures stating that an intermittent campaign had produced meager results and would be continued only from time to time.

Clark was asked to have the check kept up daily and to make a weekly report to Council of the number of trucks weighed and the disposition of cases where the legal weight limit had been exceeded.

"PAINS ARE NOW UNKNOWN TO ME:" LAUDS KONJOLA

Suffered Dreadfully From Neuritis and Liver Trouble; Pittsburgh Man Given New and Lasting Health.

Daily the written or spoken indorsements of Konjola, the peerless medicine, increase by leaps and bounds. Daily men and women are telling how they gained their first and only benefits through its use. "Konjola was the medicine I should have had in the first place." This expression of praise and many others is sweeping throughout the city of Pittsburgh. Wherever this medicine is known it creates a furore among the drug and medical trades as well as the public. Introduced but a little more than five years, it has already earned the name of "the master medicine" and the medicine with more than a million friends. There is a reason for such unusual success and that reason is that Konjola contains real merit—that it does all that is claimed for it. Let the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, this city, tell you how Konjola works, what it has done, is doing and will do for all who suffer. He will point out case after case like that of Mr. Joseph Klein, 1435 Lake Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, who recently made this astounding statement about the work of Konjola in his case:

MR. JOSEPH KLEIN

"Pains, the bane of my life, are now unknown to me—thanks to this master medicine of all medicines, Konjola. What a boon to humanity it has proven to be—what a glorious thing it would be for all sufferers to know of its accomplishments. For some months I suffered from neuritis and liver trouble. Severe and prolonged pains affected my arms. Why, at times I almost was beside myself with the pain. It often was hard to use my arms, and frequently my shoulders hurt dreadfully. From the liver trouble came spots before my eyes and nauseating dizzy spells. My appetite failed me and sound sleep was unknown. Nothing seemed to benefit me and I was ready to give up hope when Konjola was recommended.

"Somehow I had a feeling that this medicine was what I needed. I don't know what caused me to think that, unless it was the sincere indorsements in the papers, or the verbal praise this medicine received. Anyway, it was worth a trial and that is what I gave it. Daily I grew better, daily the aches and pains became less severe and then they disappeared completely. My arms became supple and limber; to use them caused no pain. My liver was regulated so that the dizzy spells and spots vanished, almost over night, I would say. Sound, refreshing sleep was restored to me and my appetite increased remarkably. My case was chronic when I started on Konjola, but the amazing victory this medicine won has convinced me that it is what every one in poor health needs, and I heartily recommend it."

Thus it is that Konjola works; speedily and surely its wonders to perform. Health, that is what everyone in ill health wants, and in Konjola you will find new, glorious, and lasting health. Konjola asks but the chance to make you well.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

WORK ON NEW P. & W. VA. LINE RUSHED

CHARLEROI, Pa., March 29.—Rush orders predominate the contract grading in Fallowfield, Carroll and Nottingham Townships for the Pittsburgh and West Virginia Railroad extension. Steam shovels, trucks and other heavy equipment being moved rapidly into Fallowfield Township as the Vang Construction Company and the Carrado and Calardi Company prepare for a summer of intensive activity.

The Donora Construction Company moved in its shovels and heavy power equipment yesterday. At the Fallowfield engineers' headquarters added forces of men were being concentrated as the contractors prepare for a summer rush season.

Major problems of transporting grading machinery and huge dump trucks have been overcome, new roads to the workings opened and huge caterpillar tractors added.

Tremendous engineering problems to carry equipment into hitherto impregnable sections of the extremely rough country have been ironed out and the work goes steadily ahead.

Farm districts and wooded sections where no truck or wagon have ever penetrated, now are alive with industry as the right-of-way is cut through a range of primitive country.

Difficulties in the immediate Charleroi district were overcome by using caterpillar trucks and carriers when ordinary modes of transportation failed.

Denial was made here that classifying yards of the railroad would be located at Arnold City. Reports which originated in Connellsville indicated that a yard for distributing freight would be located there. H. H. Temple, chief engineer of the company, authorized a statement that such a yard in that district would be inefficient and apply no value.

Council Disapproves Job Creating Bills

Two ordinances creating additional jobs in the police and fire bureaus for territory recently annexed as Hays Borough and Lincoln place have received negative recommendations from council in finance committee. The bills would have added 26 men to the police and fire departments. The jobs would have been additional to those of 10 policemen and six firemen added to the city payroll when Hays Borough and Lincoln place were annexed.

Masher Finds, Alas! Girl With Hatpin

KANSAS CITY, March 29.—(AP.)—At least one girl clings to the old-fashioned hat-pin as Pat Jones has reason to know. Dorothy Muse, 18, of Alton, Mo., produced one from her headpiece and thrust it into Jones' back, marching him to a traffic officer. She said Jones had made advances to her on the street.

Jones was sent to the municipal farm to serve out a $200 fine. He said he was from Chicago, adding that hat-pins are not in style there.

Trapped in Burning Home, Man Injured

NEWARK, O., March 29.—William Maddocks was burned seriously when he was trapped in the upper floor of his home yesterday by fire which destroyed the house. Others of the family were on the lower floor and escaped injury. Maddocks was unaware of the fire until the stairway and hall were ablaze, and rushed through the flames to the street.

CITY WILL JOIN GEN. BRODHEAD CELEBRATION

Pittsburgh will join in the celebration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Gen. Daniel Brodhead's expedition from Fort Pitt against the Indians of the upper Allegheny, it was announced today by William H. Stevenson, president of the Historical Society of Western Pennsylvania. The commemoration of the great Indian campaign, to be held jointly with the state of New York, also will celebrate the victorious movement of Gen. John Sullivan against the Indians and Tories in Central New York. Sullivan, marching with his army from the Delaware at Easton, Pa., co-operated with Gen. Brodhead, who proceeded up the Allegheny River to New York and encircled the enemy.

The celebrations will be held in August and September. Commemorative tablets will be erected at various points along the routes of both expeditions. Brodhead's route led from Fort Pitt by river to Kittanning and thence overland through Clarion, Warren and McKean counties into New York.

Commerce Chamber Plans for Election

The Chamber of Commerce has selected a nominating committee to bring in an official ticket of 24 candidates, 12 of whom will be elected directors at the annual election of the Commerce Chamber on May 9. The nominating committee elected yesterday consists of David T. Riffle, chairman; E. A. Johnson, C. Edward Keck, A. W. Stevenson and R. W. Philips. Any 50 members of the chamber can put up an official ticket by petition presented at least five days before the date of the annual election.

Assets of Defunct Bank to Be Sold

To wind up the affairs of the defunct First National Bank, of Benson, Holsopple, Pa., Floyd Littrell, the receiver, was authorized in an order signed by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson to effect compromise settlements or dispose of remaining assets at public sale, subject to approval of the Comptroller of the Currency, and confirmation by the court. A petition stated that such action would be to the best interests of the creditors as Littrell has collected or converted into cash all assets which could be realized in full during the last two years.

THE FORGIVENESS OF SIN

By the REV. DR. C. E. MACARTNEY.

"That he might remain just, and yet the justifier of them that believe in Jesus."—Romans 3:26.

THE darkest fact in man is sin; the grandest fact in God is forgiveness. How God forgives sin is the greatest question which can engage the mind of man. The answer is not a part of the Gospel or one of the truths of the Gospel, but is the Gospel, the good news, itself.

In forgiving sin God remains just. God cannot forgive in any cheap and easy way which would make light of sin. If He did, He would not be God. The problem for God was how to forgive the sinner and at the same time punish sin and uphold the majesty of His holy law. This problem He solved on the cross.

On the cross God remained just. Christ died for our sins. If so, then the penalty upon sin must be death. When Christ died, then, He was taking our punishment and drinking our cup. Before anyone can receive the forgiveness of sin, he must accept the punishment of sin. God in many ways has shown what He thinks of sin, but the supreme and awful exhibition of the mind of God against sin was the death of His only son on the cross.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants.

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of mealtime because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

AIM TO CHANGE W.-J. CHARTER

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 29.—A move to change the charter of Washington and Jefferson College which, it is declared, has become archaic, has been taken by the board of trustees which has named a committee to take the necessary steps.

It is also planned to revise the by-laws of the corporation and make other changes that will more completely modernize the institution.

The board received a report to the effect that three of its members had died within a few months—A. A. Wilson and Dr. J. L. Dicker, of Wheeling, and Alexander M. Templeton, of Washington, the last named secretary of the board. Nineteen members of the board were present.

It was announced that the time for the fall meeting had been changed from September to October. President Baker, in his report, informed the board that the college was in a flourishing condition.

Wales at Investiture In Place of King

LONDON, March 29.—(AP.)—The Prince of Wales, in behalf of King George, held his second investiture at St. James' Palace yesterday, conferring the insignia of orders bestowed by His Majesty in the New Year's honors list on 150 recipients.

In contrast with Wednesday's private investiture in which every one wore morning dress or lounge suits, yesterday's function was a glittering affair of gold lace, resplendent decorations and white plumed cockaded hats.

SENATE ARREST OF VARE MAN DEFENDED

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—Attorney General Mitchell and former Attorney General George W. Wickersham filed in the Supreme Court yesterday a brief of arguments they will present on April 22 when the court takes up the case arising out of the arrest of Sheriff Thomas W. Cunningham, of Philadelphia.

As a witness during the Senate investigation of the election of William S. Vare as senator from Pennsylvania, Cunningham was released from arrest by the Circuit Court of Appeals which held the Senate in taking him in custody had exceeded its authority because it was attempting to punish him for contempt.

DEFIED SENATE

Cunningham, who had twice appeared as a witness before the Reed Senate committee, refused to answer questions aimed to develop the source of $50,000 he testified he contributed to the state Republican committee during the 1926 campaign when his salary at that time as clerk of the Court of Sessions Court was $8,000 a year.

The brief insisted that the Circuit Court of Appeals had misconstrued the purpose of the Senate in directing the arrest. It asserted the Senate wanted Cunningham before its bar to answer questions and not to punish him for contempt. The authority of the Senate in such matters had been clearly established, it declared, by the decision of the Supreme Court in the Mal S. Daugherty case.

After refusal of Cunningham to answer questions put to him by the Reed committee, it was within the authority of the Senate, the brief sates, to bring him before it.

POWER UPHELD

The inquiry being conducted into the Vare election was within the constitutional powers of the Senate, the brief argued. In connection with the exercise of this constitutional power the Senate may order the arrest of Cunningham, it added, to bring him to its bar to testify, under its judicial power as the sole constitutional judge of the election and qualifications of its members.

The Federal Court should not in such proceedings make an inquiry, it argued, into the reasons which induced the Senate to order the arrest.

2-CENT GAS TAX LEVIED IN N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 29.—(AP.)—Enactment of a gasoline tax law, estimated to furnish a revenue of $26,000,000 between May 1 of this year and June 30, 1930, when the next fiscal year closes, was among the chief accomplishments of the 1929 session of the New York Legislature, which adjourned last night.

The gasoline tax bill was part of the Republican farm relief and tax equalization program. Under its provision a levy of 2 cents for each gallon of gasoline used by automotive vehicles traveling the highways of the state would be collected at the points of distribution.

The session was marked by a bitter conflict between the Democratic governor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and a Republican majority in both Senate and Assembly.

Gov. Roosevelt's legislative program, submitted in his first annual message and in subsequent special messages to the Legislature was given scant consideration, and virtually every proposal of the executive went down to defeat.

Jerusalem Mecca Of Easter Pilgrims

JERUSALEM, March 29.—(AP.)—Many pilgrims from Europe and the United States have arrived in Jerusalem to spend the Easter holy days attending services here and making journeys to the places where Christ moved almost 2,000 years ago.

Among the visitors were Monsignor Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, papal delegate at Washington, who traveled incognito with Dr. John Burke, secretary-general of the National Catholic Welfare Conference at Washington, a great assumptionist pilgrimage of 600 members and other private pilgrimages numbering several hundred.

LAKE LOWERED, ANCIENT GALLEY COMES TO LIGHT

NEMI, Italy, March 29.—(AP.)—The first of two old Roman galleys in the famous "Diana's Mirror," or Lake Nemi, came to light yesterday as engineers, long engaged on the task, lowered the level of the lake sufficiently.

The ship was inclined at a considerable angle, but the stern was distinctly visible. The centuries that it has been under water apparently had seriously damaged the boat and destroyed all the elaborate ornamentation which archaeologists had been eager to study.

Additional pumps have been rushing to completion of the work, inspired by Premier Mussolini, of lowering the level of the lake sufficiently to bring the ancient galley to light.

It will be several months longer, however, before the ship will be entirely visible, and yet longer before its sister ship will be revealed. One boat is 200 feet long and the other is 220. One lay on the bottom at a depth of 35 feet and the other at a depth of 45.

Extra Values for the Smoker

If you smoke, here's the "ammunition" at prices that will certainly please your pocketbook—two for one—plus one cent.

Once more the lowly penny takes the center of the stage. At all the Dow stores all this week the insignificant "copper" buys a second unit—in other words, you get two for one price, PLUS one cent.

These are real values and it is a real opportunity. The quantities in some departments are necessarily limited, so our suggestion is: Don't stop to "think it over," but "come on over."

ECKENER SAVES ZEP IN WILD NIGHT STORM

By CARL H. VON WIEGAND,
Special Correspondent with the Graf Zeppelin.

(Copyright, 1929, in United States, Canada, Great Britian and Continental Europe, except Germany, Cuba, Mexico and South America, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. —Copyright in Germany, by Scherl Verlag Ullstein. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part, prohibited.)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, March 29—(Special Radio.)—To the Orient and back by air, approximately 5,000 miles in 81 hours in the first nonstop, round-trip sky excursion to the corner of Asia, through fogs, winds, rains and even snow—that was the magnificent achievement of the Graf Zeppelin, its commander and crew.

The Graf Zeppelin, with 67 persons aboard, arrived at Friedrichshafen yesterday.

"Germany must back up Dr. Eckener more than it has," declared President Loebe, of the German Reichstag, one of the passengers. The sentiment was echoed by other government officials among the passengers.

FIGHT WIND AND FOG

From Spalto Wednesday night at sundown, to Friedrichshafen was truly a marvellous night of air navigation, even for Dr. Eckener. In that night journey, Dr. Eckener proved that he can operate the Zeppelin in almost any weather. Those who knew, and they were only a few, realized that the potential perils were even greater than on our historic flight to America.

If the two hours in black fog between Lyons and Valence on Monday before daylight, were "among the most difficult in all my experience," as Dr. Eckener characterized them, Wednesday night was probably the most difficult night performance in his more than 2,000 flights.

His dash over the Dinar Alps in Jugo-Slavia and along the sinuous Unna River Valley, winding between high mountains on either side and outlined in the blackness of the night by snow patches, often going at 60 to 70 miles an hour, was no ordinary feat.

As we topped the last mountain chain and dropped into Save Valley near Sisak, one felt the tension relaxed. Over Lake Balaton Hungary we encountered a 50-mile headwind. Eckener crowded the motors to the utmost. It felt good to hear how they responded. We reached Vienna at three in the morning. The city had remained up with full illumination and formed a magic picture. Scarcely were we out of Vienna when we struck our nose into a fierce gale.

HAIL DRUMS ON SHIP

Rain and hail sounded like the beats on a giant snaredrum. The wind was like a breath from the pole; temperature was below freezing and the windows of the bridge were so iced over that it was necessary to open some of them to see.

The rain beat on Capts. Lehmann, Flemming and Von Schiller and on Dr. Eckener. His son, Knut, and the second helsman stood in water, and all the officers on the bridge were soaked. Eckener's cap was dripping as the Graf fought her way through, only to plunge into a dense fog soon after.

Then he stopped the motors, and had the ship dropped down slowly to get under the fog. Now he found himself not fa. from the treetops, but had the satisfaction of discovering he was near Melk, Austria.

We then proceeded along the Danube, only to run into another fog so dense we couldn't see three feet from the bridge. Then we lost the river again. Steering by compe., the bridge was literally "all eyes" as the Graf Zeppelin would rise, then come down as low as she dared, feeling a way along. As we came out of the fog at six o'clock, we found ourselves in the Inn River, northeast of Salzburg. A little later we breakfasted while soaring over Muehldorf, 50 miles from Munich.

Dr. Eckener, his cap and shoulders soaked where he had been peering from the open windows of the bridge, was a happy man. When he came in and sat down to a cup of coffee with us, his only remark was:

"Rotten night."

Between Munich and Friedrichshafen, the earth was repeatedly blotted out by the dense fog, which is the same dangerous factor to air navigation as it is on the sea.

ZEP IN 81 HOURS VIEWS WONDERS OF 10 NATIONS

By LADY DRUMMOND HAY,
First woman to cross the Atlantic by airship. Special correspondent aboard the Graf Zeppelin.

(Copyright, 1929, in United States, Canada, Great Britain and Continental Europe, except Germany; Cuba, Mexico and South America, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Copyright in Germany by Scherl Verlag and Verlag Ullstein. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, March 27.—It seems like some strange fantastic dream—Jerusalem on Tuesday evening, Athens Wednesday morning and Friedrichshafen yesterday.

This new way is the way of the future for sight-seeing the world with an airship like the Graf Zeppelin. We touched three continents, visited 10 nations, traveled 5,000 miles—all in 81 hours.

From wooded Germany to the grandeur of Switzerland's mountains; to Corsica, Napoleon's cradle; to Elba, his deathbed. Then over the seven hills of eternal Rome to doomed Pompeii and sinister Vesuvius, darkly smoking through a heavy fog. That is the ground covered by a "grand tour" of a year or two's duration by students and young men of wealth of former generations. And even today by train, steamship and automobile, it can only be comfortably covered in the course of several weeks.

WONDERS OF OLD WORLD

Speeding eastward like an arrow, we touched Crete, Cyprus and had our first sight of the Holy Land at Haifa, which ordinarily would be at least a five day's journey from Friedrichshafen, but is less than 40 hours by Zeppelin.

Jaffa famous for its perfumed orange groves; Telaviv, the metropolis of the new Zion: Jerusalem by moonlight, the altar of the struggle of privation and sacrifice and strife of the medieval crusaders and pilgrims—then along the palm-sown Egyptian coast, where the silence of the desert meets the eloquent silence of the sea.

HISTORY OF AGES UNROLLS

To Greece, of the immortals, whose blanched monuments, divinely inspired, resemble the sepulchral remains of the vanished demigods. Albania, rugged and turbulent corner of that victim's cauldron, the Balkans; Jugoslavia—all these as three souls striving within one body —three races in rebellious bondage as one nation.

Not the world alone, but the history of the ages unfolded before our eyes. Not as mere man toilfully conquering the labyrinth of paths and trackless seas, but as the gods of Olympus, we looked serenely from our heights down upon nations, made and unmade and in the making.

The piquant contrast of antiquity and modernism—6,030 postcards and letters were mailed aboard by passengers and crew, representing about $1,600 in postage, exclusive of 220 pounds of mail taken on at Friedrichshafen.

Dr. Eckener again showed himself to be the master air navigator.

"It was a flight rich with new experiences," remarked the grizzled commander of the air as we came out of the airship and he invited me to another flight. "We again learned much, made many new observations, gathered meteorological and technical data and tried out new instruments. It is only in this practical way that valuable data for the science of air navigation, in which we are only in infancy, can be gathered."

Dr. A. V. B. Hightower Is Council Candidate

The Rev. Dr. A. V. B. Hightower, president of the Afro-American Brotherhood and assistant pastor of the First Negro Baptist Church, of Greenfield, is a candidate for Republican nomination for Council, he announced last night. Running on an anti-vice platform, he has the support of a committee including J. H. Taylor, D. C. Jones, Dr. G. L. Winstead, J. R. Wumble, Mrs. Margaret Burris and Edward Broadus.

5 More Arrested In Ohio Vice Drive

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 29.—Five prisoners taken in the city-county cleanup yesterday were turned over to federal authorities on conspiracy charges. They were W. M. Devers, Blanche Devers, Bert McIlvane, J. B. Kerr and Katherine Stader, all connected with roadhouses near the city.

With 100 others either in jail or at liberty on bail, raiding squads were furnished with a new batch of search warrants last night and the cleanup was continued.

Child Injured by Auto

NEW CASTLE, Pa., March 29.—Elias Smolinski, 8, of 919 Cascade street, is in the New Castle Hospital with a broken right leg and other injuries suffered yesterday when struck by the automobile of Emanuel Bathgate, of Ellwood City, driven by Walter Crothers, in East Washington street.

New Mayor Installed By Franklin Council

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 29.—With the formal election yesterday of Harry C. Ferringer by members of City Council to succeed the late Mayor Merle A. Drake, Lester J. Harrison, of Franklin's First Ward, was designated as councilman to fill the unexpired term to January 1. It is understood Harrison will then be a candidate to succeed himself.

One of the first official acts under Mayor Ferringer was to announce a reduction in water rates, effective July 1, of $1 for each quarterly payment.

WATCH YOUR CHILDREN

In These Dark Winter Months Deadly Catarrh and "Flu" Are Particularly Likely to Attack Growing Girls and Boys

Don't make the mistake of thinking you can safely leave Catarrh "to get well of itself." Catarrh is a horrible affliction which makes life miserable for the sufferer, and bad enough for others around him who must see and hear the constant hawking and spitting, as well as smell his bad breath. Catarrh weakens and poisons the system. Its foul secretions are swallowed, and the stomach itself becomes filled up with the slimy discharges of the disease. Health is almost impossible, and it is but a short step to consumption, the scourge of modern times, bringing death to millions every year.

In the following letter Mr. Frank Savis, of Punxsutawney, Pa., praises his wife for protecting their growing family from this horrible menace:

"Ever since my wife learned about World's Tonic," he writes, "she has used it to guard our children against Catarrh. We are Austrians, and ordinary American medicines don't seem to be beneficial to us. World's Tonic is different. It is made from plants and herbs grown in their natural state, and brought from several parts of the world. This is why Austrians like ourselves, and other Europeans, as well as Americans, find it so amazingly beneficial. At the first sign of a cold, in any of the children, my wife gives World's Tonic regularly for several days, to regulate the bowels. It is wonderful to see how quickly the trouble clears up. Our children are all well and healthy. Catarrh has never taken root in any of them. We are sure that we owe this to World's Tonic for many of our neighbors' children used to have running noses, took cold very easily, and hawked and spat from one end of the year to the other. We have persuaded them to use World's Tonic, and every time we have done so the children have got well quickly and are now strong and healthy like our own."

World's Tonic is on sale at all Dow Stores (formerly McCulloch), and other modern drug stores. (A 68)

8 LIQUOR RAIDS MADE, 3 HELD, MANY FREED

Eight raids were made by Federal prohibition agents and constables in various sections of the city and county yesterday.

Only three persons were required to post bond, the others being released on their own recognizance after small quantities of moonshine had been found in their homes, agents reported.

Those released on $1,000 bail each are Jacob Hankovich, 36, of 3000 Carson street, and Leo Badeto and Joe Villas, both of 102 East General Robinson street.

Liquor was found in their places, according to the agents.

TROOPER STRAIL HOME ROBBERS

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., March 29.—State police were conducting an extensive search today for a gang of thieves who have centered their activities at Smock and Star Junction, near here, this week, committing more than a score of robberies and taking household articles, jewelry, clothing and poultry, estimated to be worth more than $1,500.

One suspect, Walter Addis, is held for questioning. Several others have been released.

At Star Junction, the home of Mrs. William Pike was entered and robbed, while 10 other residents report that chickens, geese and horses were stolen. Homes entered at Smock include those of James Fleming, Watson Murphy, Fred Fellem, Walter Woodward, Robert Woodward and G. F. Peterson.

The affair is being sponsored by the Lions' Club whose president, Charles S. Hart, will preside. Frederick Godcharles, of Harrisburg, State librarian, and Horace S. Kerr, of Columbus, O., director of Lions' International, will be the principal speakers.

Sign This Petition and Help to Cut Taxes

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

To the Congress of the United States:

We, the undersigned, respectfully urge that the Congress of the United States give immediate consideration to the proposition that there be a downward revision of all income taxes on all earned incomes such as salaries or fees, or commissions for personal services. We urge this because of the many instances where wage or fee or commission earners sometimes have just a few years of good incomes and prior to and after that period have substantially less incomes. Their period of better earnings which might give the average wage earner a chance to accumulate some capital is heavily taxed and they seldom have a new opportunity for the accumulation of savings which might tend to make more useful citizens of them.

Labor in general, lawyers, doctors, architects, clerical workers, salesmen, dentists, engineers, journalists, accountants, actors, motion picture actors, singers, musicians, and all the other professional people are in the same plight in the matter of earned income as distinguished from earnings on capital, and since they represent a great percentage of the citizenry of the country, we beg the gravest consideration of this proposition. Each signer below hereby enrolls as a member of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph League for the Downward Revision of Taxes on earned incomes and will work with that newspaper toward the end stated.

Permission is hereby granted the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to list the signer in the proper Labor, Clerical or Professional Division of the said League for presentation of our signatures to the United States Congress for the stated purpose.

The signer is not obliged to make any kind of contribution or to do anything except to give his moral support to this movement.

MONEY GONE IN SPLURGE, PAY THEFT SUSPECT HELD

Hobert Laird, 64, of 1313 Epiphany street, was a "prince" for a night.

Arraigned in Central Police Court today, charged with stealing an $890 payroll yesterday from the coat pocket of M. C. Ryan, bricklaying contractor, of 13 Third avenue, it was testified he spent the money treating his friends in liquor emporiums of the Hill district.

Laird was arrested in an alleged speakeasy at 1009 Bedford avenue along with 14 of his old-time chums and Walter Roberts, reputed proprietor. When searched at Central Station, police testified, Laird had $13 left.

Laird and Roberts were held over by Magistrate Thomas Jones. The 14 visitors were fined $5 or five days in jail.

Club Announces Hike for Sunday

The Pittsburgh Hiking Club will take its Sunday hike this week from Ingomar to Emsworth. Those attending should take the Harmony car, leaving the city at 1.30 o'clock, it was announced.

RAIDERS JAIL 40 IN JOHNSTOWN

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., March 29.—Following threats by City Council of a "shake up" in the police department for failure to enforce the law, police got on the "job" and raided two alleged gambling resorts and four alleged speakeasies, making 40 arrests.

In Police Court hearings, Mayor Joseph Cauffiel assessed fines in connection with two of the raids. One defendant was discharged and in the three other cases the Mayor ordered that the defendants be turned over to the commonwealth authorities. The city netted $305 from fines and forfeitures in the raid cases.

Mayor Cauffiel announced from the Police Court bench that hereafter all cases that come before him wherein liquor is involved he will turn over to the district attorney's office for prosecution.

Weather Conditions.

There was a rapid change in pressure distribution, during yesterday and last night. The high is now centered over the Middle Atlantic states and northward over the upper St. Lawrence valley, and the Alberta low is centered over Southern Manitoba; lowest barometer reported, 29.28 inches, at Winnipeg. The disturbance covers the entire northern plains and northern Rocky Mountain states section.

Cloudy weather is general over the southern plains and the Central and Southern Mississippi Valley states and eastward to the mountains, and it is raining in the Mississippi valley. The rainfall was mostly light, and was limited to the southern plains, the lower Mississippi valley and the far Northwest.

It is somewhat colder than yesterday over the East, and warmer over the Northern Plains states. In the Canadian Northwest there was a change to colder.

MAN DRUNK ON SIDEWALK STARTS HIT-RUN CHASE

A shower of bullets, fired by a patrolman at a motorist who was suspected of having hit a pedestrian, disturbed the sleep of North Side residents early today and increased the business of North Side Police Court.

Patrolman John Bloomer testified that "two small boys" told him a hit-and-run driver was speeding out East Ohio street. Bloomer commandeered an auto, gave chase, fired five shots at the alleged runaway who finally stopped in East street.

The driver, Gilbert Tonn, 26, of 818 Spring Garden avenue, denied his car had struck a man. His denial was supported by the supposed victim.

Tonn testified he hadn't fled, that he hadn't heard the shots, that he stopped his car near a garage for repairs, and not because he was being chased.

The supposed victim, John Hrovat, 28, of Mt. Troy, was not injured at all, he testified. He was stretched out on the sidewalk, he related, and he admitted he had been drinking.

Tonn, too, admitted having visited an East Ohio street drinking establishment and of seeing a man, presumably intoxicated, being carried out to the sidewalk.

Hrovat, charged with drunkenness, was penalized $5 or five days in jail. Tonn was turned over to Traffic Court by Magistrate E. M. Hough.

Lopez, Flier, Rallies After Auto Collision

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—(AP.)—Lieut. Col. Morales Lopez, Guatemalan aviator, who has been staying here for a few days en route from Texas to Guatemala City, was completely recovered tonight from the shaking up and bruising he received in an automobile accident Wednesday.

The car in which he was riding with three Mexican companions from the capital to Xochimilco collided with a truck.

Notice to Users of Anti-Acid Preparations

ACIDINE IS BETTER BECAUSE:
1. It is the most effective anti-acid on the market, containing a blend of the two finest anti-acids, refined as to quality.
2. It contains a very substantial quantity of a starchy food digestant, which will digest starches within a few minutes. This takes care of all inability to digest starch in potatoes, bread, corn and other such food.
3. It contains a rare vegetable extraction which softens food, and enables digestion to proceed rapidly.
4. It contains a soothing ingredient which protects the walls of the stomach from action by acids.
5. It is harmless. It is not habit-forming and is pleasant to the taste.

A DAINTY FROCK FOR YOUTHFUL FIGURES

Cotton prints, gingham or voile may be used for this design. With gingham, the trimming may be pique. For voile or prints, organdy will be nice. The waist has a surplice closing below the pointed neck line, and is finished with shaped collar and facings. The skirt forms wide panels between inverted plaits the front and back. The sleeve is the popular bishop model with attractive fulness above a narrow band cuff.

The pattern for this design is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. To make the dress for a 16-year size will require 3⅝ yards of 39-inch material. For facings, band cuffs and belt of contrasting material ⅝ yard, cut crosswise is required. To finish outer edge of facings with bias binding will require 2½ yards. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 2¼ yards.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

KDKA PICKS UP HOLLAND, REBROADCASTING DANCE

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

KDKA went itself one better last night by picking up both the 5SW signals from London and dance number from PCJJ at Eindhoven, Holland, and rebroadcasting them to the world at large on the regular wavelength of 305.9 meters.

What next?

The pioneer station has made it possible for Americans to set their time pieces by "Big Ben" in Parliament Tower and to dance to schottishe selections originating in Holland.

Is it presuming too much to predict that next week we may hear balalaika music from Russia?

When it comes to setting records the alert boys at the pioneer station must get the laurels.

P. A. Boyd, publicity engineer for KDKA, figured at an early hour last night—not long after all returns were in—that KDKA had rebroadcast programs from three countries in less than 25 minutes. From 6:58 to 7 p. m. the station broadcast Big Ben chimes from 5SW, London, England; from 7:01 to 7:23 p. m. music from the KDKA studio in the William Penn Hotel, and from 7:23 to 7:25 p. m. a dance number and part of a march, believed to be "Under the Double Eagle," from PCJJ in Holland.

Very good and may Pittsburgh—first in radio—keep setting a hot pace for everyone!

TRIBUTE TO FOCH.
May Johns, contralto, will sing "Agnus Dei" of Bizet; Taylor Buckley, baritone, will sing "Deep River," supported by a mixed quartet.
As a tribute to Marshal Foch, the last part of the program will include a Begeretie, sung by Irma de Baun, soprano, and one of the traditional songs of Provence, the birthplace of Foch, Marlil, the words of which were written by Mistral, the famous Provencal poet.
Ludovic Huot, a young French tenor, will sing "Le Reve Passe," a post-war song written by Helmer and Krier, with words by Armand Foucher. "Le Reve Passe," or "The Dream Passes," tells of the dream of a soldier of France in which he sees the troops of France throughout the centuries pass before him with all the accoutrements of war. The first part of the song is in strict march tempo, to be later followed by a very beautiful recessitive, ending in the first martial tempo. Mr. Huot will be accompanied by the full orchestra and supported by a mixed quartet.

Cousin Lora's Story in Sunday Sun-Telegraph

The first of a series of illustrated articles giving intimate facts about radio people at Pittsburgh stations will be inaugurated this Sunday in the Radio Section of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. Cousin Lora, of WCAE, has more "relatives" than any other entertainer on the air today. In a year her "family" has grown to more than 20,000. Quite an achievement for any person, but Cousin Lora is a girl only 19, with an exceptionally pleasing personality. To tell you any more would spoil a treat in store for you this Sunday.

Radio programs, accurate and complete, and several other sparkling features will be found in the Radio Section.

INA CLAIRE IN FILM CAPITAL AND SO, BY THE WAY, ARE THE SINGER MIDGETS

By DOROTHY HERZOG.

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, March 29.

SH-H-H-H. Singer Midgets were seen going into the Famous Players-Lasky studio. Can Famous be getting ready to make short subjects?

Ina Claire's in town. Ina's a dyed-in-the-wool Broadway-ite lured West by the cinema Klondike located at Pathe. Arthur Richman is writing an original talky for her and she's gonna be the cream in it.

Aside from these bald facts, Miss Claire won't tell a guy what's the food value of cornflakes. And thank heaven she didn't wear a frizzly soft thimbled dress at her tea. Furthermore, she vows she's no stickler for evening clothes at every social function, excluding funerals. Which is relaxing inasmuch as out here one is detrop if even suspected of not going in for the bareback racket come nightfall.

Ina Claire

"D' ja hear that 'Hell's Angels' is no fly-by-nite picture?" asks Gene Hum. Mebbe not. It took a year plus to make it.

Dream Costs Double's Life

"Hell's Angels" recollects the disaster that befell Pilot Al Wilson and his mechanic when they went up in the Gotha plane that was used in this production. This particular shot became doubly important as it POSITIVELY completed actual camera shooting. Al and his mechanic doubled for Jimmy Hall and Ben Lyon in making the scene. As you may recall, the plane broke a wing several thousand feet up. The mechanic was killed. Al escaped with a broken ankle. Or was it sprained?

Jimmy had flown 125 hours in this plane during the time taken to film the flicker. Ben Lyon had flown approximately the same number of hours. When Jimmy arrived on the field the morning of the accident, he pointblank refused to take the air in the Gotha. He followed a hunch that originated in a dream the night before. A curious sort of dream, wherein Jimmy walked out of a house and saw coming toward him an enormous bird with the head of a buzzard and the body of an eagle. The bird winged directly over him. It spoke, explaining who it was and left him: "I've got to go. I'm very busy today."

Jimmy awoke the next morn, the dream still vivid in his mind. It was partly because of this and partly because of the resultive "hunch" that he refused to go up in that Gotha. A few minutes after the ship took off and gained altitude, the accident happened.

Jobyna Weeps On Birthday

Seems Jobyna Ralston enjoyed a birthday 'tother day. Seems Hubby Dick Arlen had to work that night in "Thunderbolt." Seems Joby canceled her birthday party ter hum and brought the cake to Dick's dressingroom. So near yet so far. But Dick couldn't leave the set. Joby treated herherself to a good old-fashioned weeper. Then she dried her tears and dispatched a hunk of cake to Dick with this note: "I'm a big silly," she penned, "And I'm a cry baby. Make every scene a Rembrandt, honey, and when I see you again I'll be 25 years old and love you more than ever." Being true, so help the cynics.

An open letter to Pev Morley comes to this department from one signing the initials J. H. Here she goes:

Mr. Morley:

"So you think that people (in general) don't know much about you? Read this:

"You are the best (one of the best cameramen in pictures. Your boss has been C. B. De Mille for a very long time. Your salary is (or was) $500 a week. You were promoted (or supposed to be) to director. You are married to a beautiful lady. She loves you. Oh! She loves that beautiful nose of yours that is equaled only by Norma Shearer's. It amused you to be called the husband of Lina Basquette. Remember this: In pictures you are the Pev Morley. For the rest, who cares? Well, you were in the coconut grove the other night.

"From your admirer who sees everything—at all times; knows everything—at any time; talks too much—many a time."

IRVING FISHER, Broadway singer, visiting his mother at the Roosevelt Hotel. And not looking for a talkie job, either! . . . MORAN and MACK, the Black Crows themselves, getting set to rehearse their initial Famous Players outloud. Not to be confused with the weather reports. . . . MICKEY NEILAN lunching with Joe Engel at the Brown Derby and declaring the only merger to report as a result is words. . . . MRS. JIMMY GLEASON getting beautified at that kind of a parlor. . . . RONALD COLMAN just returned from a week-end jaunt and denying he plans a three-months' trek abroad. Ronnie is between pictures now. . . . The difference between a supervisor and an actor is a supervisor is between ideas. . . . And—that's all.

Curiously enough, Lionel Barrymore evolutes into the directorial ranks as easily as he did from painting to acting. I say curiously enough, as the elder Barrymore tends to an amusing cynicism and inverses his personality in the cloak of remotesness. While megaphoning "Madame X" for M. G. M., Mr. Barrymore met with numerous situations that taxed his patience to the utmost. There was an Italian actor in the cast who simply could not remember his lines. He muffed them through sheer nervousness. Mr. Barrymore rehearsed him one evening from 7 until 2 a. m., and then decided to shoot the scene. The Italian faltered in his speech and Barrymore called cut. The actor gazed at him in apprehension. Barrymore waved a deprecatory hand: "You did great. I had to cut it because one of the lights went bad." They tried it again, and the Italian turned in a perfect performance.

Renee Today's Fashion Model

HOWARD GREER, fashion director, says:

Renee Adoree is one of the few Californians who agrees with Paris on the choice of metal lace for evening wear. Over a slip of cheramoya green satin she wears an evening gown of silver lace. The flat hip-yoke, the hemline dipping at the back and the bodice cut lower in back than in front, follow conventional lines. The accompanying jacket, of the same material, is finger-tip in length and has tailored sleeves.

Hazleton Patricide Jury Is Selected

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., March 29.—(AP.)—A jury was selected late yesterday to try Henry Roazzi, 24, of Hazleton, who is charged with the murder of his own father, John Roazzi, 50, while the latter was on his way to work in the mines November 15, 1928. Roazzi pleaded not guilty when arraigned.

The murder is alleged to have resulted from a plot between Roazzi and his boarding mistress, Mrs. Edwina Tait, to get possession of his father's property, so that the youth and Mrs. Tait, could elope to Europe. Mrs. Tait has an invalid husband and several children. She is also indicted for murder.

Ohio Commissioners Cleared of Bribery

POMEROY, O., March 29.—(AP.)—After deliberating 40 minutes, a jury in Common Pleas Court yesterday acquitted Irving Kar, chairman of the board of Meigs county commissioners, who was charged with accepting a $240 bribe in connection with the letting of a county contract.

MOVIE SQUEEZE :-: SOME DRAMATICS

Dorothy Sebastian doesn't look like a novice in the movie art of necking. But this all is part of a scene in Buster Keaton's new comedy, "Spite Marriage." Dorothy, they say, proves quite a comedienne in the film.

Here we have a glimpse of the trio of principals in "The Broadway Melody" in one of the picture's dramatic moments. They are Bessie Love, Charles King and Anita Page. The film comes Monday to the Aldine.

STOCK HERE TO RESUME MONDAY

Cynthia Blake, who played a Spanish girl in the original company of "This Thing Called Love," has been engaged to appear in the same role with the George Sharp Players at the Pitt next week.

Although a native of Baltimore, Ella Shields won her first theatrical fame on the London stage as a character impersonator. Miss Shields comes to the Davis Monday.

"Macbeth," staged with the settings of Gordon Craig designment, comes to the Nixon for a week's engagement beginning Monday evening, April 1.

Frank McIntyre heads the cast of "Boom Boom," musical comedy coming to the Alvin for an engagement of one week, opening next Monday night. Based on a French farce, the musical comedy version has a cast that includes Nell Kelly, Alexander Callam, Archie Leach, Harry Welsh, Kendall Capps, Bert Lewis, Mabel Elaine, Marcella Swanson, Cortez and Peggy and others.

Waynesburg Opens Beautifying Drive

WAYNESBURG, Pa., March 29.—A campaign for beautifying Waynesburg has been launched here by a committee consisting of 50 representatives of various Waynesburg women's organizations, who will co-operate with borough officials in formulating a plan for accomplishing their object. Mrs. J. L. Fye, who last year was a delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention, has been named general chairman of the committee.

Moscow Players Coming April 15

The Habimah Art Players of Moscow will appear in Carnegie Music Hall on Monday night, April 15. The program will consist of eccentric dancing, singing and presentation of dramas. They were here three years ago.

PROPOSED RAMP TO BRIDGE PROTESTED

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

By HAVEY J. BOYLE

AT THE recent Kinloch mine disaster a miner, entombed for many hours, at last was rescued. He was all but exhausted when they brought him from the depths of death to the fresh air and sunlight. He managed to say he wanted a cigaret. He was proffered one. He shook his head no. He was handed a different kind. Once again he shook his head in refusal. The third kind offered him was his particular brand. A reporter who noticed this wrote to the makers of the cigaret the exhausted miner held out for. Came a letter saying the company could not make use of the testimonial. Perhaps the company in question feared no one would believe the story.

In the same catastrophe at Kinlock another miner was rescued from death. When they brought him out one woman rushed to him and said: "Charlie, thank Heaven," and another woman said: "George, you are safe." It was a strange scene for the two wives were claiming a common husband. The story is true and it ends here.

I should like to be able to report that the miner, upon sizing up his new predicament, volunteered to go back into the mine, but remembering the incident of the cherry tree, I can't make such a report.

The sequel now is in the making. The writing of which by an imaginative hand might be saleable. How would you end such a story?

HONEST hearts beat beneath the buttons of the one-man car operators. A truck driver riding ahead of a Spring Garden car jostled a tarpaulin off his truck, unknowingly. A man in a street car showed his pass, dropped his business card, and made off with the tarpaulin. The motorman-conductor or conductor-motorman kept the card, looked up the driver of the truck, and told him where his "lost" tarpaulin might be found.

Losing a tarpaulin at least runs a close second to misplacing one's bass drum. David J. Davies, of the Lost Tarpaulin Department, reports the story.

Walter Christy, former newspaperman and present delinquent tax collector for Allegheny County, goes back to the days when reporters wrote all their stories with lead pencils. It was a day when beleaguered printers used to hold indignation meetings over the poor handwriting of certain gentlemen of the press.

The same old cry: "Space is tight," rang out in another day, too, to keep reporters from running wild and it was a ruse of some of the boys to write a small hand so the story wouldn't look so long to (take this, you villians) the ever-suspicious copyreaders.

REPORTERS seldom master the typewriter in a big way even in this late day. The scribe who can use more than two fingers on each hand is an oddity and in fact arouses some suspicion.

In the old days, by the way, reporters using a lead pencil nearly always "printed" the proper names in their stories. Even with such precaution a Mr. Brown who was doing something or other either for the town or against it would note that a Mr. Pounds was getting some attention in the public prints.

Which incidentally leads me to observe that contrary to an effort made here the other day to change the Mayor's secretary's name to Ed he is a perverse gentleman who still insists that his first name is Frank.

IT IS one of the peculiar things about a typewriter that just as the operator begins spelling out Frank what comes up on the paper but Edward!

Using the wrong name for a man in type gives the reporter that same sensation some of us have felt when approaching a man from the rear we give him a thunderous slap on the back to discover, unluckily, that instead of it being good old George Somebody or Other it is a total stranger.

Before I ever met Jake Shulgold and before he knew me I passed him one day mistaking him for a man I knew. I tugged at his coat-tails as I passed him. Mr. Shulgold looked after me, smiled indulgently, and said: "Why don't you go around ringing people's door bells?"

E. PITTSBURGH BEGINS ARSON PROBE

Investigation of an alleged attempt to burn a three-story frame apartment-storeroom building at 713 Linden avenue, East Pittsburgh, was begun yesterday by Capt. C. A. Lipper, of the fire marshal's office, following the discovery of a lighted candle in a cupboard of a room on the third floor of the building by Mrs. Helen Elkins.

Mrs. Elkins, who resides on the second floor of the building, heard a noise on the third floor, which is unoccupied, and upon investigating, found a lighted candle that had been placed in a box of lard in a cupboard filled with rolls of wall paper.

She notified Police Chief Frank Kelly, of East Pittsburgh, but was unable to tell who had placed the candle in the cupboard. Kelly notified the marshal's office, and is assisting in the investigation.

PITTSBURGH'S TYPICAL GIRL JUDGES

FRANK VITTOR

Sculptor and teacher, Vittor is a Pittsburgher by adoption. He is now engaged on tablets in relief for the Irene Kaufmann Settlement and has executed busts of several presidents and prominent local leaders.

MRS. LAURA M'DONALD

The feminine member of the Typical American Girl jury is a local director of the Girl Scouts of Allegheny County and president of the Pittsburgh Girls' Conference. Mrs. M'Donald has been associated with the modern girl.

NORWOOD MacGILVARY

MacGilvary, associate professor of painting and decorating at Carnegie Tech, is noted for his figure drawings and landscape work. He has been teaching at Tech for nearly 10 years and was formerly an illustrator.

DELEGATION TO CARRY APPEAL TO COUNTY

A protest against the proposed Richardson avenue ramp as a means of linking the Woods Run district with the projected McKees Rocks-North Side bridge will be made to County Public Works Director Norman F. Brown, next Monday morning.

Alderman George A. Young, president of the Twenty-seventh Ward Board of Trade, will head a delegation representing that body and 17 industrial plants of the lower North Side to urge that the county engineers' plans be changed.

According to Alderman Young the business interests of the districts desire a ramp that will connect directly with the proposed bridge. Present plans, he understands, call for a ramp along Richardsoon avenue that connects with the proposed Ohio River boulevard half a mile east of the bridge.

This would necessitate all traffic, moving over the boulevard before reaching the bridge.

TRADERS OPEN NEW HOME

A house warming was held by the West End Board of Trade in their new club rooms, Odd Fellows Hall, Steuben street and Wabash avenue, last night. More than 150 members were present, music and entertainment was furnished. Refreshments were served.

James F. Malone, of Pittsburgh Council, was the principal speaker. He complimented the trade board on the system they used in presenting improvement requests to City Council. Mr. Malone spoke on the Saw Mill Run boulevard, and announced that the awarding of the construction contracts will take place next month. U. Arthurs, engineer for the City of Pittsburgh, was the other speaker. President James T. Fox presided.

2 East End Wives Sue for Divorces

Lillian A. Clark 319 Coltart Square has filed a libel in divorce in Common Pleas Court charging her husband, Wilbert V. Clark with cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple separated about two years ago. Virginia Dale Hosmer 1326 Methyl street wants a divorce from Fred Hosmer. She charges cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married in 1909 and separated in 1928.

SaysTrolley Wrecked Cycle, Asks $15,000

Alleging that a car of the Pittsburg Railways Company ran into his motorcycle at Penn avenue and Twenty-ninth street December 14 and injured him badly, Anthony J. Stringer has brought suit against the company for $15,000 damages. He claims in his bill of particulars filed by Attorney Coleman Harrison that his back, legs and arms were hurt. It is alleged that the motorman of the car did not keep a proper lookout in its operation.

QUEST JUDGES QUALIFIED

Here they are—the judges of the local Typical American Girl contest. These judges, three in number, will select the girl who will go to New York to compete with 18 other girls from every section of the country.

A woman prominent in the district as a girl's worker and Girl Scout leader; a teacher of painting in Carnegie Institute of Technology; a nationally prominent sculptor and teacher whose work has put him in touch with every type of American. They are Mrs. Laura MacDonald, Prof. Norwood MacGilvary, Prof. Frank Vittor.

CARE IN SELECTION

In choosing these three judges, the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph had in mind the selection of the best possible authorities on the modern American girl. It was necessary to have at least one teacher as juror, so Prof. MacGilvary was approached by the Quest Editor and was so much interested in the Typical American Girl contest that he was glad to help in the judging.

An artist, too, was necessary to the completion of the jury. Frank Vittor, one of the country's more famous sculptors, evinced his willingness to co-operate with the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and is prepared to start work soon.

CLUBWOMAN CHOSEN

Mrs. MacDonald, a member of the Board of Directors of the Federation of Social Agencies, president of the Pittsburgh Girls' Conference, leader of the Girl Scouts of Allegheny County and prominent clubwoman, is acquainted with all the intricate "ins and outs" of the modern girl.

Send your nomination for the title of the Typical American Girl and the $5,000 prize to the Quest Editor at once, in order that she may be considered by these three judges soon after the contest closes on March 31.

Bellevue Aid to Hold Bake Sale

An all-day bake sale will be held in the Allegheny Market tomorrow by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church. Pies, cakes, cookies, doughnuts, rolls, bread and salads will be on sale. Mrs. H. W. Elverson is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Wylie L. Jones, Mrs. G. W. Seaman, Mrs. J. H. Caughey, Mrs. E. L. Kidney, Mrs. W. W. Weitneight, Miss Jennie Bruce, Mrs. S. C. Ross, Mrs. Frank Felton, Mrs. C. C. Phillips, Mrs. C. L. Jacobs and Mrs. C. W. Leib.

Rules of the Quest

1. This is a selective search, not a motion picture popularity or beauty contest. It is an honest and sincere effort to find the Typical American Girl.

2. A National Committee of Judges appointed by Smart Set will make the final decision and make the $5,000 award in New York, at a date set by the publisher of Smart Set Magazine. This committee is composed of Rosamond Pinchot Gaston, Vina Delmar, Jesse L. Lasky, John Golden, Guy Hopp, and Margaret Sangster, Editor of Smart Set, and a seventh member to be selected.

3. A local committee of judges appointed by each co-operating newspaper will select the regional winner.

4. A candidate cannot propose herself. She must be proposed by some individual or organization. This proposal must be sent to the Quest Editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

5. Each candidate's proposal must be accompanied by her photograph, biographical sketch, listing age, weight, height, coloring, education and her social, business and athletic activities. Her qualifications will be considered by the committee of judges appointed by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

6. The minimum age is 17.

GOOD FRIDAY PROCLAIMED BY BURGESS OF ETNA

A "Good Friday" proclamation has been issued by Burgess Roy S. Morton, of Etna, asking that business activities be suspended in so far as possible between noon and 3 p. m. today. The proclamation follows:

"Inasmuch as Friday, March 29 of this year marks the commemoration of the death of Christ our Savior, this should prove a day of devotion, prayer and thanksgiving for all of us.

"Therefore, I, Roy S. Morton, burgess of the Borough of Etna, Pennsylvania, do hereby request that, in so far as possible, all business activities be curbed between the hours of 12 noon and 3 p. m., and it is further requested that the people of this borough arrange to attend divine services at any of our local churches, either on that day or Easter Sunday, or both if at all convenient, as this season of the year should be observed as a very sacred one."

PLAN MOTHERS' BANQUET

The annual mother and daughter banquet of the Trinity Lutheran Church, Avalon, will be held next Thursday in the Sunday School rooms with an anticipated attendance of 300. Miss Abigail Jackson, a member of the faculty of Avalon High School, will be the speaker. Mrs. William Trimble, of Bellevue, will be the soloist. There will be several features on the program. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Elizabeth Hauser, Mrs. Charles Cost, Mrs. John Owston, Mrs. J. A. Hallewell, Mrs. Frank Niemeyer and Mrs. O. P. Springer.

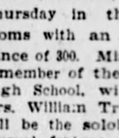
Poolroom Keeper Draws $25 Fine

John Mutich, 36, proprietor of a poolroom at 2330 Carson street, was fined $25 on a charge of keeping a gambling house by Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court yesterday. Six men arrested on a charge of visiting were discharged. The raid was made by Capt. Dennis Hennessey and squad at 3:15 a. m. yesterday, when playing cards and money were confiscated.

Will Hold Revival At North Braddock

Evangelistic services will begin Monday evening at the Brinton Avenue United Presbyterian Church of North Braddock, under the leadership of Evangelist D. M. Conn, a former member of the Dwight L. Moody group. The revival will be held every evening except Saturday.

Today's Flagism



It was on this date, 1638, that an expedition of Swedes under the leadership of Peter Minuit made the first settlement in what is now Delaware. Although the Swedes did not go far in their colonization projects in America, the small group which did come here was eventually fused into the mass of English, French and Spanish settlers, descendants of whom gave America its title of the world's "melting pot," with Old Glory in time coming to represent the land which was the haven for the oppressed races of the entire earth.

Says Wife Tapped Him on Head, Asks Divorce

Joseph F. Haas, Bellplain avenue, Carrick, who alleges that his wife tapped him on the head with a hammer resulting in suing his spouse, Anna, for divorce, is meeting opposition in his proceedings, the wife contesting the case on trial before Judge Harry H. Rowand.

Mrs. Haas denies that she was as rude as her husband claims. In the bill of particulars the husband alleges his wife called him "bad names." He also claims that in July, 1925, the respondent threatened to kill him; that on this particular occasion she was intoxicated. He also alleges that his wife remained away from home several days at a time and also hit him with a pot of hot water. Attorney William J. Graham represents Haas and Attorney David Turets appeared for Mrs. Haas.

AUTO VICTIMS ASK $35,000

Bessie Ewing Zeak and her husband, Paul Zeak, have brought suit against W. A. Nicholson for $35,000 damages for injuries to her spine, chest and shock to her nerves, the result of being hit by the defendant's car. In the bill of complaint filed in Common Pleas Court it is alleged she was waiting at Forbes street and Craft avenue August 26, to board a street car, when the defendant's car knocked her down. It is alleged that proper care was not taken in the operation of the automobile.

Good Friday Being Observed in Bellevue

Good Friday community services are scheduled from noon to 3 p. m. today by churches of Bellevue and Avalon in the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church. Pastors of the different churches were on the program for devotional addresses. Organ and vocal music will be rendered. The Rev. Raymond B. Drukker presided.

South Hills Youth Columbia Graduate

Hyatt Leamkey, 22, 1117 McNeilly avenue, Dormont, last night received his diploma from the dramatic school of the Columbia University, New York. Leamkey is a graduate from Schenley High School and King School of Knoxville. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Leamkey.

Wed Only 21 Days Spouse Told Her To Leave

After 21 days of married life, the matrimonial ship of Sara Thomas, 311 Windsor street, McKeesport, was wrecked, but she landed in divorce court yesterday to tell her troubles to Judge Josiah Cohen, sitting on the Common Pleas bench.

Her husband, Harry Thomas, the pretty brunette said, threatened her with a gun because of her refusal to comply with some of his wishes. So finally on the night before Christmas, December 24, 1928, he told her to pack her duds and go and she did.

COURT UPHOLDS PERMIT

Judge George V. Moore, of Common Pleas Court, has sustained the Board of Adjustment in ordering that a building permit be granted to L. C. Wick & Son for the construction of a garage, woodwork shop and warehouse in Bailey avenue, near Bigee street, Mt. Washington. Proceedings had been started by the United Presbyterian Congregation, T. H. Messer, Emma McKain and others to prevent the erection of the buildings on a lot having a frontage of 100 feet, alleging it was a violation of the city zoning ordinance. The city building inspector had refused to issue the permit for the structures and as a result an appeal was taken by Wick & Son, the board over-riding the decision of the building inspector. Court action was then taken to have the board's decision set aside, but without avail.

CAUGHT IN RAID, DISCHARGED

Patrolmen John Rodzevicus and Salvadore Oliver attached to the South Side police station, and assigned to plain clothes duty, raided a room in the Arthur Hotel, 2632 Carson street, Wednesday evening. They arrested Michael Torbich, 39, a guest, on a charge of keeping a gambling house, and six of his friends charged with visiting a gambling house. Yesterday Magistrate John J. Sweeney in South Side Police Court discharged Michael and his six friends.

Brookline Youth Attacked by Dog

Harry Zulauf, 10, 1081 Norwich street, was bitten on the left leg by a dog owned by J. R. Rose, 1054 Norwich street. The boy's wound was cauterized by Dr. H. H. Heinrick, 903 Brookline boulevard, and later taken to his home. Rose was notified by the Mt. Washington police to keep the dog tied up.

Wife Declares Her Husband Left [illegible]

Sarah Schwerm, 2748 Churchview avenue, Brentwood, wants a divorce from Albert L. Schwerm. They were married in 1924 and separated six months later. She charges desertion in the libel filed in Common Pleas Court.

ASKS WRIT TO GET PERMIT

Peter J. Glaser, who was refused a building permit to construct a store building in California avenue, Avalon, has asked for a writ of mandamus to compel the Borough of Avalon and the building inspector, Joseph N. Arthur, to issue it. The action was filed in Common Pleas Court before Judge James H. Gray.

It is averred in the proceedings that Glaser has complied with all of the borough regulations, the inspector refusing to issue the permit principally on the ground that neighbors objected to the erection of the structure. Glaser claims that the building inspector is without authority to refuse him the permit prayed for.

STONE THROWN HURTS BOY

South Side police are looking for a 16-year-old boy who last night threw a stone and injured Clifford Newton, 11, 53 South Twenty third street, causing a deep laceration in his scalp. The boy was taken to the St. Joseph's Hospital by his playmates, where two stitches were required to close the wound. After throwing the stone at the boys playing at South Brady and Sidney streets, the young man ran across the South Twenty-second Street Bridge.

Says Blow Broke Jaw, Asks $5,000

Robert Russ, McKeesport who claims that Andy Feola struck him on the jaw, March 24 last, fracturing the bone, has filed suit in Common Pleas Court for $5,000 damages. The men are employed in the plant of the McKeesport Tinplate Co. Russ alleges that he was assulted without provocation.

Carrick Mothers Postpone Meeting

Due to Holy Week and the coming Easter, an open house scheduled for Wednesday by the Mothers' Club of Carrick was postponed, it was announced by Mrs. William Colteryahn, chairman of hostesses for this month.

NEW BUILDING CODE URGED

A new building and plumbing code for Mt. Lebanon Township will soon be completed and presented to the township commissioners for their approval, it is announced.

The building and plumbing code committee consisting of five residents of the township, has been at work preparing the code for more than a year. They were appointed by the commissioners, and are serving without pay.

It was announced that drastic changes are proposed both in the building and plumbing, and according to R. Alex Willson, chairman of the committee, Mt. Lebanon will have one of the most modern codes for both steel and frame buildings in the United States.

The members of the committee are: Mr. Willson, chairman, home builder; Fred Landau, Landau Construction Company; Roy Clark, engineer, who has just completed the Koppers Building; J. S. McMichael, engineer on reinforced concrete, and E. B Bishop, master plumber and justice of the peace of Mt. Lebanon Township.

Mrs. Jane Shelby Dies at Braddock

Mrs. Jennie Shelby, 67, for 40 years a resident of the Braddock district, died yesterday in her home at 2305 Woodstock avenue, Swissvale. She was born in Freeport, Pa., in 1862. Mrs. Shelby, besides her husband, is survived by two sons, Clarence and David Shelby, and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Laurie, of Swissvale.

Funeral services will be held in the home Saturday afternoon with the Rev. W. O. Yates and the Rev. Duncan of the Swissvale Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Braddock Cemetery.

Auto Kills Husband, Widow Asks $35,000

Elizabeth Newberger, whose husband, John Newberger, was killed when struck by an automobile in Wilkins avenue, January 10, last, has filed a suit in Common Pleas Court against William C. Kirkpatrick demanding $35,000 damages as a result of his death. She alleges that the car was operated at high speed and was not under proper control of the driver at the time of the accident.

$10,000 BLAZE ON PENN AVE.

Fire in the wholesale jobbing house of Charles Masamed in a four-story loft building at 804 Penn avenue caused damage estimated at $10,000 today and prompted an investigation by Battalion Chief George Spahr into its origin.

The flames were confined to the floor occupied by Masamed, and the damage was chiefly to his stock of clothing and rubber goods. Smoke from burning rubber was a serious obstacle to firemen.

CARNEGIE TECH PRESIDENT INDORSES RADIO IN SCHOOL

The wonderful future of the radio in the class room is being recognized by many of Pittsburgh's prominent educators. As an aid to concentration and absorption, Dr. Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Tech, feels the radio receiving set is a great asset.

In a recent letter to the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Dr. Baker has this to say of the radio in school:

WORTH NOT REALIZED

"I am of the opinion that we are just beginning to realize the possibilities of the radio in education. I am convinced that it can be made of immense importance in the processes of teaching. It is possible to bring the personality and inspiration of a great teacher to thousands, one might say millions, who would not be able to come under the influence of this teacher in the classroom and lecture room.

"There is no reason why the radio could not be used. I shall follow with the greatest interest whatever is developed to make this marvelous scientific invention useful in our educational scheme."

Thus one of the foremost educators in the famous cultural center of Pittsburgh, recognizes the value of the radio as an aid to education. Dr. Baker joins with Dr. William M. Davidson, superintendent of schools, in acknowledging the potential place of radio in the school room.

CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY

The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, in conjunction with the Stanley Theaters, will soon begin a campaign to put the radio in every classroom in the city. With the support of the public and the enthusiastic co-operation of the school children, this plan to give Pittsburgh the aid of this advanced teaching method will prove successful.

This campaign, details of which will soon appear in this paper, has been widely heralded as one of exceptional merit. Follow what the leaders of Pittsburgh's educational institutions say about it in the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph each day.

Approves

DR. THOMAS S. BAKER

Dr. Baker, president, Carnegie Tech, is one of the many noted educators who believe that the radio will have a prominent place in the classrooms of the future.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, March 29.

What do you know about Mr. Hoover having to put a telephone in office of the President at the White House? Mr. Coolidge had been going down to the corner drug store to 'phone.

That's Mr. Coolidge, though. He just figured John Quincy Adams and Dolly Madison didn't have any, so the thought of putting one in never entered his mind. Here is another angle, too: Maybe he had one in and took it out with him when he left.

Fifteen Congressmen landed here from a wet port. They only searched one of their baggage and found four quarts. And the other 14 claimed immunity. And they shot a womag for having a little home-made wine.

Yours, WILL.

DRY CONDITIONS INTOLERABLE, SAYS RABBI

Enumerating "twelve intolerable conditions" caused by the Volstead Act, Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron in an address at Madison Avenue Synagogue, Baltimore, lately advocated an organized, diligent and unbiased study of the problem to determine what change might be brought about in the interest of temperance.

Rabbi Lazaron, who is a member of the executive board of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, an author and playwright, declared:

"All the forces of the country to which the present situation is abhorrent might well be co-ordinated. Existing organizations such as the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, the Moderation League, the Church Temperance Society, the Committee on Law Enforcement, the Constitutional Liberty League and similar groups—all those organizations which have been opposing the Volstead law might come together in conference.

"There should be included the great chain of Hearst newspapers now conducting a popular competition on the subject and representatives of all other papers interested."

'INTOLERABLE CONDITIONS'

Rabbi Lazaron cited "intolerance conditions" caused by the Volstead law as follows:

1—That the Volstead law has not reduced drunkenness; that the arrests for drunkenness are on the increase in the large centers of population.

2—That under the Volstead law the use of alcoholic beverages become more widely distributed. Deaths from acute alcoholism have risen to higher levels; the manufacture, conversion and diversion of industrial alcohol has greatly increased; the number of stills in supposedly dry states is considerably larger than before; the public taste is being converted from wines and beers to the use of hard liquors and that speakeasies abound in greater number than the old saloon.

COURTS CLOGGED

3—That as a result of the Volstead law the courts are clogged with prohibition cases and other important matters are perforce neglected.

4—That under the Volstead law the state has become the poisoner of its citizens and innocent people have been killed by the promiscuous and unwarranted use of the prohibition agent's revolver.

5—That the Volstead law has developed a system of spying, the use of agents provocateur, hitherto unheard of in our country, the fundamental safeguards of the citizen as guaranteed by the bill of rights have been destroyed.

6—That because of prohibition public officials have been corrupted and millions of honest men and good citizens have been made hypocrites and law-breakers.

PENALTIES TOO GREAT

7—That attempts to enforce the law have produced aggravated penalties out of all proportion to the crime committed. Violation of the Volstead law is made more heinous an offense than kidnapping a child or white slavery.

8—That directly caused by the restrictions of the Volstead law, men are drinking who never drank before and the habit has been taken up by women, youth and even children to the lowering of all hitherto accepted standards. Laxity and immorality have therefore increased.

9—Because the Volstead law violates the sense of rights of numerous individuals who refuse to abide by it, who flout and ridicule it, there has entered into our national thinking a dangerous disregard for all law.

10—The Volstead law has created a new and dangerous criminal class—rum-runners and bootleggers—whose activities are fostered by millions of people who resent the law.

CRIME SUBSIDIZED

11—The Volstead law has subsidized crime. The crime waves in New York and Chicago; the gangs, the racketeers, the bombings and murders are directly traceable to the influence of the law. The recent appalling slaughter of seven men in Chicago and the apparent inability of an indignant community to find the criminals or to do anything about it is an example of the power of criminals, their defiance of order and their threat to the nation. Two years ago the district attorney of Chicago declared that graft, protection money, bribery of officials paid $30,000,000 in that district alone.

12—That the Volstead law has brought into being a subtle and dangerous irritation and anger, dividing the citizens of the country unlike any issue since slavery. Feelings, deep and impassioned on both sides, are a menace to the continued unity of the nation.

Referring to the twelve "intolerable conditions," the rabbi said:

"They would seem to show an unwarrantable amount of evil in the effort to produce a certain amount of good. Drys and wets are unanimous in declaring that these conditions should not be permitted to continue."

AMENDMENT URGED

In part Rabbi Lazaron added:

"The shifting of the issue from the question whether the Volstead law is the best possible instrument to bring about temperance to a demand that the constitution be preserved has complicated the problem.

"While it is agreed that the preservation of the Constitution is of vital concern, it should also be urged that the heart of the controversy remains: Is the Volstead law the best instrument for temperance? And it may also be suggested that just because the Volstead law interpreting the Eighteenth Amendment is perhaps not the best law, it has brought disrespect for the Constitution.

"Amend the law, and not only the Constitution will be maintained, but the intolerable conditions may more easily be remedied.

'RELIGIOUS DOGMA'

"Aside from the paid propagandists, the bootleggers and the criminal elements that fatten off the situation, the people who want the Volstead law—and they are the vast majority of those who want it—want it from religious conviction.

"They admit the intolerable conditions, but to them the Volstead law is religious dogma. They are sincere. They believe in it. They believe the Volstead law will bring temperance.

"They do not seem to understand that the Volstead law is but one single instrument designed for that purpose; that if it fails, the people can create another. They insist upon the Volstead law. It is an article of religious faith. It must remain as the law of the land. Yet it is utterly and devastatingly true that their insistence represents a violation of the time-honored American ideal of the separation of church and state."

7 Rules for $25,000 Temperance Contest

The purpose of the contest is to obtain a practicable plan, as a substitute for prohibition, which will secure better actual temperance conditions, which will be more easily possible of enforcement by state and Federal authorities, which will offer less encouragement to crime and tend less to debauch the public service, and which will not so outrage and violate the fundamental rights and personal liberties of American citizens.

The rules and conditions of the contest are simple and are as follows:

1—Every person is entitled to enter the contest, but no one person may submit more than one plan.

2—The practicable plan proposed as a substitute for prohibition must be set forth in an article containing not more than 1,000 words.

3—This contest will close April 30, 1929, and no plan which has not been mailed and postmarked on or before that date will be considered.

4—The articles submitted in the contest will be judged by a committee of eminent Americans, the personnel of the committee to be announced at a later date.

5—The full prize of $25,000 will be awarded to the contestant submitting the best plan as a practical temperance substitute for prohibition.

6—If other plans not awarded the first prize shall still be considered worthy of some compensation by the committee, a second prize of $5,000 and other prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

7—Articles submitting a plan to be considered in this contest may be sent to the temperance contest committee, care of the editor of any one of the following Hearst newspapers: Albany Times-Union, Atlanta Georgian, Baltimore News, Boston Evening American, Chicago Herald and Examiner, Detroit Times, Los Angeles Examiner, New York American, Omaha Bee-News, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Rochester Journal, San Antonio Light, San Francisco Examiner, Syracuse Journal, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Washington Herald, Wisconsin News (Milwaukee).

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy, every mother should know about Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour-belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative, it acts gently but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding, and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you, FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y.

In buying, be sure to get genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

ASTROLOGY

WERE YOU BORN UNDER A LUCKY STAR?

Have you been successful in your business ventures? Are you happy in your marriage? Do you know your proper vocation in life? How about your health? Is it your intention to make any changes in the near future?

Have you often felt that you were capable of greater and better things? Are you waiting for "something" to happen that may change the whole course of your life—some turn of Fate that may take you out of your present surroundings to pursue your natural instincts and do the things you have so longed to do? When the planets are favorable, it is an easy matter to secure or hold a position; but when they are unfavorable, everything seems to go wrong.

In my Astrological Readings I endeavor to give you the exact days and dates when the planets are in a favorable or unfavorable aspect for business and social affairs such as signing papers and contracts, seeking employment, speculating, stocks and bonds, travel, love courtship and marriage, as well as dealing with health, accidents, lucky days, etc.

What a great comfort it would be for you to have a lengthy, detailed Astrological Reading placed at hand, to obtain advice on so many of the affairs of life—some that you could consult today and prepare for what is coming tomorrow.

My fee for an Astrological Reading covering 12 pages, is $1.00. Order now. It may change the whole course of your life. Enclose a $1 bill with your name, address and birthdate. You will be more than pleased.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Katherine Baldwin Porter And H. G. Walker to Wed April 20

TO BE witty, one must be abominably thoughtful; to be merry, one must be exhaustingly comfortable; but to be gay, one needs nothing at all, according to whimsical James Stephens. Don't you remember he referred to the French as the wits; the English, as the merry race; and the Irish, the gay? Well, the thought has occurred to me that the folks of the social world these last several months have been Celtic; for as far as social events are concerned, they've had a most frugal diet.

Easter is bringing us relief, we are all duly thankful. And in the meantime we are being very gay thinking about the good things in the way of entertaining the future holds for us.

And the springtime is the time of growth, and growth of such things as plans as well as of trees and grass and flowers. Wedding plans and debut plans are the chief fruits of spring in the social world, I've discovered.

EARLY April will bring weddings; late April, more weddings; May a goodly number, and June lots of them. One of the important weddings of late April will be that of Katherine Baldwin Porter, daughter of the John Ebbert Porters, of Sewickley, and Hartley Given Walker, son of the junior Hay Walkers, of Edgeworth. The date set is Saturday, April 20. Their engagement was announced in December. Within a few days, I believe I can tell you more about the wedding plans.

SO many debutantes are coming out next year that their fathers and mothers are finding difficulty in finding evening dates free of bud entertainments. Within a few weeks, though, plans for the debut season will have assumed a certain orderliness, I hope, and then we can tell you more about definite plans.

Ruth Drake, daughter of the J. Frank Drakes, of Pembroke place, will be one of the buds of next season, you know. And the Drake family within another year or so will have another young daughter to present, Virginia Drake. Ruth has just come back, by the way, from Europe, where she has been studying the last six months. Mrs. Drake has just returned from New York, where she went to meet her daughter, I've heard. Now that the family is reunited, we shall be hearing shortly of the date of Ruth's debut, I expect.

IT WILL be another month before Dr. and Mrs. Ogden M. Edwards will be home. They and their daughter, Katherine, are now in Lexington, Ky.

WILHELMINA ELIZABETH COYLE, daughter of the Dickson Kearns Coyles, of Wallingford street, has been home for the spring holidays and already has returned to her school, Westover.

DO you know that the junior Wallace Hurtte Rowes are back from their wedding trip? They arrived in the city yesterday, and will live in the Schenley Apartments. The Rowes will be out of town the week-end after Easter to attend a wedding—that of Josephine Marvel, daughter of the Roscoe A. Marvels, of Biltmore, Asheville, N. C., and Joseph Franklin Kuntz, Jr., son of Joseph Franklin Kuntz, of Center avenue, Schenley Farms, on April 6. Mr. Rowe will be one of the ushers, as I told you yesterday.

AMONG our visitors to New York this week are the Samuel Harden Churches, of Wallingford street, and the W. H. R. Hillards, who have been at the Barclay. Mrs. Jerome Hill, who has been at the Savoy-Plaza in New York, will leave today.

THE Clarence William Closes, of Marlboro avenue, have made known the marriage of their daughter, Anna Dauler Close, to Harry Kerr Runnette, son of the Charles Wilson Runnettes, of Roup street.

MRS. JOSEPH KANDELL, of Nicholson street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Edith Joan Kandell, to Philip J. Silberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Silberman, of the East End.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM J. LLOYD, of Greenfield, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen J. Lloyd, to Ralph L. Melaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Melaney, of the East End.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. WALTER C. SCHOFIELD, of Davis avenue, North Side, have made known the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ada Mildred Schofield, and Fred Martin, of Millersburg, O., which was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Schofield home by the Rev. G. B. Tejan. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home after May 1 in Millersburg.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES LEWIS CORDES, of Cleveland, formerly of Bellevue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Martha Anne Cordes, to Peter Burt Howell, of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Howell, of Chemung, N. Y. A fall wedding is planned.

THE marriage of Miss Betty Elkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elkin, of Wilkinsburg, and Douglass H. Newlands, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex L. Newlands, of Edgewood, was solemnized last night at 6:30 o'clock in Calvary Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg, by the Rev. A. C. Busch. The bride wore white georgette with a picture hat of white horsehair braid and tulle, and she carried pink and white roses. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Milton Cross, appeared in hydrangea blue georgette with hat to match, and her flowers were pink tea roses. Paul Magill, of Wilkinsburg, was best man and the wedding music was played by the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Harold T. Latham. A reception in the Penn Lincoln Hotel followed the ceremony and later Mr. and Mrs. Newlands left for an eastern trip. They will be at home in Wilkinsburg after April 15.

THE Social Order of the Beaucant, Pittsburgh Assembly No. 47, will hold a card party Wednesday night, May 1, in the Pittsburgh Athletic Club. Mrs. Charles Hedges is chairman, with Mrs. Duane Taylor as vice chairman.

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY'S post-Lenten season will open Tuesday night with the annual reception and card party in the Hotel Schenley. Henry B. Stafford is general chairman of the affair, which is in charge of the Students' Activities Association. Miss Helene McCarten is chairman of patronesses.

STERLING COURT, No. 50, Order of the Amaranth, will hold a bake sale tomorrow in the Allegheny market.

Congress of Clubs To Honor President

THE reception to the president, Mrs. Carl E. Cosiowsky, is the high light on next month's Congress of Clubs calendar. The reception is set for the 15th, the hours being from 2 until 5 o'clock. Next week's affairs at the clubhouse include the luncheon to club presidents sponsored by the American home department and the luncheon of the ways and means department, both on Monday, the home department's luncheon meeting on Friday and the ways and means department's card party on the same day. The departments of legislation and education will meet together for luncheon April 10, the department of welfare on the 15th, the fine arts department April 16, the department of literature following two days later and the department of health the next day. The department of music will sponsor a choral recital on the evening of the 19th and will hold its monthly luncheon on the 24th, the drama department meeting the next day and the annual meeting on the 26th rounding out the full schedule.

MEMBERS of Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, had ample evidence of the fruit of their labors yesterday when one of their 21 Children of the Republic Clubs, the Elizabeth Hillman Club of Beechview, came avisiting. These 65 girls gave a demonstration of a meeting from roll call to the close of business and then three of them impersonating George and Martha Washington and Beasy Ross, gave a short program of entertainment. The Twentieth Century Club Choral, under Mrs. Anna Laura Cree's direction, sang two groups of numbers and after the program there was tea in the upper room. The young guests were served a special repast at two long tables and were presented with chocolate Easter eggs. Mrs. H. P. Davis and Mrs. Josel Burdick presided at the tea table.

MEMBERS of the University of Pittsburgh Women's Association are making plans for their annual bridge for the benefit of the university student loan fund, to be held Saturday evening, April 6, at the Faculty Club. Mrs. G. D. Beal, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John Hallock and Mrs. S. J. Lockner, co-chairman. Other members of the card group who are assisting the committee include Mrs. E. R. Weidlein, Mrs. E. W. Tillotson, Mrs. J. C. Donaldson and Mrs. E. R. Harding.

ANNA MARGARET RUDOLPH, Mary Garrett and Virginia Crawford will give readings, Cecilia Namara will sing, Mrs. Carl Morneweck and Miss Estella Smith will present duets and Mrs. Morneweck and Mrs. Josephine Stewart, solos, at the meeting of the Women's Community Association in the John Morrow School on Monday night. The choir from St. Alexander's Russian Church and a men's quartet will also contribute to the program.

DOROTHY PARKER and Henry Ladd, members of the cast, and Paul Purnell, musical director of "The Connecticut Yankee," playing at the Alvin this week, and Miss Jane Hawthorne, of the "Macbeth" company, which will be at the Nixon next week, were guests of the drama department of the Congress of Clubs at luncheon yesterday. Each one contributed a bit of talk or music to the program, the chief feature of which was his own adaptation of "Abraham Lincoln," by Elbert R. Moses, of the Pittsburgh School of Speech. Hostesses were Dr. Zoe Allison Johnston, Mrs. Frank B. Saunders, Mrs. J. W. Young, Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Willis Fish.

MEMBERS of Dolly Madison Chapter, Daughters of 1812, will be entertained at luncheon in the Ruskin Apartments Monday by Mrs. E. M. Davis, a reception for new members following luncheon. The chapter will place a clock in national headquarters in Washington as a memorial to Mrs. Sullivan Johnston, one of the early members.

PUBLICITY meetings in the interest of the Pittsburgh Week for the Blind (April 16-19) will be held as follows: Monday at 1:30 o'clock in the Western Pennsylvania School for the Blind; Tuesday at 2 in the P. C. C. W. Council House, and Thursday in the School for the Blind at 10 o'clock.

* * *

AN open meeting will be held on Tuesday evening in Utility Hall by the Pittsburgh Girls' Club. The entertainment committee under the chairmanship of Miss Catherine Rectenwald will present the program.

Learn to Earn From Patrons, Bankers Told

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—Bankers, full of sage advice for their customers yesterday were advised by Craig B. Hazelwood, of Chicago, president of the American Bankers' Association, to turn to these same customers for advice on their own problem of declining profits. Mr. Hazelwood addressed the clearing house section of the American Bankers' Association attended by about 1,000 bankers from 20 Mississippi Valley states.

He advised that bankers apply to their own business the scientific management methods which industry has employed so successfully in combating declining profits and said the place to learn of these methods was from the bank's own customers who have employed them. Profits hinge on nothing so much as management, he said, adding that while Middle Western banks have increased gross profits greatly in recent years, net profits have lagged behind.

CONGRESS GETS LITTLE AID IN FARM PLAN

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Unaided either by the White House or "big business," the Senate and House agriculture committees were struggling along today with the "white elephant" of Congress—a new farm relief bill.

The congressional committees faced a difficult task, due to the apparent lack of interest on the part of "big business," the decision of President Hoover not to interfere with the drafting of agricultural legislation, and the wide disagreement revealed among spokesmen for farm organizations over the method of relief required.

PROBABLE PROVISIONS

A bill, devoid of the equalization fee, but carrying specific provision for government aid in handling surplus crops, undoubtedly will be drawn at both ends of the Capitol.

Spokesmen for the farm organizations revealed that even the farmers themselves are not in accord over the proposed legislation.

The American Farm Bureau federation held out for the equalization fee. A group of co-operative associations suggested changes in the federal land bank system, which would give farmers actual control of these banks and their great credit facilities. The Grain Grower's associations of mid-western states, opposed the equalization fee and called for easier credit facilities so they could carry on their own operations with government aid. The existing co-operatives protested against increasing their number, but asked government aid for themselves.

TO START IN SENATE

Out of this vortex of contrary proposals, the two committees will have to draft bills, acceptable not only to farmers, but to the Hoover administration as well.

Administration leaders have announced they favor starting the farm bill in the Senate. This would enable them to give the House's undivided attention to the new tariff bill during the first month of the session. Then, the administration leaders plan an exchange of the bills.

Brookhart and Kelly To Address Veterans

United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, and Congressman Clyde Kelly will be the speakers at the Appomattox Day banquet of Capt. A. B. Campbell Camp No. 99, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, it was announced today. The banquet will be held April 9, in the Penn-McKee Hotel, McKeesport.

PITTSBURGHER IN RADIO DEBATE ON SCHOOL SPORTS

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—In a radio debate last night a Yale University student upheld the affirmative and a Lafayette College student the negative of the question, "Are Athletes Conducive to Good Scholarship?" The debate was broadcast over the National Broadcasting System.

Winslow Leighton, captain of the Yale debating team, said that "the universities of today do not tolerate lazy and stupid athletes," and that scholastic standings were higher under the present system of intercollegiate athletics than they would be without the system.

Thomas Pomeroy, of Pittsburgh, a Lafayette debater, said that only a few students, who in many cases were paid to play, participated in college athletics, and that the education of the non-participants suffered because they devoted too much time to following the fortunes of the teams.

There was no decision.

U. S., GERMANY TO ARGUE WAR BLAST CLAIM

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP). — American and German agents before the mixed claims commission plan to lay the $24,000,000 sabotage claims of the United States against the government of Germany before the commission next Wednesday.

The claims are for damages for fires and explosions at the Lehigh Valley Railroad Terminal, Black Tom, near Jersey City, N. J., in 1916, and at the assembly plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, at Kingsland, N. J., in 1917. In these disasters, several millions of dollars' worth of munitions and other property was destroyed, some of which was not owned by Americans.

Written evidence which has been collected by the two governments since the claims were filed, in 1922, would fill several trunks. The claimants' contentions on the liability of Germany alone fill 3,000 printed pages.

Robert W. Bonynge, American agent, will present oral arguments for the plaintiffs asserting that the explosions were caused by parties acting on behalf of the imperial German government, as a part of the efforts of Germany to interfere with or prevent sending of munitions and other war material to Germany's enemies in Europe.

Dr. Karl Von Lewinski, German agent, will deny responsibility of Germany in the disasters, claiming that their origin was due either to spontaneous combustion, negligence or, in the case of the Kingsland fire, to an industrial accident or other unknown causes which can not be attributed to an act by Germany.

Former Manitoban Premier Dead at 73

WINNIPEG, March 29.—(AP.)—Sir Hugh John MacDonald, former premier of Manitoba, died today, aged 73. He had been ill for four weeks.

Hoover Honorary Head of Boy Scouts

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS.)—President Herbert Hoover has been honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America ever since his inauguration on March 4, it was revealed by scout headquarters. Acceptance of the honor was delayed in order to avoid publicity. As is the case with the Red Cross, all presidents become honorary presidents of the Boy Scouts.

23 OF 25 VENIREMEN WET IN JUDGE'S TEST BALLOT

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—Twenty-five veniremen in the Superior Court of Judge Joseph B. David, opponent of prohibition, yesterday had an opportunity to vote on repeal of the prohibition amendment and enforcing acts. They voted 23 to 2 against prohibition as it exists.

The veniremen were gathered in the jury box waiting to be excused when a government agent entered the room and was noticed by Judge David.

"You, sir," roared the court, "who are you?"

"Just a government agent," came the reply.

"Bah," shouted the judge. "One of these prohibition agents, I suppose?"

"No, sir," replied the official, "just a revenue agent."

"That," replied Judge David, "is a good thing for you. I want you to know that the people of this country are unalterably opposed to prohibition. We have here in this room 25 representative men of the community and the country. Their opinion is an indication of the opinion of the country. Gentlemen, if you could vote on the subject of prohibition, how many of you would vote against it?"

After the vote was taken, the judge smiled triumphantly at the federal officer.

THEOLOGIAN SEES PEACE HOPE IN CHURCH UNION

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—Dr. Shailer Matthews, dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago and chairman of the Universal Religious Peace Conference, which meets in 1930, was guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon given by the Church Peace Union.

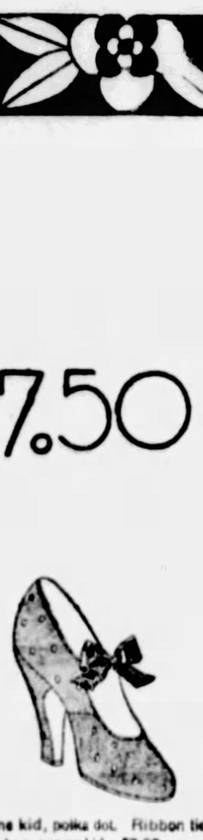
Discussing the proposed conference, Dean Matthews said:

"Religions must themselves be converted if they are to be sources of international peace. The fact that representatives of different religions feel this and that their religions can contribute to peace rather than to enmity is a most encouraging pact.

"This universal religious peace conference marks out a new technique for the relations and religions to each other. Its motto is co-operation rather than conversion.

"If, as it appears, there are persons of different faiths who believe that their religions can further international peace and good will, this conference will be a place where that belief can find expression in the discussion of practical methods rather than of philosophical differences."

"The fact that so many hundreds of men of all religions are ready to co-operate along these lines is a most hopeful sign of the time."



NEW Verner Debutante Models

Menu for Sunday's Dinner

By PRUDENCE PENNY

Pear Cocktail.
Spring Lamb en Casserole.
Celery Salad.
Broccoli with Hollandaise Sauce.
Baked Rice.
Pineapple Sponge.

THE pear cocktail is a little different from most cocktails and therefore most welcome. Cut the pears into small balls with a potato cutter, or cut them into cubes. Put into cocktail glasses and cover with grape juice. Chill and serve.

For the lamb en casserole, cut thick slices of a leg of lamb and sear, browning both sides. Brush with melted butter and place in a casserole with one-half to one cup of brown stock. Cook until tender; then add potato balls, carrot balls and onions, which have been previously cooked. Add more brown stock, salt, pepper and paprika.

BROCCOLI is delicious with a hollandaise sauce, which is made by melting ½ cup butter over hot water. Beat 2 egg yolks and 1 tablespoon lemon juice until very light, then add the butter gradually, beating constantly.

Add ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika and pour it over the broccoli, which you have washed and picked over and cooked in as little water as possible for 20 minutes. Season the broccoli to taste, and you have a most edible vegetable.

The baked rice is made by putting ¾ of a cup of washed rice in a baking dish with a quart of boiling water and ¾ teaspoon salt. Cover, bake in oven and remove when tender.

NOW for a most delicious dessert, the pineapple sponge. Soak 1 tablespoon of gelatine in 2 tablespoons of cold water, then dissolve it over hot water. Gradually add 1½ cups of pineapple juice from the canned pineapple with enough water to make 1½ cups.

Add ¼ cup sugar and stir until the sugar is dissolved, then add 1½ tablespoons lemon juice, salt. Put this in a cool place and when it begins to thicken add two-thirds cup pineapple cubes and pile lightly into dessert glasses.

And we'll finish our dinner with cream mints, which you'll agree is a very nice way of finishing any dinner! Put 1½ cups sugar, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon white corn syrup into a saucepan. In measuring, use all the syrup that clings to the spoon. Stir until well mixed, bring to the boiling point, then boil without stirring to 238 degrees F., or until the syrup will spin a long thread.

SLIGHTLY beat the white of an egg, continue beating with the egg beater while the syrup is being poured in a slow, fine stream upon it. Continue beating until the mixture is stiff enough to keep its shape, using a wooden spoon when the beater becomes too difficult.

Add four drops of oil of peppermint or wintergreen, put into a pastry bag, and force through a rose tube into separate roses, an inch in diameter at the base and a half inch thick in the center. The mints should be soft and creamy, and slightly dry.

To Avoid Grease Film on China or Glassware

Simple New Way Does Wonders and Is Kind to Pretty Hands—Use Any Kind of Soap

Even the most inexpensive table china and glassware can be made to look far better than its price in a simple way. It can be given the brilliancy and sparkle of the most costly kinds; and glassware particularly is judged by its sparkle.

Simply add one teaspoonful of the cleansing preparation called CLIMALENE to your water. Use the same soap you ordinarily do, but use only ONE-FOURTH the usual quantity. Wash as usual.

This preparation is a grease dissolvent, while soap is, strictly speaking, a grease. Thus it gives shine and sparkle, while soap often leaves a greasy film that's hard to get rid of even with the most careful drying.

Most hotels use this method to make glass and china gleam. Housewives like it not only for this reason, but because it acts to soften and whiten skin fabric of the hand.

Results are surprising. Try it. Get at any grocery store in 10c or 25c package. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

of an enticing chocolate layer cake, its creamy layers marked off by a wavering line of chocolate filling, its sides and top thick with rich, butter-smooth icing; or a pictured lemon meringue pie, its golden tangy filling topped with a brown-flecked, creamy stiffly-whipped bit of richness, can do much toward putting an appetite where there was none before!

Let's go on a baking-bee! But first I must tell you my secret of successful cake-baking. I like self-raising flour of a particular kind—because then I NEVER have a cake failure! It does give the most satisfactory results, and I am so proud of my cakes when they turn out beautifully.

Here are some excellent recipes:

SOFT BLACK CHOCOLATE CAKE—Beat four eggs three minutes. While beating continuously add slowly one cup of sugar. Now add a cup of the self-raising flour, which, by the way, requires no baking powder, since that has already been incorporated, add two tablespoons of melted shortening, two to three squares of melted chocolate, and a half teaspoon of vanilla. Beat until smooth. Bake in (340 to 370 degrees Fahrenheit) for from 20 to 25 minutes. Ice and cut in squares or triangles. This recipe will make 14 two-inch squares.

CHOCOLATE MARSHMALLOW ROLL—Bake just one-half the recipe already given for the soft black chocolate cake in a pan about 8 by 12 inches, so that it will be thin enough to roll. While the cake is hot turn onto a waxed paper, cut the crust from the edges, spread with marshmallow cream filling and roll exactly as you would a jelly roll. When cold ice with a chocolate icing.

MARSHMALLOW CREAM FILLING—Cut each marshmallow into four or five pieces, allowing about a quarter pound of them. Whip a cup of cream and then beat the marshmallows into the cream. If sugar is desired sweeten to taste.

CREAM PUFFS—Put a half cup of butter and a cup of boiling water in a saucepan, and bring to the boiling point. Sift in a cup of self-raising flour; beat vigorously. When the mixture forms a ball and does not stick to the sides of the pan (about two minutes), remove from the stove and allow it to cool for two or three minutes.

Beat in three eggs, one at a time. When the mixture is thoroughly beaten, drop by tablespoonfuls on a greased baking sheet, about an inch and a half apart, shaping with the spoon into mounds about two inches in diameter.

Brush with beaten egg diluted in a little milk. Bake in a moderate oven for about 35 minutes. When baked and cool, make a small slit at one side, open and fill. Whipped cream makes a delicious filling, and so does ice cream, though a plain cream or a chocolate cream filling may be used, if desired.

PRUNE PUDDING—Pick over and wash a half pound of prunes, then soak them over night in cold water. Boil until soft; remove the stones, add a cup of sugar or syrup, the juice and rind of half a lemon, an inch of stick cinnamon and one and three-quarter cups of boiling water. Let simmer for 15 minutes. Mix one-third cup of cornstarch with enough cold water to pour easily, add to the cooked prune mixture and cook five minutes. Remove the cinnamon stick. Place in a mould and chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

COFFEE DROPS—Cream three tablespoonfuls of shortening and add a cup of sugar. Add a beaten egg, a half cup of molasses and a half cup of hot coffee in which a teaspoon of soda has been dissolved. Mix and sift together two and one-half cups of flour, half teaspoon of cinnamon, half teaspoon of allspice, and add to the wet mixture, stirring well. Add a half cup of raisins and a quarter cup of chopped walnuts, and mix well. Drop by teaspoonful on buttered tins and bake in a hot oven.

PRUNE CAKE—Soak and steam a half pound of prunes until tender. Cool, pit and chop coarsely. Make a batter as follows: Two and one-half cups of flour sifted with one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon of soda, one-quarter teaspoon of salt, one-half teaspoon of nutmeg and one-half teaspoon of cinnamon. Then add the prunes and one and one-half cups of sugar. Stir in one cup of thick, sour cream and two well-beaten eggs. Add one-quarter cup of melter butter. Pour into a greased pan and bake in a moderate oven one hour. When nearly finished sprinkle with granulated sugar and place at the top of the oven to glaze. This cake is best served warm.

GINGERBREAD made with buttermilk is marvelous. Serve it for lunch, with milk; or as a dessert, with a spoonful of whipped cream heaped on top of it. This batter may be mixed up ahead of time, and it will keep most satisfactorily for several days in the icebox. In this way it may be baked when needed, and served fresh and hot.

BUTTERMILK GINGERBREAD—One cup of butter, one cup sugar, one egg, one cup molasses, one cup buttermilk, one and one-half teaspoons soda, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cloves, one and one-half teaspoons ginger, three cups flour.

Cream the butter and sugar. Add the egg, well beaten, the molasses and the buttermilk. Sift the dry ingredients together and add to the first mixture. Bake in buttered tins in a moderate oven. Bake it either as a loaf, or in the shape of drop cookies.

The BROADWAY MELODY by Jack LAIT

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Eddie Kerns, song plugger, has written the music for "The Broadway Melody," a big revue to be produced by the famous Zanfield. For two years Eddie has been engaged to "Hank" Mahoney and now he sees his way clear to marry her. She and her younger sister, Queene, are playing in vaudeville and Eddie summons them to New York and tells them he has managed to place them in the revue. They are overjoyed, but Eddie suddenly discovers that he's lost his heart to Queenie who has developed into a startling beauty in the two years since he saw her last. He keeps his secret from "Hank" and the girls turn down a long vaudeville contract for a chance to make good in the revue. Zannie, after seeing the "Mahoney Sisters" perform, decides that he could only use Queenie. She, however, appeals to him to also give her sister a chance in the show. He consents. "Hank" believes that she put it over. During a dress rehearsal Eddie shows the sisters the big ad in the newspaper announcing their coming to Broadway. When Hank kisses Eddie, Queenie cries.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER V.

THE Great Zanfield fought his way "out front"—in the auditorium. He threw aside the long strips of cloth which covered all the seats to save them against the ravages of a theater during dress rehearsal, when no-smoking rules are as sacred as the Volstead Act. He wanted to see the effect of the lighting on the "Love Boat" tableau at enough distance to reveal the blend of colors from spotlights, footlights, overhead strips, strip lights within the prosceniun, side lights thrown from the wings, baby spots rigged in the footlight gutter.

The costumer waddled up to him and asked him to O. K. a bill. Zannie glanced at it carelessly, then straightened up. It called for a fortune in payment for a Russian sable wrap to be worn by Miss Starr, the famous beauty with the face of a madonna, the form of a nymph and the brains of a goose. Zannie was about to utter epithets of indignation when he became aware of the entrance of his three "angels" — Francis Warriner, Steward (appropriately known as "Stew") Worthington, and a lumpy-looking rounder familiar to all crack chorines, head waiters, doormen and entertainers throughout the white light and night light regions as Babe."

It was Babe who was crushed on Miss Starr, and who had enlisted the other two millionaires, with visions of backstage privileges and entree to the cuties as insiders, so that they pooled something more than a quarter of a million dollars to bankroll "Broadway Melody." It wasn't any too much; such enterprises require more, frequently.

Babe was all a-beam. Zannie scribbled his voucher on the bill. Babe slapped Zannie on the back and asked how things looked. Zannie nodded —things looked fine. The backers grouped themselves about the producer and turned to the stage, trying to look wise, professional and critical. The living picture poser was placing a dozen semi-nude girls on niches over the vo- uously tinted and fantas- illuminated scenic Its shimmering surface almost dazzling. Zannie shouted an occasional order— to move someone that way, or to shift a ray of light or shade its color by adding or subtracting a tinted gelatin on its lens.

The girl at the apex of the tall prow—star exhibit of the group, cupped her hands and called to the director—

"Say—I've been standing up here over an hour, taking this light bath—I'm hot and dizzy—make up your mind, will you?"

She drew a sharp "Shut up," and Eddie Kerns, from somewhere in the dark, joshing, called up, "Oh, you hot momma." Hank and Queenie came on just then from the dressing room entrance, accompanied by an elderly character actor rigged up as a butler, who was assuring them that he had been on the boards 40 years, had played all sorts of roles of his creation in all styles of shows, and he had never been in one he felt surer of than this one —and that they looked charming—gorgeous—

Hank wore a tinsled soubrette costume expressing pep, modernity and flapperhood; Queenie represented an old-fashioned girl, but her gown was transparent and beneath it she wore almost nothing. Eddie started to admire her appearance when a sudden scream, a bustle of confusion, a rush toward stage center stopped everything else. The girl on the prow had toppled off and plunged 30 feet to the floor. Her stunned, bruised, almost unclad form lay in a heap. Husky hands lifted her and carried her off. "Get a doctor —and notify the insurance agent," shouted the company manager.

Zannie pressed his lips, shook his head and muttered —"Why do these things always have to happen to ME?"

The stage manager clapped his hands, staccato and resounding.

"Everybody in place—ready—we go in one minute —orchestra! props! flymen! lights! performers! chorus! everybody—stand by—CURTAIN!"

The oleo slowly descended, leaving the auditorium in total darkness. The army of more than a hundred people sprang, shuffled or ran to positions. The leader raised his baton with the tiny bulb at its peak, held it for a telling second, then brought it down, and the overture was on. The mechanical crew behind the curtain line, up in the dizzy flies, at the switchboards, in the light boxes, at posts behind the opening scenery and stacking in strategic locations for lightning shifts the items for the set to follow.

The chorus girls were lined up in crowded formation in the entrances. Principals stood upstage, huddled together. The chief electrician, with his hands on master switches, leaned forward like a tiger about to spring. The orchestra went into an agitato, heavy on the strings—and the curtain slowly ascended.

It was a scene of Broadway. A replica of the front of the theater with a twinkling sign, "Broadway Melody," lifted almost immediately, disclosed the lobby and box office. Eddie Kerns was hawking tickets, ballyhooing. The cast trooped past him, as ticket buyers. As the last one walked off, the Mahoney Sisters danced on, one from each one, meeting center and "going into" their opening number.

It seemed to Eddie, who stood, panting and perspiring offstage, that the girls were at their peak; he had never seen them look so lovely or work so smoothly and sweetly; in a moment now they would reach the peak stuff and their dancing double, and then Zannie would—

Zannie didn't wait until then. He walked down the aisle to directly behind the leader and called to the stage manager—

"Too slow! Cut out this specialty—go on with the act."

The orchestra stopped midbar. Hank and Queenie, flooded with light, cut down as by a bolt from nowhere, halted, looked bewildered at one another, dropped their chins. Hank, the courageous, pulled herself together and, shielding her eyes with one hand from the fierce spotlights, peered into the long house, where she could see nothing.

"Does that mean we's out of the show, Mr. Zanfield. "We have Equity contracts—"

"Into the next number—go ahead," called Zannie—not to her.

The runner-curtain drew together. Hank, seeing she would be left on the apron, staggered back at a sharp "Look out there!"

Eddie was going on. He couldn't stop to sympathize, advise or lament. Hank heard the blonde cut-up of the chorus snickering. She flung her a dirty look.

"One more out for you, dearie," chortled the blonde, "an' you'll be holdin' a spear."

"One more crack out o' you," snapped Hank, "an' you'll be holdin' a lily."

Kerns was into his song. He heard the quarreling behind him. But he had to concentrate. Suddenly he stopped —cold. He walked to the foots and cried to Zannie—

"He's drownin' me out again, Mr. Zanfield—that wop leader—he's been doin' that ever since we begun rehearsals an'—"

"Are you drowning him out?" demanded Zannie.

"I'm doing my best, Mr. Zanfield," the conductor answered.

Eddie started an argument, the leader answered, someone came down and whispered to Zannie that he was wanted on the long distance—and they were left to dispute it out. "Go on with the number," cried the stage manager. And on it went, this time with no debates, though the two artists glowered at one another.

When Zannie came back, a few minutes later, the love boat was just being pushed on, with an amazing effect of gliding on the waves, not a creak from its ball-bearing casters. On the prow sat the girl who had been chosen to replace the one who had fallen. Zannie glanced expertly over the whole scene, and his eyes wandered to the prow. He shut them, opened them again, and exclaimed with a pained shrill:

"She looks like my mother-in-law!"

The posing director threw up his hands in defense. "What could I do?" he wailed. Stage hands were already helping down the hysterical girl who was sobbing loudly. Zannie was biting his cigar. "Hey," he shouted, with sudden inspiration, "where's that little blonde—that Maginnis sister — use her."

"The name's Mahoney," yelled Hank from somewhere out of sight.

"Whatever the name is, put her in the scene," ordered Zannie.

The wardrobe mistress, without further ceremony, was stripping the fully, flimsy drapes from the weeping, humiliated, chagrined girl, and her assistant, without as much as by-your-leave, was taking the costume off Queenie, paying no heed to who might see.

As they hastily but meticulously fashioned and fastened the veilings on Queenie, the head woman said, speaking through a mouth full of pins:

"You got a break, youngster . . . the girl on the love boat'll be the girl o' the year on Broadway . . . an' when Zannie picks a girl for the high spot o' one o' his revues, she always marries a millyunaire . . ."

She was fastening the wig on her now, a symbolic ravishing thing.

Zannie by now was fuming:

"Come on—get that girl up—is this going to take all night? This dress rehearsal costs $300 an hour—can't I get anybody with brains and with less than five thumbs on each hand? Give me some action."

Four men were lifting Queenie to the bottom of the shrewdly concealed steps behind the profile boat. Eddie stood below, to catch her if she fell. As she came into range of the bedizening lights he caught the beauty of her face and figure, displayed where the skill and artistry and money and imagination of the crew of trained, practiced, miracle-workers of the stage combined to glorify her.

And he gasped. His heart pumped as though it would burst. He could scarcely tear his eyes from the intoxicating vision. And when he did, they found Hank—looking up with tears trickling down her painted cheeks.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl :-: Story by Lloyd Mayer :-: By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I'm on the VERGE of collAPSE, no less! I mean I could ACtually weep COpiously at this point because I'm TOO upSET about ARab, my dear, because BULL brought him round to SEE me and declared in tones of the UTmost conCERN that Arab had been ALternately LAUGHing and BAWling piteously ever since BASil and I announced our engAGEment, my dear—can you COPE with it? And, my dear, the WORST part of it IS that it's ALL too TRUE because there he was, my dear, with BULL clutching him FIRMly, and FIRST off Arab would SHRIEK with MIRTH and then all of a sudden start CRYing luGUBriously! Actually, my dear, you've never obSERVED anything QUITE so rePELlent and all, but I feel TOO depressed about the situation, my dear, because in a WAY I feel AWfully reSPONsible, sort of, only how can I help it, do you know what I mean? Well, ANYways, my dear, I give you my WORD I was so TOUCHED or something by this paTHETic little SCENE effect that I ACtually enVELoped the odd soul in my arms and sought VAINly to COMfort him in his afFLICtion and all—can you BEAR it, my dear? But I VOW this being enGAGED business has me comPLETEly baffled and nonPLUSSED, my dear, because I ASK you, why in HEAVens' name does everybody go ROUND on the VERGE of TEARS all the entire time, screaming WILDly about feeling so HAPpy about it and all, my dear? GOSH, I'm PRACticably ready to go MAD and BITE myself about the situation at this point, my dear—I mean I ACtually AM!"

Honor Bound By EFFIE DELNORD Daily Short Story

MELFORD'S swift side glance at Ina depressed him further. Ten years ago he might not have minded, but now with the hard, regular scallops of her hair diagonally across her forehead and that smug, grasping expression in her steel-gray eyes he felt like the burnt offering for Aunt Sara's tenacious hold on life. He could not quite smother a groan.

Ina, misunderstanding, leaned forward and patted his hand. Her fingers were cold and he shivered. "Don't you worry, Mel," she comforted him, "what we agreed to years ago stands. I'm not the kind to go back on my word."

Her self-confidence irritated him. Why was she so sure Aunt Sara had left everything to her? Patronizing, that's what she was, assuring him that she would marry him even if Aunt Sara didn't leave him a cent. Aunt Sara had been a shrewd, practical old woman and certainly she must have seen that eager, calculating look in Ina's eyes. The way Ina had raced down to Timber Hill every time Aunt Sara had a bronchial attack. Of course, he had come, too, but that was different. He felt in case anything happened a man was needed. He and Ina were the only heirs, though Aunt Sara had told them more than once that she would leave her money intact to just one of them.

"Mr. Reed must be here any minute to read the will," Ina flushed. "He's late now. I hope he isn't named executor. I'll never get along with him."

Melford forced a short laugh. He was trying to see the funny side of it—Ina so perfectly confident that everything would be left to her. As a matter of fact he was sure that Aunt Sara had been a little disgusted with Ina when years ago the girl had turned down the man she loved simply because Aunt Sara objected.

Well, the man had married somebody else and Walford had returned from France with all his limbs but minus a good portion of his vitality. He could hold a position just so long, then he needed a vacation. Some of the corporations did not understand and others rather welcomed the opportunity to reduce their force. It meant that twice a year Melford had to find a new job.

"I wonder," Ina speculated, "if she left Mrs. Stickles anything. She seemed sort of fond of her. Eight years is a long time and Aunt Sara wasn't easy to handle. I think she deserves a few thousand. The fact is, I rather like Mary Stickles."

He resented Ina liking Mrs. Stickles. This liking his aunt's nurse was an entirely private, hopeless secret that he had kept locked in his heart for years. "Oh, I don't know," he managed indifferently.

"You're very heartless and unjust," Ina told him sharply. "Mary Stickles did everything for Aunt Sara, all her bookkeeping and what not. Without Mary's nursing Aunt Sara never would have lived to be ninety. Besides, she hadn't it easy, either. Left a widow at twenty-one, and going out to work. It hasn't hardened her."

Hardened her! Mrs. Stickles, who was all soft curves and melting brown eyes that suggested a twinkle of mirth. Melford wondered if he could stand Ina for the rest of his life. If it were not for these awful inevitable vacations! How many times he had racked his brain for a way out of it all. Even now he wondered if he offered Ina half of the fortune Aunt Sara was sure to leave to him would do it? Something told him it would not. Ina wanted a husband and he was honor bound, under the agreement, when that other man had not waited, to marry her. There was no way out. If Aunt Sara only had died ten years ago he would have married Ina and made the best of it, never knowing that such a delightful person as Mrs. Stickles existed.

But Mrs. Stickles had existed for him since eight years and with every bronchial attack of Aunt Sara's, which had sent him pell-mell to Timber Hill, the millstone of those forced vacations hung heavier upon his shoulders, making the situation more hopeless.

Presently Mr. Reed appeared and read the will. Ina was named the sole heiress. She nodded to him reassuringly as Mr. Reed's voice droned on, reminding him that everything was all right. She would marry him and take care of him. He could fairly see her expanding in generosity, but certainly not in curves. The pronounced line of her jaw and the square molded shoulders antagonized him. The nasty sensation of being threatened with one of these attacks which necessitated the inevitable vacations came over him. Like a sharp reminder that he was chained to Aunt Sara's money, now definitely in Ina's control.

While Ina, as executrix, was telling Mr. Reed in a positive voice exactly what she wanted done, Melford quietly slipped out of the house. In the bare orchard, patched with crusty snow, he felt somewhat better. He even considered the possibility of escaping, though this had the disheartening feature of needing money. One could not go very far with a few dollars and no prospects of getting any more. He told himself that Ina had her good points and that if he did not see Mrs. Stickles for a number of years the pain of thinking of her might grow less.

After a while he wandered back to the house through the kitchen door. It was his intention to tiptoe up the little stairs that led from the pantry to the upstairs hall and gain his room without encountering Ina, but right off the pantry in a little breakfast nook sat Mary Stickles. Naturally he stopped, for Mary, out of her white uniform in a dark silk that made her throat look very white and soft, with her brown eyes filled with tears and a damp little handkerchief pressed against her pear-shaped chin, would have made the most hard-hearted villain stop.

Melford remembered suddenly, with overwhelming sympathy, that her name had not been mentioned in Aunt Sara's will. He came over to her and as she moved a little, making place for him on the settee, he sat down, curiously soothed and happy by her nearness, though he had come to her with the intention of giving her comfort.

"I'm so sorry," he began clumsily, losing control of his arm, for it had slipped around her soft body.

She nodded. "I miss her so much! Eight years and just at this time I always brought her a cup of tea. Dear Aunt Sara!"

He was completely taken back. She was crying for Aunt Sara! Could it be possible, when he had waited impatiently 10 years for her to die? It was impossible for him to express himself in words. He simply drew her closer so that her warm cheek rested against his own. And suddenly he was telling her, "Mary, I love you. I've loved you for so many years."

"I know," she answered, dimpling, "why didn't you tell me long ago? Aunt Sara knew it, too."

He was not only amazed but terribly conscious of what he had said. "Ina—" he stumbled, shaking his head despairingly.

"I know," Mary confessed, "she told me last night. If she got the money she was honor bound to marry you but if Aunt Sara left it to you she thought she might get out of it. You see that man who didn't wait for her is free again and feels life isn't worthwhile without her. Ina is a good sort, but naturally I couldn't say a word to her until you told me you loved me. Aunt Sara used to say, 'Mary, in the end you'll have to propose,' that is, every time she gave me some bonds. To avoid the inheritance tax and to take care of those vacations you need once in a while, Melford."

Even in his moment of happiness he could not help wondering what Aunt Sara's private opinion had been of her nephew and niece.

Important Notice!

(This is unquestionably the most important theatrical announcement in ten years!)

"THE BROADWAY MELODY" will open at the Aldine Theatre Next Monday--

FROM the miracle studios of California has now come a new marvel of the living screen that is destined to revolutionize all previous conceptions of the talking picture to amaze and entertain! It is an honor and a privilege for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company to present in Pittsburgh simultaneous with the New York, Los Angeles and Cleveland showings at $2 a seat—the first All-Talking, All-Singing, All-Dancing drama, "The Broadway Melody." During the Aldine Theatre presentation there will be no advance in the usual "Loew" prices!

The world doubted when it was predicted that one day the marvels of the metropolitan stage would come to life on the screen—the spectacle of costly musical extravaganzas, the intoxicating rhythms of great song hits, the sensuous sight of alluring choruses, the humanity of tense drama—they are all here in "The Broadway Melody" greater than in any $6.60 stage show! Nothing like it ever before. A new era of the Talking screen. The new thrill of a lifetime has come for you. How fortunate that this new advancement is brought to you so dramatically in a love story of infinite power and tenderness. Come behind the scenes of Broadway where beauties, millionaires, song writers, actors, lovers—humans all!—bare their hearts in this mighty, magic, melodious Big Parade of the Gay White Way.

The management of the Aldine Theatre urges the public of Pittsburgh to come early to all Performances and enjoy comfort. When "The Broadway Melody" opens Monday it will cause a sensation, and to avoid standing in line and the crush and discomfort of long waits in the theatre lobby, we strongly advise you cut out the time schedule of "The Broadway Melody" showings to have on hand for ready reference.

Time Schedule

12:45

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

Love in New Clothes

NOWADAYS, when you ask a woman if she is happily married she sometimes has to call up her lawyer to find out.

* * *

The latest excuse that an able-bodied bachelor gives for not getting married is that his mother "won't let him." Oh, well, with no wife to protect him a man just naturally snatches at the nearest woman as an alibi.

* * *

Alas, most people go through life exchanging a handful of star-dust for a handful of small change and a glamorous romance for a few cheap kisses.

HELEN ROWLAND

Tight wedding rings and loose morals seem to be causing a lot of impulsive shooting these days. But shooting a man because he won't love you is about as logical as shooting him for refusing to be a blonde.

Making mother behave is one of the modern girl's problems. Mother got awfully tired of waiting up nights for the girls; and now, when the children come in, they have to leave the hall light burning and the key under the mat for mamma.

The pedestrian has the right of way at a crossing, and a man has the right to a change of heart in the middle of a love affair; but that doesn't do either of them much good at the inquest.

What an attractive man never can understand is that, while a woman may admire him as she would a beautiful work of art, she may have no more vital interest in kissing him than she would in kissing a statue of the Apollo Belvedere.

The shock of the average man's life is to marry in order to get somebody to simulate his vanity and discover that he has annexed a little reformer who was merely bent on improving his morals.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Offer Hospitality

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Will you kindly help my girl friend out of a trying situation?

Last year she eloped with a young man who was not financially able to set up a home, thus enraging her parents. The young man took his bride to live with his parents. She lived with them until a few months ago but now she has her own apartment. Their parents have never met. The girl claims that the young man's parents should have written her parents asking them (her parents) if they might visit them. He claims that her parents should have called on his parents. She does not know how to bring them together gracefully. Should she have a dinner at her home for his and her parents as a means of bringing them together?

A FRIEND.

SINCE the parents have not been brought together before, and since the girl has now the good fortune to have her own home to offer the hospitality that she wishes to, it would be an excellent plan for her to arrange at once a dinner for the fathers and mothers. I recommend that she let by-gones be by-gones, for nothing can come from deciding now who should have called on whom. To plan for the future meeting, offering her hospitality with a fine, high-hearted manner—this is the best. She can, if she is gracious and generous in her hospitality, make them forget that there has been a problematic past!

Forced Foursomes

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Is it proper for a girl, when making a date with a boy, to ask him to get another young man for her girl friend, as she wishes her to come along? DAVID.

NOT unless she knows the boy very well, and knows that it is agreeable to him that the party be augmented to four. I think that the girl that makes a practice of this is unkind, unless the foursome is taken for granted. And girls often find themselves unpopular, if they make this a habit.

Telegram Unnecessary

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
We are invited to a wedding reception. Is it proper to send a telegram of congratulations to be delivered at the time of the ceremony, if we are to attend the reception later? G. E.

SINCE you are planning to attend the reception, you can offer your congratulations and best wishes at that time and so it will not be necessary for you to send a congratulatory telegram.

"Mr. and Mrs."

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
I am seeking advice as to the use of calling cards. When husband and wife make a call is it correct to leave the Mr. and Mrs. card and one of the husband's cards? We have always used our personal cards, leaving one of mine and two of husband's, unless, of course, there are guests or older people living with them. Then we leave an additional card for each lady and my husband leaves a card for the men. Since coming here I find so many using the Mr. and Mrs. card—has that form become correct?

L. S. R.

THE Mr. and Mrs. card is correct and very convenient, but the form that you have been accustomed to using is just as correct. And your form of leaving cards is also correct.

No! No! No!

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Is it proper to use toothpicks at the table?

JESSIE.

NO, ma'am—not in this country. If you do, your absence will be much desired.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, March 30

AN eventful day is presaged on the basis of the very friendly positions of the luminaries, in trine aspect, assisted by the lunar trine to Uranus, the orb of the unexpected, unorthodox and revolutionary. This may augur a sudden change of importancy, probably requiring a radical rearrangement of the affairs and environment. But promotion and excellent opportunity are in store. Be circumspect in purely personal relations.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very important change, with excellent opportunity for change and advancement, or possible honors or preferment from those in power. Their personal affairs call for circumspection.

A child born on this day may be skillful, ingenious, original and should reach a high place in employment or with the public because of its excellent capabilities.

Heaven has allotted, soon or late, some lucky revolution of their fate.—Dryden.

The Hands of Time -:- By Madge Geyer

WHY rail, Lady Fair, against the inexorable fate that was your destiny the day you were born? Useless indeed to attempt to stop the hands of time from writing their story—the story which you have been so avidly pursuing. Can't you remember when you wanted the hands of time to hurry so that your dreams could be realized? And now, you want them to stop—just so that your vanity may be sated. Stop and think! Each phase through which you must go has its own beauty, and why try to keep the beauty of one and dispense with the loveliness that will surely come to you in your next phase? Beauty is but a thing of perfection for such a short time. But when a flower dies, one remembers always its exquisite perfume. Isn't it so? And just so will it be with you. Even though the loveliness with which you have been blessed will pass away, still those who love you will ever remember it and the thought of it will endear you to them forever. For love looks in the heart and there it finds its happiness. So don't hold the hands of time. It's foolish and useless. Take what the gods give, and determine that Time shall never lessen your charm. For even though Beauty fade, Love remains. And this is the finest gift of all.

Madge Takes Charge of Motor Trip Preparations

LILLIAN sprang to her feet when I told her that I would attend to all of the packing and preparations for Marion's return to school, and that I meant to "shoo her out of the yard" for her longed-for trip with her young daughter in two days.

"What sort of a slacker do you think I am?" she demanded indignantly. "Your hands are so full they're spilling over as it is, and then I dump five people—strangers—on you. Afterwards I calmly drive off for a pleasure trip and leave you with the preparations for them and Marion's packing in the bargain."

I took her by the shoulders, put her back into her chair and stood over her threateningly.

"Will you be quiet or must I gag you?" I asked. "In the first place, I haven't a thing to look after of my own. Katherine has all the care of Junior, you know, my wardrobe is all in order for staying in the city this winter, with the exception of buying some new things, and I'm not even going to think of my work with Philip Veritzen until I go into the city to stay. He's so absorbed in his famous plan to marry Noel off to Princess Olina that he hasn't thought of work for me or anybody else."

"He never does in the summer," Lillian commented, "but——"

"'Neither but nor and,'" I admonished her. "Just keep on listening. Oh, yes, I know," as she grinned impishly at me, "you can't very well do anything else when I start talking, and just this minute I'm the Liverpool packet, the waters at Lodore, and all the rest of the similes. Since I have nothing in the world to do for myself, it follows that I have a lot of superfluous energy which must be expended, and I intend to expend what is necessary—not much—on your affairs. With you and Marion gone on your trip, and Dicky and Harry absent in the city, the family—and the work—is materially reduced. Katie will be able to manage the preparations for the Brixtons beautifully even to cleaning under Mother Graham's driving, and I shan't have enough to do to keep my scales from climbing up.

"Finally——" I shook my forefinger at her menacingly. "I've made up my mind that you're going on this trip as per my schedule, and you know what I am when thwarted."

"A trigress deprived of her kill, I suppose," Lillian mocked. "But I'm too tired to argue with you. Besides what you've proposed has been my dream for so long, and I'd given it up—well! I guess you know what I think of you, old dear, for planning it for me."

"It wasn't all my plan, you know," I said. "Harry spoke of your going away with Marion in the car."

"Yes, I know, he was very thoughtful," she said. "But that was just a kindly vague suggestion. You made it concrete—and possible. Please, Ma'am, I put myself in your hands. I'll agree to anything. I'll even take all the different things along which you deem necessary to a motor trip."

Her affectionate smile robbed the reference of any sting. It is an old and worn bone of contention in our family, the subject of things essential for a motor trip. My packing includes a tow rope, a hatchet, a large Red Cross emergency case, changes of clothing for the extremes of heat and cold which one so often finds, extra light bulbs, oil and distilled water. I realize that I am fussy, but on the other hand, there have been numerous instances when not only I but the rest have been thankful for the precautions upon which I insisted.

"You and Dicky would start blithely without even a spare tire or a handbag," I retorted, "depending upon buying anything from a toothbrush to a cylinder head upon the way. But you're not going that way this time. You'll have plenty of room in the car and I shall see to it that your trip is——"

"Safe for mountain travel, if not for democracy," Lillian finished. "Go ahead, old dear, put in a radio and a sewing machine for all I care. I'm so happy over the prospect of going gypsying with Marion, that I'll even agree to inventory them every day, you old darling, you."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Stomach Ulcers May Be Due to Infection.

A FEW days ago a member of the Congress came to talk with me about his father, who has ulcer of the stomach. By an odd coincidence I sat next to a lady at dinner that evening, who confided to me that she was fussy about her food because she has a tendency to the same trouble.

DR. COPELAND

It is really remarkable that our poor abused stomachs do not rebel more frequently than they do. We put into them almost everything except the kitchen stove. But, in spite of all mistreatment, digestion goes on, and relatively few persons suffer from serious stomach disease.

This organ is shaped like a pear, with the small end to the right. The large part is entered through the gullet and, after the food is prepared in the interior of the stomach, it is expelled through the "pyloric valve" into the small intestine.

The part of the intestine which immediately joins the stomach is called the "duodenum." It is at this narrow part of the passageway that ulceration is likely to occur.

Of course, the most strain, the greatest degree of pressure, will be observed in this restricted region. It seems perfectly natural for disturbance to occur here if it occurs anywhere. As a matter of fact, almost all ulcers are located here.

We didn't know much about the details of ulcers in this region until the X-ray was brought into common use. Now it is possible to learn a lot about the individual case.

Time and space will not permit any extensive discussion of the different types of stomach ulcers. You may imagine a small ulcer to be similar to a canker sore in the mouth. The acute type is small, with clean cut edges, as if it had been punched out of the tissues.

The chronic ulcer is larger, irregular in shape, and in a sense like a burn of the skin. Whether it is serious or not depends on how deeply it reaches down into the wall of the stomach. In the dangerous case it continues to burrow until it eats its way through the wall, resulting in actual perforation.

The symptoms produced by ulcer of the stomach depend on the type and extent of the ulceration. Indigestion or dyspepsia is the first sign. In a severe case there may be sickness at the stomach and vomiting.

If the ulceration is deep enough to involve the blood vessels there will be bleeding. The vomited material may be stained with blood. In some cases quantities of blood may be expelled.

There is pain and this is a marked symptom of the disease. The pain may be burning or gnawing in its nature. It is worse when the stomach is empty. The victim learns very quickly that taking food stops the pain.

There is tenderness on pressure. Effort is made to loosen the clothing in this region.

Most persons who have ulcer begin to lose weight. Pretty soon they are very, very thin.

Let me say at once that large numbers of ulcers heal of their own accord. It is a slow process, taking months and even years, possibly.

In the acute case rest in bed is imperative. This is true whether the ulcer is in the stomach or in the duodenum.

While the patient is resting the physician will seek the cause. Since infection is believed to be the chief factor, he will examine teeth, gums, tonsils, nasal cavities and other parts of the body to find where pus may be located.

We will assume that the focus of infection is located and removed. In the meantime the patient is kept quiet and properly fed. Everything is done to improve the circulation and build up the health. Good sense in these matters will bring about a cure.

Cherry Square Cake

because it's made from a genuine old-fashioned Cook-Book Recipe —just as you'd make it yourself

There is only one way a cake can have that lovely "home-made" taste. That is to make it as a housewife would. From a Cook-Book Recipe and purest ingredients. And that is exactly the way we make this new cake.

Luscious CHERRY SQUARE is a new 2-layer white cake. Rich with milk and whites of eggs. Iced with red, ripe cherries in thick butter-cream icing. Delicious—as only rich icing and plenty of cherries can make it.

Here's a way to prove it

To give this cake its "home-made" taste we make it as you would. From a tested Cook-Book Recipe—followed to the letter. (Inside each wrapper you will find the exact recipe we use. All ingredients and measurements.)

Make a CHERRY SQUARE yourself from this recipe, if you care to, and compare it with ours. You will then see that this is a real Cook-Book Cake—that it must be baked with purest milk, freshest eggs and butter, and the best grade of sugar, pastry flour and flavoring extract to taste so good. And this is true of all Grennan Cook-Book Cakes.

You must be satisfied

Your grocer now has many new varieties of Cook-Book Cakes. Try one. If you don't agree that it is perfectly delicious—and that it has a real "home-made" taste—return the unused portion and get your money back. We want you to do this. We will repay your grocer.

Walker Tough Order, Tommy Admits

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—Mickey Walker is a big order, Tommy Loughran said today in discussing his light-heavyweight championship battle with the Rumsen Bulldog.

"It was a great fight and a hard fight," he said. "Mickey is a great little fighter with a terrific punch and a style of bearing down in action that makes it hard to weather a fight with him. He put up a great battle, and I am proud to have defended it successfully against him."

Walker didn't have anything to say except that he did his best and to laud Loughran's boxing ability.

MICKEY WALKER OUTBOXED BY TOMMY

By GENE HOFFMAN,
International News Service.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Caesar was ambitious and Brutus "cut him down." Napoleon was going great until his ambition for higher titles led him into a match with Wellington.

Just how these eminent gentlemen felt may be learned first hand today from Mickey Walker, well-named Toy Bulldog, and his field marshal, Jack Kearns, although it is a well-known fact that neither Caesar nor Bonaparte received $50,000 in any kind of money to appease them for muffing their greatest "shot."

Walker, present middleweight champion and former welterweight titleholder, aspiring to the light-heavyweight crown of Tommy Loughran, was "put back in his place" last night by the Philadelphia champion in a way that indicated Walker will be no serious threat to the light-heavy division as long as it is dominated by a man as clever as Loughran.

Tommy retained his title by decision at the end of 10 rounds. He was favored by both judges, which made Referee Davey Miller's vote for Walker unnecessary for a verdict. Despite the dissenting opinions of several ringside experts, most of them from out of town, the verdict was a popular one.

FIRE ON ROOF

The bout was the main event on the opening card of Paddy Harmon's mammoth West Side Stadium. The structure, when final touches have been applied, will seat 25,000 and will have cost approximately $7,000,000 to build. Upwards of 20,000 fans turned out for last night's opening.

Both the new Stadium and the huge crowd were well initiated when fire broke out in scaffolding close to the roof. Firemen quietly conquered the blaze and the first inkling the large crowd had of the incident was when water began streaming down on main floor customers. There was a flurry of excitement as they vacated seats, but nothing approaching a panic, such as occurred in the old Coliseum last Monday night.

The event between Loughran and the ambitious middleweight who would take his crown was disappointing to many who expected a knockdown and drag-out affair. It was anything but that—not because Walker didn't try hard enough—but because Loughran, with a valuable title at stake, was naturally hooked two lefts to the head and ducked Tom's left lead. Walker hooked a left to the belt line and then drove two rights to the body. Tom pecked away with long lefts and driving rights to the body as Walker came charging in. Walker scored with a left to the jaw, and then missed another to the same spot. Walker missed a right uppercut. Loughran landed three lefts to the face without return. Loughran landed two right uppercuts and blocked Walker's right. They missed rights, but both inflicted body punishment as they came together. Loughran stabbed two lefts to the face, and Mickey hooked his left to the chin.

ROUND FOUR

Judges, Referee Disagree on Big Bout

CHICAGO, March 29.—(INS.)—The score cards of the judges and referee at the Loughran-Walker light-heavyweight championship fight reveal the usual difference of opinion.

The two judges, Ed Klein and Phil Collins, one of Chicago's leading referees, cast their ballots for Loughran, while the referee, Davy Miller, voted for Walker.

The score sheets show Collins gave six rounds to Loughran, two to Walker and two even.

Klein gave Loughran eight rounds, Walker one round and the other even.

Referee Miller gave four rounds to Walker, one to Loughran and the rest square.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Chicago—Tommy Loughran defeated Mickey Walker, 10 rounds; G. A. (Tuffy) Griffith defeated Leo Lomaski, 10 rounds; Al Fay knocked out (technical) Frankie Cawley, 4 rounds; George Kerwin defeated Jackie London, 6 rounds; Jack Gross defeated Big Boy Peterson, 6 rounds.

At Hollywood—Mushy Callahan knocked out Jackie Carr, 4 rounds.

At White Plains, N. Y.—Battling Clemons defeated Buck Oliva, 10 rounds.

BRUINS BLANK RANGERS, 2-0, IN OPENER

BOSTON, March 29.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins gained their first leg on the Stanley Cup here by defeating the New York Rangers, 2 to 0, in a fast and rugged game, the first of the final play-off series for the world professional hockey championship.

The Rangers appeared fagged out when they first appeared on the ice and were able to hold the Bruins in check but for a single period, the first. The Bruins, encouraged by their smashing three straight victories over Les Canadiens in the National League championship play-off, launched a vicious attack at the opening face-off.

RANGERS OUTCLASSED

They bore down heavily during the first period, and when the second rolled around, the Rangers were well softened for the slaughter. Soon after the second period five-minute mark, Dit Clapper, one of the Bruins' second string forwards, fought his way down to the Rangers' net. Taffy Abel stick-checked, but Clapper fought for the puck and flipped a back-hand shot into the Rangers' net for the opening score.

About five minutes later Dutch Gainer, another members of the Bruins' secondary line, bore down and snapped a vicious shot at the New York goalie.

The rubber struck Abel on the

Morrow Made Advisory Coach At Bethany

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 29.—Despite good intentions, David C. (Dave) Morrow, one of the most widely known coaches in the East has succumbed to the lure of the football game and will be seen again next fall tutoring gridiron candidates. Morrow, however, will transfer his efforts to Bethany college where he has been named as advisory coach. He surrendered the position of line coach at Wash.-Jeff. where he graduated, at the close of the 1927 season with the firm intention of permanently remaining out of football.

Dave Morrow

But Head Coach Fritz Nuss of Bethany, where Morrow also attended two years and later coached with success, prevailed upon him to accept an advisory coaching job. Morrow, who is superintendent of a local water company, will visit the Bethany field as frequently as his other duties will permit. His retention by the West Virginia institution is hailed with delights as they regard him as one of the finest grid tutors in the land.

BAD WEATHER PREVENTS OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

SAN ANTONIO, March 29.—Another attempt will be made by the Pirates and Giants today to stage a diamond contest. Conditions, however, are none too favorable. The weather prediction promises moist and cool breezes and with the baseball ground already well soaked, it would not be surprising if both contests with the Giants were to be unplayed.

The Giants are due to fold up their tents and leave San Antonio tonight. They have been here for more than a month and have enjoyed splendid training weather. Moreover, McGraw and company have just signed a three-year contract with the local people for an extension of the training period.

McGRAW HAS NEW PLAN

The latest plan of the Giant owners is a tour to Mexico City and other points in the country to the South. If their plans carry aright, an American League club will also train in or around San Antonio next season. It is reliably reported that the Chicago White Sox will be that club. The American Leaguers would

IN winning the decision over Mickey Walker, a smaller foeman, and thereby retaining the world light heavyweight title, when the champions of two classes met in their much-discussed fight that opened Chicago's $7,000,000 arena last night, Tommy Loughran did only what he had been expected to do by the great majority of those ring followers who were sufficiently open and clean minded to believe that the affair would be fought out on the level in spite of the unusual conditions that governed it.

Tommy Loughran

The agreement called for Loughran to receive 55 per cent of the house, less federal and state tax, and to pay Walker out of his end, Mickey to receive only $10,000 if he won and $50,000 if he lost. In addition, Loughran contracted to pay half of the cost of the semi-final between Leo Lomski and Tuffy Griffiths, or $12,500 more. No explanation was offered as to how the main bout money would be divided in event of a draw decision. It was a heavy financial risk, and that fact was the only thing that led some suspiciously-inclined persons to believe that it was all fixed for Walker to win. Just because Loughran, as well as Walker, stood to get more money for losing than he stood to get for winning, the element that cannot conceive of any such arrangement meaning anything but a thrown fight concluded that Loughran would "lay down" to Walker. They couldn't imagine his doing anything else, inasmuch as he could get more money out of it. They didn't know Loughran and they couldn't see that the value of the light heavyweight championship, which was at stake to be retained by Loughran or won by Walker, had been figured in as representing the difference in money, or that the loss of that title by

LOMSKI BOWS TO GRIFFITH

CHICAGO, March 28.—(AP.)—Gerald Ambrose (Tuffy) Griffith, the tough one from Sioux City, Ia., won the right to meet the winner of the Loughran-Walker bout by getting the verdict over Leo Lomski the Aberdeen (Wash.) assassin, in the 10-round semi-final, to the light-heavy title go last night. Griffith, by a heavy two-fisted attack, had Lomski in retreat most of the time. By his victory, Griffith wiped out the questionable decision Lomski scored over him a few weeks ago. Lomski scaled 174½; Griffith 174¾.

Al Fay, Charleroi (Pa.) heavyweight protege of Jack Kearns, scored a technical knockout over Frankie Cawley, of Philadelphia, in the fourth round of their scheduled six-round match. The bout was stopped after Cawley suffered a wicked cut over the bridge on the nose and another gash over the right eye. Fay weighed 191¾, Cawley, a member of Loughran's camp, scaled 181½.

George Kerwin, 133-pounder, from Chicago, outpointed Jackie London, Chicago, in the inaugural six-round bout. Jack Gross, Philadelphia heavyweight, won the decision over Big Boy Peterson, of New Orleans, after six slugging rounds.

Loughran-Walker Fight by Rounds

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—The round-by-round account of the Tommy Loughran-Mickey Walker championship fight here last night follows:

ROUND ONE

They shook hands in midring and came out fighting. Walker speared two lefts to the head. Loughran hooked two lefts to the body. Walker dropped a right to the jaw and Loughran landed a right to Mickey's head. Loughran backed away from a left to the stomach and caught a right to the body. Loughran landed three left jabs to the face. Mickey hooked a left to the body. Loughran jabbed two lefts to the face and blocked a left to the body. Loughran smashed two lefts to the face and a right to the body. Mickey missed a left hook to the head. Loughran speared three lefts to the face and threw a right to the body. Mickey charged in and they traded punches to the body.

ROUND TWO

ROUND THREE

SLIPPERY ROCK GIRLS BOW

WICHITA, Kan., March 29.—(AP.)—Four girls' basketball teams from the Southwest won their way to the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. tournament here last night. The Wallenstein-Raffmans of Wichita, playing the last game of an exciting round, remained in the competition with a decisive victory over the last surviving Eastern sextet, the Slippery Rock, Pa., Teachers, 35-to-16.

Opposing the Wichitans tonight will be the National champions, Schepp's Aces of Dallas. Another Dallas aggregation, the Golden Cyclones, will play the Sparkman, Ark., Sparklers.

The Golden Cyclones nosed out the Randolph College Kittens of Cisco, Tex., 26-to-23. The Sparklers defeated the Bird City, Kan., Cereals, 30-to-22.

Schepp's Aces humbled a belated offensive in the last period to defeat the Ada, Okla., Teachers, 29-to-21.

TIGERS TO KEEP HEILMANN

EL PASO Tex., March 29.—(INS.)—Although waivers have been asked on Hary Heilmann, the Tigers' big outfielder, Manager Bucky Harris today stated it was doubtful if the player will leave the club.

Reports that the tigers were going to sell the big outfielder started Heilmann's disposal had been threatened as a disciplinary measure. Heilmann was charged with flagrantly breaking training rules in Los Angeles. The waivers were sent out to determine how many clubs want the player.

Harris stated today that Heilmann has shown improvement since his bad showing in Los Angeles and expressed belief that the player will work his way back into the regular lineup. He is now on probation, and only if Heilmann fails to keep in condition will he be sold, Harris stated.

ELLSWORTH IN RUN

CHARLEROI, Pa., March 29.—Roderick V. Ellsworth, Monongahela's crack long-distance runner, left this morning for New York City to report to C. C. Pyle, promoter of the coast-to-coast foot race which starts from New York Sunday for a destination somewhere in California.

TOURNEY DISCONTINUED

NEWPORT, R. I., March 29.—(AP.)—The Gold Mashie tournament, which the late T. Suffern Tailer established on his Ocean Links here, is to be discontinued. The announcement was sent out by William Henry Beers, editor of Golf Illustrated, at the request of Mrs. Tailer.

TWO CLUBS VIE FOR BILLICK, RODGERS GO

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Dan Billick vs. Jackie Rodgers.

There's a fight that knocked the customers out of their seats at Motor Square Garden last Christmas afternoon and was the making of Rodgers as a main-bouter around here. At the finish, a mixup in reading the slips of the judges and the referee gave the fight to Billick, but the decision was howled down and it was learned on closer examination of the scrambled verdicts that it really was a draw. They were immediately rematched for New Year's afternoon, but the second bout never came off. One reason given was that Billick was injured and another that his manager wanted more money. At any rate, Rodgers was back on the card New Year's afternoon against Midget Mike O'Dowd, who bested him and made such an impression that the fans clamored that he be matched with Andy Martin, of Boston, who had handed Johnny Datto, the Filipino, a trimming in the same ring.

Dan Billick

SUDDENLY REVIVED

That Martin-O'Dowd match was a long time in the making. It finally will be staged in the Motor Square ring next Monday night. And along with it comes a renewal of the dickering to bring together Rodgers and Billick again—and two clubs are fighting for the right to stage this "natural" that has been lying dormant so long and has bloomed again so suddenly.

Both Billick and Rodgers are in New York. Both are willing to fight, but their managers can't get together with the promoters, Jimmy Bronson, mager of Billick, wants the show to go to Motor Square, where the first battle between the rivals was staged. Rodgers, on the other hand, is under obligation to make his next appearance in the Moose Temple for Promoter Francis Flynn, as a result of having pulled out of a return bout with Johnny Dunn, of New Kensington, pleading illness. He cannot box for anyone else here until he boxes for Flynn or obtains a release from Flynn. Thus the Garden has Billick and the Temple has Rodgers. Obviously they can't fight each other in the two widely separated rings, so the bidding goes on apace.

The Garden has asked Flynn to release Rodgers, but Francis won't do it until he is satisfied that he cannot talk Billick's manager into allowing Billick to work for him. The Garden wants the bout for a week from next Monday night to top a card of four eight-rounders, while Flynn, if he lands it, plans to use it the following Friday. He has Tiger Joe Randall and Young Rudy on top for his show next Friday night.

The Garden also sought to rematch Tommy Crawley and Phil Goldstein for a fourth clash for a week from Monday and found Goldstein willing, but was unable to come to terms with Crawley, who now is boxing under the management of Joe Hasco, of Barberton, O. Goldstein meets Jackie Brady, of Syracuse, at Albany, N. Y., next Monday night. Billick opposed Chuck Cummins in an eight-round bout at New Brunswick, N. J., next Tuesday night.

CHINESE BOXER ON CARD

The Washington (Pa.) Gardens has signed Ray Newton, of Mansfield, O., and Mickey McDonough, of Hamilton, Canada, for a 10-round windup next Monday night. Frankie Duff and Ken Hargrave will appear in the semi-final and Harry Spencer and Huff Phillips, of Mansfield, O., in another six-rounder.

Long Sing Que, a Chinese boxer, of New York, will box Roy Minteer, New Castle bantamweight, in one of the four-round bouts on the Midget Wolgast-Willie Davies card at the New Castle Jolly Bowl Monday night. Johnny Pial, of Greenville, and Joe Dinger, of New Castle, are in the semi-final, and U. S. Carpentier and Young Kaiser in another six-rounder. Bob Vogel and Johnny Jennings will open the show with a four-round event.

James Palermo, boxing promoter, of Sebring, O., would like to hear from the managers of Battling Gizzy, U. S. Carpentier, Johnny Dunn and any others interested in having their men box in Sebring. His address is 206 East Maryland avenue, Sebring, O.

DOUBLE WINDUP BOOKED

Promoter Jim McGirr, of McKeesport, has signed two 10-round bouts to headline his show Thursday night. Battling Gizzy, of Donora, will oppose Chet Smallwood, of Akron, in the main event and Bobby Green, of Memphis, will battle Phil Scello, of McKeesport, in the other big event. Smallwood defeated Ken Hargraves in the most recent show at McKeesport. Dominick Profio and California Joe Gans have been matched for a third meeting in the McKeesport ring, week after next.

Jack Zivic is being sought as Cuddy DeMarco's opponent in the main bout of the boxing show planned for the benefit of the Charleroi baseball club of the Middle Atlantic League at Charleroi, April 12. It would be their third clash.

Bud Taylor and Tony Canzoneri, the former a recent claimant of the bantamweight title and the latter former weatherweight champion, have been signed for a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, April 26.

A keen battle is in prospect in the event the draw should bring together Paul Balint and Louis Santucci in the amateur boxing tournament at the Keystone Club tomorrow night. Balint defeated Santucci by a narrow margin in the semi-finals of the recent A. M. A. tournament at Motor Square Garden and was then knocked out by Harry Taylor in the final.

THE "RADIO" FIGHT

Boxing fans today were having their usual complaint about the broadcast of a big boxing bout. The descriptions from the ringside gave the impression right up to the final round that Mickey Walker was beating Tommy Loughran from here to there and back again in their battle in Chicago last night, but the decision didn't agree with this account, nor did the stories of the veteran boxing scribes who covered the melee, which were virtually unanimous in crediting Loughran with boxing his way to a masterly victory in defense of his title. When will we have good radio fight announcers who know what the game is all about?

Vanities to Meet Dixie Team Tonight

The Goldenson Vanities, girl champions of the Greater Pittsburgh district, will meet the Dixie girls, of Fairmont, W. Va., West Virginia champions, at the South Side Market House tonight.

Chicago Bowlers Take Lead In A. B. C.

CHICAGO, March 29.—(AP.)—Chicago sharpshooters made another assault on the wood at the American bowling congress tournament, grabbing first places in the singles.

Walter Klecz and Peter Butler, veteran Chicago pin smashers, toppled 1,353 maples to take the lead in the doubles from the previous pace makers, A. Kas 1 and Jimmy Mitchell of St. Paul, Minnesota who tallied 1,326.

Butler also found himself atop the all events heap after his sensational rolling in the singles, five-man and doubles with a grand total of 1,936.

He toppled 599 in the five-man, 677 in the doubles and 660 in the singles.

Klecz snared 676 pins in aiding Butler to zoom to the top of the doubles list.

Richard Willoughby counted 693 for fourth place in the singles while Nick Butler, brother of Peter, upset 648 pins to take seventh place.

WILDWOOD CLUB LINKS TO OPEN APRIL 10

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

Early spring weather is rapidly rounding local golf courses into condition. It is anticipated by local greenkeepers that if the present comparitively warm spell continues, courses will be opened with their regular greens in play much earlier than usual.

A remarkable case of course conditioning is to be found at the Wildwood Country Club, which is only beginning its second year with the starting of this season.

WILDWOOD ROLLS GREENS

Wildwood is taking its place among the foremost links in the district so far as green and fairway turf conditions are concerned, to say nothing of its fine social atmosphere.

Yesterday I walked over Wildwood layout in company with Ernie Loeffler, its amiable greenkeeper. It was early morning, and Ernie already had his men out rolling the greens—a little matter that few, if any other clubs in this district, can boast of at this time of the year.

Ernie said that his famed contemporary, Emil Loeffler of Oakmont, had inspected the course only the day before, and that Dutch had pronounced it in better shape than any other in Western Pennsylvania at this time. He said that Oakmont would not be in condition for rolling for several weeks at the earliest, and possibly longer than that.

NO TEMPORARY GROUNDS

Wildwood members will be jubilant to learn that the course will be officially opened—permanent greens and all—around April 10. If such is the case, I'll bet there will be some envious golfers around this district.

Play will not be permitted, even on temporary greens, at Wildwood until almost time for the permanent greens to be opened. The cocoos bent used in the greens is coming out splendidly, and I did not see one green in 10 with a single flaw in it—the grass was unharmed by the winter elements and is coming back to perfection, and far better than had been anticipated. This type of grass was introduced to this section by Emil and he is to be highly commended.

TWO NEW BRIDGES

Two new bridges have been put on the course for the convenience of members, each more than 100-feet long. One spans the gap between the tee and the fairway on the second hole, while the other jumps a hollow on the twelfth.

I predict that Wildwood will have one of the finest courses in Western Pennsylvania this season, barring none, and that it will be a real test for the best of the star golfers.

BUCS-GIANTS MAY NOT PLAY

be a part of the Mexican tour with the Giants.

All of which is interesting stuff for the Pirates and of much benefit to the game. But the Pirates are at present concentrating on getting ready for the big stuff that starts to pop two weeks from next Tuesday.

Manager Bush is likely to stick by his early selection and use Jess Petty on the mound against the Giants, providing a contest is played this afternoon.

The McGraw clan has heard the pennant bee in no uncertain way. The Polo Grounds probably have the best infield in the game in Lindstrom, Jackson, Reese and Terry, and they are strong in other departments, especially in the receiving end. Frank Hogan and Bob O'Farrell are the mainstays of the catching wing, with Johnny Cummings of Pittsburgh as third-string man. The pitching, too, is impressive. Several of the younger pitchers, including Leffy Hubbell, are being touted highly by the Giants and their press representatives. The outfield is in good hands with Leach, Welsh, Ott, and Roush as outstanding players.

The Pirates will be entertained by the San Antonio Club of the Texas League in two games scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday.

STATE NINE BEATEN

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Victory trickled through the hands of the Penn State Lions, or rather through the hands of Cooper French, shortstop, in the ninth inning of their game here yesterday with Georgetown, and Coach Hugo Bezdek's players dropped their second game of a Southern tour by a score of 7 to 6. Navy having defeated them yesterday.

TECH COACHING JOB HAS 'EM GUESSING

By JESS CARVER.

Thanks to John Irwin, who recently resigned his post as head basketball coach at Carnegie Tech, the boys have something to keep 'em busy during this somewhat off-season in college athletics.

Mickey Gross.

The major sport of the boys along Hatless Row at present is a guessing game, embellished with scraps of rumor and "feed box" info, having to do with John's successor. Here's the way it is played:

A fan meets another goof on the street, and after borrowing one of those things I wouldn't walk across the alley for, says:

"Say, Gustave, I got it straight from a guy in the 'know' that Chick Davies is gonna coach at Tech next year.'

"Don'tcha believe it, Euphonius, it ain't gonna be Chick at all. The Dukes are going to raise the ante and he'll stay up there on the Bluff with the Irish. But I'll tell you who is gonna land out there."

"Well, whoasit?"

LOTS OF NAMES

"Ken Loeffler is all set for the job. He's figuring on leaving down at Geneva and a guy who goes to all the Tech games and ought to know, tells me that Buddy Overend is crazy to get him."

At this point, up stalks somber Al Slack and J. J. (Fashion) Freund, two of the original feed box gentry. They get in on the conversation; don't say much at least Al doesn't, but J. J. winds up this one:

"Now, listen to me. I'm telling you the facts. Mickey Gross is going to coach at Tech and I got 50 smackers that says so. Besides, didn't I get the lowdown out in Cleveland last week from a guy from Western Reserve? Certainly I did. What do you guys know about it, anyway? Why, when Johnny Baker....."

That is enough to break up any confab, but as they walk away, Al Slack is seen to smile to himself and crack:

"Ho, ho! If they only knew! It's goin' to be Marty Weitzel."

CARLSON CHICAGO-BOUND

Dr. H. C. Carlson, the gent who coaches basketball at Pitt (maybe you've heard tell of him afore this), will pack his carpet bag and hie himself off to Chicago (boom! boom!) this week, where he will attend the annual pow wow of he nation's basketball coaches.

The meetings are scheduled to open next Thursday and will continue through Saturday. They give the boys an opportunity to get together, talk over proposed changes in the game, make suggestions, pan referees, each other, sport writers, and the game in general. There is one thing about the basketball coaches, it was NOT on their account that wall corkscrews were put in hotels.

Owen Is Named Pyle Race Starter

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS.)—Steve Owen, star of the New York Giants football team, will be the chief official at the start of C. C. Pyle's bunion derby, to the Pacific Coast on Sunday.

In addition to announcing Owen's appointment today, Pyle laid out his preliminary stages of the race, naming his first three checking points as Elizabeth and Trenton, N. J., and Philadelphia.

To make sure his runners are in condition for the long grind, Pyle has arranged to have each contestant's feet examined by Dr. Silas H. Treinis, chiropodist.

East Liberty Mat Tourney Draws Stars

Entries continue to come in from all over the state to Physical Department Chairman Charles E. (Andy) Hastings of East Liberty Y. M. C. A. for the first state "Y" wrestling tournament set for tomorrow night, in the East Liberty gymnasium. Scores of associations are entering teams and a stiff tussle for the medals and team plaque, to be awarded, is seen. National collegiate rules, with the referee the determining factor and all matches timed, will govern the meet, which is certain to pack the big East Liberty floor. Two mats will be kept going.

Reigh Count Gets Top Weight in Two Big Races

LONDON, March 29.—(AP.)—Publication of the weights for the two most important early season handicaps shows Reigh Count, Mrs. John D. Hertz' American colt, listed to carry top weight in each case.

For the Great Jubilee Handicap of a mile and a quarter, for about $15,000, to be run at Kempton Park, May 11, Reigh Count heads the list of 35 acceptors with 126 pounds. Athford, which finished second in the Lincoln Handicap, is in the field with 104 pounds.

For the City and Suburban Handicap of £2,000, over the Derby distance of a mile and a quarter, Reigh Count at 129 pounds is estimated to be four pounds better than Jack Joel's Prior Park, which won last year.

The Chicago-owned invader, which is to make his English debut either in the Lingfield Handicap of a mile, April 5, for £1,500 pounds, or the Newbury Spring Cup, April 13, of the same distance and value.

BABE RUTH MAY ASK $100,000 NEXT YEAR

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

SAN ANTONIO, March 29. — Barney Dreyfuss and John McGraw were two of the leading speechmakers at a dinner given by the local Chamber of Commerce last night in honor of the New York club. The feeling between the Pittsburgh and New York officials at present is much nicer than in former years. And why shouldn't it be?

It is quite difficult to count the correct number of correspondents here with the Giants, but a careful estimate places the number at 11 or 12. There is nothing in baseball bigger or better than the McGraw circus, except that trained act Miller Huggins shows the fans each year. Babe Ruth towers above everything in the sport, including all the officials.

Babe Ruth

And Babe threatens to ask for 100 thousand for his next year's work. The present season is the last of his three-year document that calls for 70 grand per year.

FINLEY VISITS M'GRAW

Dr. Frank H. Finley, of Finleyville, is spending a week with Manager McGraw, of the Giants. The two have long been friends. Dr. Finley visited on the Pacific Coast before reaching this city. He will return to Pittsburgh and Finleyville soon.

Speaking of high-salaried players, consider the case of Eddie Roush, who, according to New York newspapermen, is working under a 23-thousand contract. Eddie is now touring the sticks with the Giant second team. At first blush, one might think that Eddie, like Victor Aldridge, is feeling some of the McGraw discipline, but the veteran requested that he be allowed to travel with the youngsters in order to get into action.

Sweepstakes Event Carded Tomorrow

Indoor golf fans are anticipating the sweepstakes tournament to be staged at the downtown indoor golf links, Smithfield 10dg., tomorrow by Manager Stanley Currie. It is anticipated that a good field will participate in the event for which splendid prizes have been offered.

Last night a women's tournament was held, with about 100 participating.

HYATT ALL-STARS WIN

Charley Hyatt's All-Stars defeated the Monty Motors at Monaca last night by a score of 53 to 22. Hyatt scored five field goals.

Jones' Iron Club May Be Used As Golf Prize

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—A suggestion that the iron with which Bobby Jones won his first national open be used as an international trophy is made by John Kiernan, sport writer in the New York Times. Bobby used the club for a great shot to the home green in his playoff with Bobby Cruckshank at Inwood. Jones gave it as a memento to his friend, J. S. Worthington, when the latter was returning to England to die.

Local Specialist Operates on Azzara

STEUBENVILLE, O., March 29.—Dr. George Hayes, Pittsburgh specialist, was called here last night by the Steubenville Boxing Commission, to operate on Tony Azzara, 24, Pittsburgh lightweight boxer, who collapsed after his bout with Earl Young Sweeney, of Mingo, here Tuesday night and who has since been unconscious from cerebral hemorrhages.

The operation was a last resort. Azzara's condition was reported as extremely critical. The boxing commission has taken charge of investigation of the case. Claim is made that it was an old injury.

TEXAS RELAYS OPEN TODAY

AUSTIN, Tex., March 29.—(AP.)—More than a thousand speedy young athletes from the Middle West and the great Southwest, a sprinkling of veteran performers from amateur athletic clubs, and Paavo Nurmi, Finnish distance marvel, converged on Memorial Stadium field here today for the fifth annual Texas relays, the first major track meet of the season.

Nurmi was to participate in a special two-mile run against three University of Texas men.

MILLIONAIRE SEEN AT DIXIE!

PROMINENT EXECUTIVE OBSERVED LEAVING DIXIE SHOE STORE WITH TWO PAIRS OF NEW $3 MODELS

SPECIAL DISPATCH:

The well-known director of a large manufacturing concern was recognized today when he came to a local DIXIE MEN'S SHOE STORE.

The manager of the DIXIE store happened to be an old schoolmate of the multi-millionaire manufacturer, and recognized his boyhood friend instantly.

The DIXIE manager has asked us to withhold the name of the multi-millionaire, but he did state that the ex-ecutive bought two pairs of the new Spring DIXIES.

This is just one example of the hundreds of wealthy men who buy DIXIE SHOES.

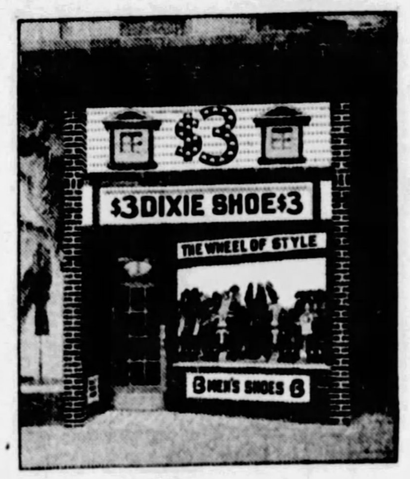
Men who have a lot of money don't spend it foolishly. Just the other way 'round.

They're careful of what they spend. They want to get the most for every cent.

That's how they "made their pile," and that's how they keep it! They know the value of money — and so they know the value of DIXIES!

They've found that they can wear DIXIE SHOES in the company of $12 and $15 shoes, and nobody will guess that their shoes cost a cent less than the others!

And they've found that DIXIES give them perfect satisfaction when it comes to comfort and wear! Wear a pair of DIXIES, and you'll find out the same things!



DIXIES FOUND HERE!

Where DIXIE MEN'S SHOES are sold---the same shoes that were purchased by well-known executive.

It just goes to show that the DIXIE policy of tiny profit per pair turns out a better shoe for a lot less money! The reason other shoes are so far behind DIXIES is that other manufacturers aren't willing to take such a small profit!

Other shoe manufacturers can't buy high-grade materials at as low prices as DIXIE, because they haven't got the stupendous buying power of the DIXIE organization!

And the big DIXIE savings are passed straight to you, because DIXIES are sold direct to the customer, in DIXIE SHOE STORES.

The new Spring DIXIES have a million dollars' worth of style. Drop in at the nearest DIXIE store, and see them!

NOW $3

---this is the price of Dixie Men's Shoes--- the shoes that changed the buying habits of a multi-millionaire.

FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1929 THIRTY-THREE

FRENCH REINSTATED

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 29.—(AP.)—Walter French, Philadelphia Athletics' outfielder, who retired from baseball last fall, has been reinstated by Commissioner K. M. Landis and will report to the club in Philadelphia April 6, Manager Connie Mack has announced.

CORINTHIANS, HEIDELBERG SET TO GO

By TOM BIRKS.

Soccer fans can wend their way to the Curry grounds tomorrow afternoon to see one of the best soccer games of the season—the semi-final of the national amateur cup. The Corinthians and Heidelberg will meet to settle who shall enter the Western final of the cup and play the Cleveland Magyars.

The Green and Gold has hopes of stopping McKay's club, especially since the locals never felt satisfied regarding the game in Cleveland last season, when, in the teeth of a blizzard, Heidelberg went down to defeat at the hands of the Forest City aggregation.

But, according to fans who have seen the Magyars in action this year, Heidelberg or the Corinthians are going to have a tough time when the Clevelanders are met. The Magyars claim to have the best club in their history, but with Hoffman, a very slow player, in the fullbacks, it is hardly possible that the defense would show much.

Both teams will have a full lineup tomorrow. The Corinthians will field the same eleven that so decisively defeated the Pittsburgh Soccer Club, while Manager Balsarini is going to put the team on the field that put Akron out of the running.

The winner will have the Western final and the grand final to play, and the Western final should produce plenty of shekels this year. The Corinthians are new to national competition, but, having quite a number of former Curry boys in the lineup, they play the type of soccer to beat Heidelberg.

TOM LOUGHRAN KEEPS TITLE

rally on the defensive and satisfied to pile up points while skillfully warding off the wild rushes of the slugger.

Tommy at no time was in real distress. The same may be said of Walker, but Loughran kept jabbing that left in Mickey's face and time after time he crossed over a hard right to the head. Tommy is no man-killer, but as a master boxer and ring strategist he has few if any equals. Mickey made himself ridiculous the few times he tried to box with the champion.

WALKER IS WILD

Walker landed a few solid blows, but for every one that broke through Tommy's guard, a dozen others went ludicrously wild. It must be said for Walker that he kept everlastingly at it. But to deprive a man of a valuable title simply because he extended himself only enough to protect it, while his opponent rushed around furiously and a bit comically, would be a great injustice.

The challenger's best rounds were in the middle of the fight, from the fourth to the sixth inclusive. Tommy shaded him in the first three, but from the sixth on, after Walker had unleashed his lightning and failed, it was Loughran by a mile. The champion's best round was the eighth, when he connected with his right cross at will. If Tommy had a real punch Walker would have gone out in this stanza.

As the rounds wore on, Loughran improved and appeared to freshen, while Mickey was growing more weary with each funny, missing blow.

Walker seemed to realize that after he gave Tommy "the works" in the fifth round and the champion outgeneraled him, all hope for his third world title had gone glimmering. Tommy was in some distress in this thrilling fifth round, but he cleverly stayed off that much-heralded "finish act" that Walker is famous for.

Tommy had Walker in about the same spot in the eighth, but the champion didn't have the power in his right arm to execute the "coup de grace."

BETTING AT EVENS

It was Walker's first defeat in a Chicago ring. His "luck" in winning and holding titles here had led many to believe that he couldn't lose. Some bets were made just before going time a 2 to 1 on Walker. For the most part even money prevailed.

Loughran's weight was announced as 173¾, nearly two pounds under the limit. It is believed he was weakened to some extent in getting down. Walked scaled 165.

Indoor Track Marks Set in Coast Meet

SEATTLE, March 29.—(AP.)—One world indoor track record was shattered and two others were established here last night, when Stanford University defeated University of Washington, 73 to 58, in the first Pacific Coast indoor meet in history.

Harold Rother, of Stanford, set a new world indoor record in the shotput with a toss of 51 feet, ⅝ inch.

Eric Krenz, Stanford giant, established a new indoor record in the discus event with a heave of 153 feet, 11⅝ inches.

Steve Anderson, of Washington, won the 80-yard high hurdles in 9.8 seconds.

shin and Gainer was speedy enough to regain it and poke it into the net.

The Bruins were satisfied with the double score and immediately launched their efficient defensive game. Both New York lines tried to pierce through, but Goalie Thompson and his mates continued unbroken until the final bell.

NEW YORKERS TIRED

The Rangers were too tired to make much of a final drive. Their best scoring chance of the contest came about half way through the final session when Boucher and Bill Cook rushed, the former carrying the puck. He was able to break through Shore and Hitchman, the Bruins' defense men, and slash a wicked 10-foot drive at the Boston goalie, who came out of his net and made a marvelous save. Shore checked Cook out of a shot at the empty net. The lineup:

Bruins—2.		Rangers—0.
Thompson	G	Roach
Hitchman	L. D.	Johnson
Shore	R. D.	Abel
Carson	C.	Boucher
Galbraith	L. W.	F. Cook
Oliver	R. W.	R. Cook

Boston spares—Gainer, Clapper, Weiland, MacKay, Owen.

New York spares—P. Thompson, Murdock, Keeling, Bourgeault, Vail.

First period—No scoring. Penalties—Hitchman, Paul Thompson, Johnson.

Second period—Boston, Clapper, 5:13; Boston, Gainer, 10:48. Penalties—Abel, Hitchman, Thompson, Shore, Bill Cook, Galbraith.

Third period—No scoring. Penalties—F. Cook, Hitchman, Shore.

WOULD PROTECT AMATEURS

WINNIPEG, Man., March 29.—(INS.)—Professional hockey teams would be prohibited from signing amateur players under 22 years of age, under a resolution submitted to the National Hockey League by W. A. Fry, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Fry is alarmed at the inroads being made into the amateur ranks.

As a compromise Fry suggested that amateurs who are signed by the professionals but fail to make good, be allowed to return to the amateur ranks with their status unsullied.

Title Fight By Rounds

ROUND FIVE

ROUND SIX

ROUND SEVEN

Loughran banged two rights to the body. Mickey hooked a left to the chin and a right to the jaw. He threw another right and they clinched. Walker landed two rights to the jaw. They traded lefts to the face and slugged at close quarters. Both missed rights. Loughran crossed his right to the jaw. Mickey put his left to the body and took a left to the body. Loughran planted a right on Mickey's jaw. Loughran missed a right to the head. They traded lefts to the head, with Loughran slamming two rights to the body as they tangled. Walker hooked a left to the head and took a right to jaw. Tommy was bleeding from a cut under the right eye. They traded lefts to the head.

ROUND EIGHT

ROUND NINE

Loughran got busy at once, but missed a right and left to the head. He backed away from two lefts. Mickey missed a left hook, with Loughran nailing him with a right as he came in. Loughran jabbed two lefts to the head. Loughran was making Mickey miss. They traded rights to the head. Tom stabbed four lefts to the face and a right to the jaw. Mickey drove a right to the body. Loughran nailed Walker with a right and left to the chin, and then stabbed him with his left. They traded rights to the head on the ropes and clinched. Loughran blocked a left to the stomach and Loughran stepped inside of a right to the head.

ROUND TEN

They shook hands. Loughran stabbed three lefts to the face and backed away from a right to the face as they clinched. Loughran scored with two lefts to the face and then he nailed Mickey with a right to the jaw, but his left hook was short. He backed away from a left lead and took two short right uppercuts. Loughran fanned Mickey's nose with three lefts. Loughran ducked a left to the head. He stepped inside of a right and made Mickey miss a long left. Loughran stabbed Mickey with lefts to the face. Loughran threw two left and two rights to the head. Mickey connected with a wild swing to the jaw. Mickey hooked another left to the jaw as the fight ended.

Scottdale, Penn Ace In Tourney Final

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 29.—Scottdale and the Penn-Ace quintet of Jeannette will meet in the final round of the Westmoreland County independent basketball tournament tomorrow night as a result of the semi-finals staged here last night. Scottdale surprised and defeated the Jeannette Semlers, 26-14. The other semi-final resulted in a victory for the Penn-Ace passers over Keystone.

Jordan, Shimon, Rust Cue Victors

MILWAUKEE, March 29.—(AP.)—Charles Jordan, Los Angeles; J. P. Rust, New Orleans, and Max Shimon, of Milwaukee, scored victories in their quest of the national amateur three-cushion billiard title.

Jordan, Pacific coast champion, defeated R. S. Harper, Denver, Col., 50-36, in 72 innings. Rust squeezed out a victory, 50-49, over Louis M. Vogler, of Indianapolis, in 100 innings. Shimon defeated Bud Westhus, of St. Louis, 50 to 26, in 66 innings.

MISS VAN WIE SOUTH. PINES GOLF LEADER

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C., March 29.—(AP.)—Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, pitched and putted her way through a field of 102 sectional and national golf stars to take the lead for the first half of the 36-hole mid-South women's tournament at the Southern Pines Country Club.

Miss Van Wie's 80 was good enough to leave an imposing array of celebrities in her wake. In second place with an 82 came Ruth Quier, of Reading, Pa., while trailing in order were Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, and Marion Turpie, the Southern champion, tied with cards of 84; Glenna Collett, the national champion, and Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wis., both of whom needed 85's, and the famous Helen Hicks, with an 86.

Mrs. Godfree Out Of Tennis Singles

LONDON, March 28.—INS.)—England's prospects of winning the women's singles in the all-England tennis championships at Wimbledon this spring were dimmed today by the announcement that Mrs. L. A. Godfree, regarded as England's best woman player, would be unable to play in the singles because of ill health. Mrs. Godfree, the former Kitty McKane, defeated Helen Wills in 1924 and also won the title in 1926. She will compete only in the doubles this year.

LONG'S SPORT COMMENT

Loughran to a mere middleweight would have hurt Tommy in his heavyweight title aspirations.

THERE was no other reason in the world for conjecturing that a good middleweight had a chance to beat a good light heavyweight, and those who knew enough about Loughran's private life to feel sure that he would not stoop to any jobbery did not doubt from the start that Tommy would be the winner. A good big man is always better than a good little one, especially when the former has always taken care of himself whereas the latter has not, and considering Loughran's superiority in speed and boxing skill, in addition to his advantage in height, weight and reach, he did only what was to have been expected in outpointing the middleweight champion by a margin clear enough to win the decision.

The outcome is a good thing for the boxing game in general, as proving that the fight was on the up and up in spite of the uncommon conditions, under which Loughran could have raked in more money by losing than he did by winning. However, no further risks of that sort should be taken by those in control of the game. One of the principals should not be allowed to act as a sort of promoter, though the same thing, without the difference between the winning and the losing ends has been done often, even in this city by Johnny Ray against Charley White and Johnny Dundee. Had Loughran lost last night, nothing would have convinced a large percentage of the country's fight fans that the fight had not been sold or thrown. The game should not be exposed to any more such risks anywhere. Also champions should be forced to fight deserving challengers in their own classes instead of dodging opponents and invading other divisions.

FINISHING a season with a batting average high enough to put you among the leading clouters of your league isn't entirely a matter of hitting the ball hard all through the campaign. You've got to have luck on your side, too; that is, luck in escaping having a large number of your drives taken away from you through sensational fielding.

Freddie Lindstrom

You've often noticed some player who appeared to have been picked out as fate's particular victim—some pastimer who hit the ball hard every time up, only to send it straight to a waiting fielder or to lose it through a circus catch.

SUCH a player may wind up with only a fair average, while some other batter who does not land on the ball with nearly the same force may be found leading the league or among the leaders at the close of the campaign. Take Freddie Lindstrom, of the Giants, for instance. In 1927 Lindstrom hit only .306, but last year he rose to .358, and the only regulars to beat him out were Rogers Hornsby and Paul Waner. Yet, according to Freddie himself, there was no change in his hitting. "I didn't hit any better last year than the year before," he said. "I just happened to be luckier last year. I was hitting the ball on the nose all through the 1927 season, but generally somebody happened to get in front of the ball. I hit the ball on the nose again last season, but not so many fielders got in front of the balls I hit, and that's where the difference came in."

HEINIE MANUSH, of the Browns, had a similar experience. For Detroit in 1927 he hit only .299, yet in a Brown uniform last season he batted .378, and was beaten out for the swatting championship of the American League by Goose Goslin by only one point. He insists that his hitting was not different, and gives the same explanation as Lindstrom for his climb of 79 points.

"I hit the ball last year just the same as I hit it the year before, but they were not snagging drives on me last season the way they did in 1927," Manush declares. "You've got to have luck to hit .300 or better in the big leagues and I had luck last year."

IF any further evidence were needed to show that Dale Alexander, the International League's leading hitter last season, has made good at first base and as a hitter for Detroit, and is likely to be the regular man at that position for the Tigers this season, it could be found in the benching of Harry Heilman and the report that waivers have been asked on the latter.

Dale Alexander

For Heilmann had been slated for a transfer from the outfield to first base for the Tigers this year, and, though violation of the training rules is given as the reason for his benching and the reported waiver request, the management would not have dealt so harshly with him if it had not first made up its mind to use Alexander at the initial sack.

THE report that waivers have been asked on Heilmann, does not mean, if true, that Harry is going to be disposed of in that fashion. If waivers were asked at all, it would mean only that Manager Bucky Harris was taking that step to learn what clubs desired Heilmann's services, planning to make a trade for him later. Or he may be only making an example of the star to impress upon the other players that he means to be the real boss of the club, to maintain discipline, and that rules are made to be obeyed.

THERE is no doubt of Heilmann's value, particularly in the batting department. Even in what was called an "off season" last year he batted .328, and only six regular players finished above him. He has batted over .300 for 10 consecutive seasons, rising as high as .403 in 1923.

And if there is anything in precedent, Heilmann may do even better than usual this season by capturing the leadership of the American League. Four times in a row in off-numbered years he has led the league in batting—first in 1921, next in 1923, then in 1925, and again in 1927. According to that dope he would be due again this year.

THE benching of Heilmann and warnings handed out to other pastimers in the big leagues this spring appear to indicate that the club bosses are determined to give up pampering temperamental stars and try rough treatment instead.

Elmer Tutwiler

Another case in point is that of Ted Blankenship, White Sox pitcher. Hardly had the Pirate management sold Ted's brother, Homer to Dallas in the Texas League, than the White Sox star also began to wobble and he has continued to show such poor form that Manager Russell Blackburne openly threatens, if he can get waivers, to ship him to the same league in which Homer is now operating.

IF you can't get anything by holding out, make haste to do some holding on. That appears to be the policy of Elmer Tutwiler, former Pittsburgh pitcher, who was released during the winter to the Omaha club of the Western League. Tutwiler was in but two games for the Pirates last year and pitched a total of only four innings, but evidently he thought that the fact of his having been up in the big show would enable him to get away with some holdout stuff. So he scorned the salary that Omaha offered him for this year and demanded a larger sum. To Tutwiler's amazement, the Omaha club paid not the slightest attention to his demands, and finally Elmer concluded that he'd better grab a job at any price, so he wired President Burch that he will report to the Crickets today or tomorrow. They can't ignore Elmer and get away with it.

Is Aircraft Leadership In Central-West? Facts

—By B. C. FORBES—

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—Which section of the country is destined to lead in aircraft? The Pacific Coast is spiritedly bidding for supremacy and has already accomplished much. The East kind of takes it for granted that this new industry will become its own. The Central-West, however, backs its claim to leadership with impressive figures.

BOTH Kansas City and St. Louis are proud of the progress they have made and each is striving diligently to attain premier place. Each points out that it is at the hub of the continent, ideally situated for regular air lines to radiate from it like spokes in a wheel. Each has drawn a 500-mile circle around it and demonstrates why it should become the Detroit of the aircraft industry.

St. Louis has the distinction of having made possible the historic Lindbergh trans-Atlantic flight. This city rejoices in several citizens who early had a vision of the potentialities of aerial transportation.

Harold M. Bixby and Harry Knight were Lindberg's backers, and it was mainly through their efforts that the builders of the Lindbergh plane, Mahoney-Ryan, moved the manufacturing plant from the Pacific coast to St. Louis. Mr. Bixby was also largely responsible for the organization of the Transcontinental Air Transport, personally selling the idea to the Pennsylvania Railroad. He also induced the Wright Aeronautical Corporation to establish a branch factory here.

Thomas N. Dysart, partner of Harry Knight, has played an important part in aircraft financing both locally and nationally, as has also John A. Love and other aircraft leaders, including Mark C. Steinberg, Phil Ball and Maj. Lambert.

The Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America reports that last year Missouri stood second in value of products and fourth in the number of planes manufactured, the value being $3,500,000 and the number of planes produced 736 of the national total of 3,780.

The St. Louis district has four flying fields, five aviation schools and is the headquarters for some of the largest airway service companies. The training schools at the beginning of this year had an enrollment of 689 and had graduated 1,221 students.

Last August the city passed a $2,000,000 bond issue which assures the city one of the finest airports in the country.

A map giving the distribution of airplane manufacturers throughout the country shows 50 per cent of the total located in the Central West, 21 per cent in the East and 18 per cent in the West.

Within the 500-mile circle are 44 per cent of all licensed and identified aircraft, while for the central section the grand total is 51 per cent, compared with 29 per cent in the East and 20 per cent in the West.

Of the 4,656 licensed pilots in the United States on January 1, 42 per cent were located in the Central states, against 32 per cent in the East and 26 per cent in the West.

Of licensed aviation mechanics the Central states have 44 per cent, the Eastern states 44 per cent and the Western states 22 per cent.

ST. LOUIS makes these claims as an aviation center: Central geographical location, low labor costs, proximity to a large number of materials used in the industry, excellent transportation facilities by air, rail and river; favorable climate and freedom from fogs, level topography, accessibility to the natural flying area of the country; low power costs, thoroughly equipped airports, relatively low taxes, attractive living conditions and a constant output of graduates from local training colleges and schools.

LINDBERGH'S famous plane was "The Spirit of St. Louis." Events are proving that it was aptly named.

HUGE AIR FIRM ORGANIZED

NEW YORK, March 29.—(AP.)—Plans for the formation of what its sponsors say will be one of the largest aviation companies operating on the Atlantic Seaboard were revealed yesterday with the announcement of the organization of the Atlantic Seaboard Airways, Inc.

The announcement said that Capt. Ira C. Eaker, pilot of the Army plane "Question Mark" which holds the record for sustained flight by refueling in the air, will be general manager of operations of the new corporation, which will acquire the International Airways, Inc. The latter company owns Hoover Field, Washington, D. C., and the Potomac Flying Service which operates the field.

Plans call for the use of six fields, with Hoover Field as the center, in a chain of airports east of the Alleghenies.

National Bank Call Made as of Mar. 27

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP.)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business on Wednesday, March 27.

NOTICE
THE COLONIAL TRUST COMPANY
Pittsburgh, Pa. March 25, 1929.

The Board of Directors of this company has today declared the regular quarterly dividend of $3.00 per share on the capital stock of the company, payable April 1, 1929, to stockholders of record at the close of business March 28, 1929. Checks will be mailed.

GEORGE A. YOUNG, Treasurer.

BIG GAIN MADE BY OIL WELL SUPPLY

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE Oil Well Supply Company established its operations on a profitable basis in the latter half of 1928. Net profit for the entire year of $278,827 will be disclosed by the annual report which is being prepared for mailing to stockholders. This compares with a loss of $85,956 in the first half of the year.

Profit for 1928 was equivalent to $4.25 a share on the $6,550,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock. In the previous year net profit was $490,505, which covered the preferred dividend requirements and left a margin of 5 cents a share for the common stock.

Operations in the latter part of 1927 and the first six months of 1928 reflected the general depression in the oil industry. This was overcome through improvement in the final months of the year after the proration of oil production had made drilling profitable.

THE plants are at present operating virtually at capacity. A large volume and increased efficiency are expected to result in cost reduction which should be reflected in a decided improvement in future earnings. The demand for cable drilling tools is exceptionally heavy.

Sales volume for the remainder of the year is largely dependent on the success of attempts now being made to stabilize conditions in the oil trade. Although the restrictions to be placed in effect may temporarily exert a depressing influence on volume, they will be beneficial from a long range standpoint. The restriction of oil output will eliminate the possibility of a depression in oil prices and a complete suspension of drilling while even under restrictions there will always be a fairly good demand for oil field equipment.

UNDER the leadership of Walter C. Carroll, who became president over a year ago, far reaching changes have been made in the company's policies which will be substantially reflected in future earnings. During 1928 the line of oil field equipment being manufactured was changed to bring all of the products fully up to the standard of modern practice in the industry.

An efficient system of accounting and inventory control was perfected which will assure better and more salable stocks with the necessity of little or no increase in inventory. Throughout every department higher standards of efficiency have been established.

THE outstanding feature of the report will be found in an item of $2,195,482 deducted from surplus, representing a charge-off for obsolescence, bad accounts and unadjusted taxes, covering an extended period prior to 1928. The present management has charged off all items of bad or doubtful character which should have been taken into consideration in prior years.

The company has cleaned house so far as its accounting methods are concerned, and the management is confident that, with its new systems in use, such a drastic step will never be necessary again.

Advantage was taken of the slump in demand to make the necessary changes in operating methods and in the products. As a result of the charge-offs the physical properties were carried at $6,081,734 at the end of 1928, compared with $7,399,119 the year before.

THE financial position continues good. Current assets were $22,528,002, compared with current liabilities of $5,679,345. About half of the current assests consist of inventories. The bulk of sales are made through over 90 stores located in oil fields throughout the world.

The Oil Well Supply Company has no funded debt and the balance sheet shows no provision for good will, patents or other intangible assets. Even after making the large deductions during 1928 the earned surplus at the end of the year was $6,471,641, and capital surplus amounted to $329,374. This indicates a book value of $43 a share on the 377,900 shares of common stock of $25 par value.

BROKER LOANS DECREASE

Stock Markets Closed for Good Friday

Stock exchanges and commodity markets throughout the country are closed today in observance of Good Friday, a legal holiday in many states. Pittsburgh banks are closed today, but New York banks are open as usual. The stock exchanges and several commodity markets will be closed for a special holiday tomorrow, making a three-day suspension of trading over the Easter weekend. All banks will be open tomorrow. Business will be resumed in all markets at the usual hours on Monday.

SALES DECLINE IN FEBRUARY

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP.)—Decreases in sales of drugs, boots and shoes and groceries are listed by the Federal Reserve Board as causes of a 3 per cent decline in the total wholesale trade of the country during February. There were increases in men's clothing, furniture and dry goods, but they were smaller than usual at this time of the year, the report said.

The decreases in the various lines included: Groceries, 8.7 per cent; meats, 2.6 per cent; boots and shoes, 13.6 per cent; hardware, 7.2 per cent, and drugs, 19.6 per cent. The increases included men's clothing, 54.2 per cent; dry goods, 0.2 per cent, and furniture, 8.7 per cent.

Increases also were reported in sales of agricultural implements and tools not included in the board's index.

$400,000,000 Trust Company Planned

NEW YORK, March 29.—(INS.)—A new $400,000,000 trust company will shortly be set up in this city, it was disclosed today as plans for the merger of the Chemical National Bank and the United States Mortgage and Trust Company, announced yesterday, were enlarged upon. The combined assets will reach the 400 million figure, it was reported today and the deposits will total $282,000,000.

MARKETS GIVEN WORST TEST SINCE 1926

By W. S. COUSINS,
International News Service.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The stock market in the last few days has passed through as severe a test as it has encountered in any of the post-war period. Millions of dollars have been marked off the valuations of industrial stocks and the losses by small traders in the market have been the most severe since the "big smash" of March, 1926, when the whole speculative structure collapsed under the crushing weight of an avalanche of selling orders forced upon the market through no choice of a good proportion of the sellers.

When the whole speculative structure caves in, values evaporate like the mist before the sunshine, and traders who have been skating on thin ice come to the point where they must produce more money or see their holdings of speculative stocks swept away by the tide of receding prices.

AVERAGE OFF 20 POINTS

Between March 15 and 26 the average price of the 20 stocks dropped 20 points while the rails receded 6 points. This was as severe a reaction as has been recorded at any time in the last three years, and compares with the December break of 9 points and the February 11-point reaction. It was sharp and decisive, as most reactions are, but the rally which wound up the holiday week restored about half the lost ground.

A comparison of the average prices of 20 industrial and 20 railroad stocks since the turn of the year shows that, even with the wide swing of prices that have taken place in that period, the sharp advances and the wild reactions, prices today are slightly above the final level of 1928.

"SQUEEZE" FAILURE

What has been accomplished by the Reserve Board in its campaign to squeeze out bank loans from the speculative market? This week's reports showed a decline of only $144,000,000 in brokers' loans, where at least $800,000,000 was looked for by the money market experts. Taken in conjunction with the $166,000,000 per cent increase of the previous week, it appears that the squeezing process has been a failure, unless, of course, there are other important elements entering into the transaction.

Bankers and economists comment confidently about the high rate of business activity and the prospect of a continuance of good business, at least through the first half of 1929. With a good back-log of 1928 earnings and orders well booked up for the coming season, it is hardly the time to look for a bear market. A manipulated money market may keep stock prices down for a certain period, but sooner or later the pressure must be removed and good stocks will seek—and find—their true levels.

HOUSTON TAKES VAUCLAIN'S PLACE

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—(AP.)—George H. Houston, associated with the Fisher Brothers, of Detroit, in their many industrial enterprises, was elected president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works yesterday. He succeeds Samuel M. Vauclain, the outstanding figure in the company for many years, who was elected chairman of the board.

In announcing the change in the presidency of the works, a company statement said that the concern under Mr. Vauclain's "able management has enjoyed the most prosperous period of its history."

"Chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Vauclain will continue actively to participate in the company's affairs," the statement said, "and be in intimate contact with the transportation business of the United States and foreign countries."

Thomas S. Gates, member of the firm of Drexel & Co., Philadelphia, and of Morgan & Co., New York, who was chairman of the board, will continue as chairman of the executive committee.

"This new alignment of the executive organization," said the statement, "means a continuation of the aggressive management Baldwin has enjoyed in the past, coupled with a more active participation by the Fisher interests, large holders of the common stock of the company.

"The locomotive business appears much more promising than it was a year ago and the Baldwin plant at Eddystone will shortly be running at an increased volume."

WAGNERIAN OPERA.

The opera tells how Parsifal's purity and freedom from guile enabled him to rediscover the Sacred Spear which wounded the Saviour of the world.

First is heard "The Voyage" (Prelude to Act I), in which the most deeply religious motives of the entire work occur. The sacrament, the Holy Grail, and the steadfastness of faith are painted in typically Wagnerian ethereal harmonies.

In the Transformation scene, Amfortas discovers the Holy Grail, a vessel of light from heaven descends to illumine the sacred vessel and then grows dim and fades away as the rites of Holy Communion end. Then comes the moving Prelude to Act III, presenting the famous Good Friday Spell, in which Wagner follows the motive of baptism to fashion one of his most beautiful mood paintings.

UNITED STATES STEEL CORPORATION

NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING OF April 15, 1929

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation will be held at the principal office of the Corporation, Hudson Trust Company Building, No. 51 Newark Street, in the City of Hoboken, County of Hudson and State of New Jersey, on Monday, the 15th day of April, 1929, at 12 o'clock noon, for the following purposes, namely:

1. To consider and vote upon the approval and ratification of the various purchases, contracts, contributions, compensations, acts, proceedings, elections and appointments by the Board of Directors or by the Finance Committee since the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Corporation on April 16, 1928, and all matters referred to in the Annual Report to Stockholders for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1928. The minutes of the Board of Directors and of the Finance Committee will be open to inspection by stockholders of record during business hours at the New York office of the Corporation, No. 71 Broadway, until after the close of the meeting.

2. To elect Directors pursuant to the by-laws.

3. To elect a committee of three stockholders to administer the Corporation Profit Sharing Plan adopted at the Annual Meeting, April 18, 1921.

4. To elect independent auditors to audit the books and accounts of the Corporation at the close of the current fiscal year.

5. To take action on the proposed changes in the authorized capital stock of the Corporation from $1,303,321,000, divided into 13,033,210 shares of the par value of $100 each, consisting of $550,000,000 par value of preferred stock and $753,321,000 par value of common stock, by decreasing the preferred stock to $400,000,000, divided into 4,000,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, consisting of 3,602,811 shares issued, outstanding and not redeemed and 397,189 shares which have never been issued, and by increasing the common stock to $1,250,000,000, divided into 12,500,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, and the amendment of the certificate of incorporation of the Corporation as heretofore amended to effect such changes as deemed and declared advisable by resolution of the Board of Directors duly passed at its meeting held on February 26, 1929, a copy of which resolution is on file in the registered office of the Corporation, No. 51 Newark Street, Hoboken, New Jersey, open to inspection by stockholders of record.

6. To consider and vote upon the revised Employees' Stock Subscription Plan of the Corporation formulated and declared advisable by the Board of Directors pursuant to Chapter 175 of the Laws of the State of New Jersey for the year 1920, a copy of which revised Plan is enclosed herewith.

7. To consider and vote upon the proposition that the United States Trust Company of New York, Trustee under the Indenture dated April 1, 1901, securing the Fifty-Year Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the United States Steel Corporation, and under the Indenture, dated April 1, 1903, securing the Ten-Sixty-Year Five Per Cent. Sinking Fund Gold Bonds of said United States Steel Corporation, be authorized, in case both of said Indentures are satisfied in accordance with their terms, to deliver to said United States Steel Corporation any or all shares of stock, bonds and other securities held thereunder by said Trustee (except stocks, bonds and other securities held in the Sinking Fund, which shall be delivered to said United States Steel Corporation in accordance with the provisions of said Indentures), in accordance with the request of said United States Steel Corporation approved by two-thirds of the members of its Board of Directors.

8. To transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

The stock transfer books will be closed at 12:01 A. M. on Saturday, the 16th day of March, 1929, and will remain closed until the adjournment of said meeting of stockholders.

By order of the Board of Directors.

GEO. K. LEET, Secretary.

Dated, March 4, 1929.

BUGS BAER Says

EARLY STRUGGLES IN WHITE HOUSE GARRET

"Bugs" Baer

NOW that Mr. Coolidge is getting paid $11 a word for writing, he must feel sad over all the presidential messages he wasted on Congress.

Brevity may be the soul of wit, but not at $16 a syllable.

We advise Cal to write long, flowery sentences. And not to cross out any words.

At $19 a word, brevity is the soul of nit-wits.

Mr. Coolidge can get rich on punctuation alone.

Of course, Cal's great price is due to his seven years in the White House.

Every author cannot graduate from that kind of college.

But, Cal has the world by the unbobbed whiskers. He is America's most financial author and he even can get $10,000 for endorsing the weather.

Every time Cal dots an I there will be a clear, melodious tingle like a maestro striking the bell of the chimes of Wall Street.

When he gets accustomed to his lucrative thesaurus, he will make a synopsis of a negative and a serial of an affirmative.

Think of the pleasure of writing a 10,000-word scenario for the four-word novelette, "I Do Not Choose."

Massachusetts apparently desires Cal to become a U. S. Senator in 1930.

Why should Calvin give up a career of letters for one of postcards?

We certainly envy the author who can dictate to a stenographer who is typing every word on a cash register.

If Mr. Coolidge is intelligent, and we know he was, he will stand for no shorthand.

Make it as long as possible.

And then gradually work up to the climax.

Like the Constitution of the United States, stick on plenty of preamble.

Choose your subject. And then avoid it. Do plenty of shadow-boxing with the potential mood and every time you split an infinitive, charge for both halves.

Fatten up the prepositions and the conjunctions and never go on a diet of adjectives.

And when it comes to slapping on the adverbs and stuffing in the nouns, do not make it an administration of economy.

Of course, Cal, the editors will boil your stuff down. At $62 a word, they are even liable to scald it.

But when you get $85 a word, your articles will stand a lot of cooking.

And when you are rich and famous, you can sell them an article on your early struggles in the White House garret.

"DANCER TURNS PUGILIST"
—Headline.

Turn about is fair play.

Speaking of boxing, Judge Stack, of North Carolina, deplores pugilism because it develops pugnacity.

He hasn't been attending fights lately.

Perhaps the judge had in mind the pugnacity aroused in the spectators.

And why not. Pugilists have nothing to be unhappy about anymore.

"I am the captain of my soul,
I am the master of my fate!"
Is just a rhymester's rigmarole,
Unless, of course, you're celibate.

PUTTING ONE OVER ON GRANDMA
(Household Hint in Times)

"If grandma has a rocking chair and she enjoys rocking, perhaps it has caused some marks on your varnished floor. After she has gone to bed some night, turn the rocker upside down and apply a strip of felt weatherstripping to the under side of the rockers by means of a little glue. It will be dry by morning and no one will be the wiser."

* * *

Why not turn grandma upside down and apply a strip of ordinary lath?

FAMOUS LAST WORDS
But this is the opportunity of a lifetime.

C'EST LA MODE

With Easter only a few days away it is not too early to begin thinking about dress-making.

Above is a smart little motoring outfit which is appropriate for the road as well as the auto camp. Exclusive features of this model are the standard equipment, such as rear bumper and convenient license-certificate holder, which may be held in the right hand or tossed aside like yesterday's roses. (Pattern by Acme Tent & Awning Company.)

Says Geneviewe, the kitchen cynic:

Our high standard of living is all right, but what makes me tired is trying to live up to it.

Four-Cent Tax on Gas Will Not Be Tolerated

The administration in Harrisburg is intent on "giving us a four-cent gas tax and making us like it." The idea is that with five cents as the tentative tax, as proposed by a bill introduced in the House Wednesday, the last day for the admission of House bills, we will be glad to accept four as a compromise.

Let our legislators be warned—the public is not so easily deluded and will not willingly submit to a four-cent tax on gasoline. It regards the promise implied in the raising of the tax from two cents to three cents, as an emergency for a stipulated period, as binding on the Legislature. If shown proof that the emergency still exists it may agree to extension of three-cent period to a time not beyond the control of the next session of the Legislature, but it certainly will lose faith with Representatives and Senators who "go along" with the forces evidently determined to highly tax the public and tell it to "go hang!"

State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis, who should know the financial status of the state as well as anybody does, says the tax is not needed and that any proclaimed necessity for it for highway construction is artificial. The public has been much impressed with the fearless manner in which this state official has countered all the moves of the four-cent gas proponents and supports him in his opposition.

The public will be told by the steam-roller drivers of Capitol Hill that other states have gas taxes of five and six cents. But they will not be told that they are states that have neglected road building, while Pennsylvania has been going forward for years, and that the lagging states are now confronted with the necessity of trying to catch up with the more progressive ones. We have been proceeding with our program until now our road system is very extensive, and can be extended in the same ratio that has prevailed without resorting to extraordinary methods. Of that we have the assurance of Treasurer Lewis.

Let the protest against a four-cent tax begin now. Let it continue until our legislators are convinced they cannot play false with the public.

Fight for Good Charter, But Don't Jump Traces!

There is indignation among supporters of the Metropolitan Plan Commission because of the plaything a political-minded legislative committee made of the charter the commission prepared. This indignation even takes on the form of implied opposition at the polls to whatever charter the law makers grant us.

Friends of the commission and of the charter will not be wise in that course. We will be given a charter of some kind, it now seems assured. It also seems assured that it will not interfere with any of our present rights. Even as it is now, there is possibility, slight, perhaps, but still existing, that some of the big things we expected may be forced into the instrument if we fight hard enough. But even if we are unsuccessful in that we still will have a metropolitan charter.

We must not accept that as the end but as the beginning. Unless there are "snakes" in it we should work for it in order to make Allegheny County a metropolitan district. This will serve as the foundation upon which we may hope to build.

The Sun-Telegraph would like to see the Metropolitan Plan Commission continued in existence. Based on developments in the next two years, the charter it could outline would be better than the original. Then, it could profit by a mistake it made with the first one, in not calling into consultation leading officeholders, and assemble a charter convention composed of the commission and official representatives of all the municipalities and first-class townships as well as civic, commercial and industrial interests.

For the present let us prepare to fight as long as we can, to surrender when we must, and then all turn in together to put over our first metropolitan charter.

End of "Referee System" In South Commendable

Buying and selling of federal offices in the South is going to stop. And if President Hoover can put them there, the Republican rascals guilty of this nefarious traffic are going to jail. Nothing less than this is the real purport.

This is the sum and substance of an ultimatum from the White House, issued by the President himself, which condemned Republican abuses in at least three southern states as "intolerable to public service, repugnant to Republican ideals, and unjust to the people of the South."

These conditions there and elsewhere throughout the South are to be ended. And that he means business President Hoover proves by abolishing the infamous "referee system" under which Republican offices in the South have long been bought and sold like so many bales of cotton.

Were the Republican National Committee not contaminated with cowardice, it would have cleaned its own house, purged its rolls, and spared itself the stinging rebuke which has come from the White House and which the committee highly deserves.

But the failure of the Republican National Committee to end this indefensible traffic has given President Hoover the opportunity to keep the promise he made to the people of the South when he was a candidate for President. Speaking over the radio to the southern people last October, Mr. Hoover in his address at Elizabethtown, Tenn., said:

"I believe in the merit system of the Civil Service and I believe further that appointive offices must be filled by those who deserve the confidence and respect of the communities they serve."

On this page last December it was pointed out that "the hope of this reform was a powerful factor in the victory of Mr. Hoover below the Mason and Dixon line on election day."

And the newly elected President was reminded that breaking the solid South not only gave him a great opportunity but imposed upon him "the stern obligation to end the traffic in federal offices in the South."

His determination to do this once and for all President Hoover's ultimatum makes clear beyond the shadow of doubt. And he deserves, and as we believe, is sure to receive the whole-hearted co-operation of the plain people of the South who have suffered all too long from the flagrant abuses to which a sordid group of Republican bosses have subjected them.

Although the South is the chief beneficiary of this cleanup, President Hoover by making it has rendered a service to the whole country because he has relieved the American people of a bitter humiliation of long standing.

Tales That Are Told

Sailors Don't Care

THE sailor was on short leave and happy because he was with his girl. But his joy was dimmed because she would not let him kiss her in the street.

Then he saw a man kiss his wife farewell at the railroad station. He rushed his girl towards a crowd hurrying to catch an express and bade her a fond farewell. When the crowd thinned they joined a throng at another train and repeated the act. They kissed before another train.

This was too much for a porter who had been watching. He stepped up to the sailor.

"Look here," he said, "why don't you go down those steps and try the Underground? The trains leave there nearly every minute."

Wizard of the Wires

"ALMOST every man can find work if he uses his brains," asserted one who had traveled a good deal—"that is, if he has the ability to adapt himself, like the piano-tuner I once met."

"'Why,' I said to him, for we were in a wild, unsettled country, 'surely piano-tuning can't be very lucrative here? I shouldn't imagine that pianos were very plentiful in this region.'

"'No, they're not,' said the piano-tuner, 'but I make a pretty fair income by tightening up barbed-wire fences!'"

Doing Well

A HOUSEHOLDER had trouble with the geyser in his bathroom, and plumbers were called in.

After an hour or more, hearing no sounds of activity from the bathroom, the householder proceeded to the scene of operations. Opening the door he found the plumber and his mate seated on the bathtub engrossed in a copy of an evening paper.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "how are you fellows getting on?"

"Fine," said the plumber, removing his pipe. "We've got a couple of winners this afternoon."

The Catch

SHE had urged him to study the correspondence course, and he had—just as the advertisements said.

At last his salary was raised $10 a month—also just as the advertisement said.

"Darling, I owe it all to you," he said.

"Well, dear," she returned, "don't worry about that. You won't after pay-day."

Which was just the point the advertisements failed to mention.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

WELL, it's about time for the neighbors to start fighting over the gardens again. You know ever since the war some town folks keep chickens and cats and dogs and children.

Anyway, there was a fellow in Oklahoma City that had a nice garden and one day he was digging in it with a spade, and his neighbor says to him:

"What are you doing now?"

"Oh, I'm just planting about a dollar's worth of seeds in this here hole."

"Well, it looks to me like you was planting my Cochin China rooster! What have you got to say about that?"

"Sure, you're right. And the dollar's worth of my garden seeds are inside of him."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

ARE you growing stale?

Is life becoming dull and uninteresting?

Do you think back wistfully to those childhood days when every hour tingled with adventure?

"If I only could be young again," you sigh.

You CAN be young again. You can be young until the day you die if you'll follow the rule that made life magical when you were six.

ASK QUESTIONS.

Stop taking things for granted. Stop acting as if the riddles were all solved, the trails all ended.

Set life to stirring once more in your imagination. Minds must be exercised as well as bodies. Unused imaginations wither and atrophy as well as muscles. People who no longer question or marvel or doubt are already three-quarters dead.

Begin to think about life again—begin to ask questions.

Ask questions about everything.

Approach every object and happening in your life, however common place, with curiosity.

Find out why things are made as they are made.

Amazing stories lie behind most ordinary things.

Study the history of vaccines and serums. Read "The Microbe Hunters" and feel a new respect for men flame within you.

Watch the spider crawling along that leaf. Then buy some Fabu's natural history books and lose yourself in a new wonder world.

Find out why people act as they do act. See what a thin veneer of civilization covers the hairy cave man who lurks within each of us.

Remember how you shuddered to tales of black magic when you were a youngster? Get Frazer's condensed volume of "The Golden Bough" and read about the dark stream of black magic which still seeps through our modern conduct. Learn of the days when men tore living human bodies to bits to fertilize the newly ploughed fields. Learn what sort of a festival Easter was before the Christian took it over.

Ask questions about yourself. Find out why you act as you do act. Uncover the motives that lie behind many of your fanciest gestures. You'll be surprised!

Read Dorsey's "Why We Behave Like Human Beings."

Then try to decide how often you do behave like a human being!

Open the doors of your mind.

Let life come in to you.

Let it come in like a great, gusty wind, sweetening the stagnant places of your imagination.

Go out to life.

Leave the petty confines of the little cell of Self in which you have been living for so long, and behold the new wonders which await you outside.

Go out, as you used to go out when you were a child—

And through that same door—

The door of questioning—

TALKING

By Garrett P. Serviss

A NEW YORK shorthand expert says that Americans are talking faster at the rate of 10 words per minute every 20 years. He regards this as proof of a gain in the speed of thinking, though thought usually keeps ahead of expression. But, however flattering this may seem to the American brain, it does no credit to the American spoken language. Too many of us are clipping words, slurring syllables, omitting consonants or vowels, and thus making our speech resemble the babble of barbarians. Our language is the richest in the world, built up by the efforts of many of the greatest thinkers that have lived within a thousand years, and it is worth more respect and care than it receives from the majority of those who speak it.

As long as we have ears we must receive the most of our exchange of thought through spoken words. If we are to talk faster and faster, not only must our organs of speech be progressively improved, but our hearing must became more acute. So far is this last requisite from being met, that the fact seems to be that partial deafness is increasing. Fast talking cannot of course be charged with causing this, but it aggravates the evil, for there is nothing so confusing to the person of dull hearing as rapidity of utterance. If you have to talk to a "deaf" person, don't shout, but speak deliberately with clear enunciation of syllables.

Of course, if the main object of talking were what it seems to be at many assemblages of women, viz., to have everybody talk at once, and as fast as possible so as to fill the common ear with (more or less) harmony of sweet sounds, then we might as well go on increasing the tongue rate up to a thousand words per minute. There would be more sound and not less sense exchanged. But I believe that the number of people is still very large, who love their language and employ it for other purposes than speech speeding. They admire it for its qualities—its music, its symmetry, its logical structure. The soul of poetry is in all speech. There is a stanza in every syllable. By their clear enunciation and proper accentuation the syllables combine to make a little poem of the word. Word poems are innumerable. Most nouns are such to instructed minds—Peru, Rome, Athens, rose, snow, summer, jasmine, galleon, gondola, argosy. And so are many abstract words and verbs, especially participles—flying, sailing, loving, roving, seeking, battling—every one can call forth a poetic atmosphere that enriches the sense of the word however it may be employed.

Who has not been thrilled at the wedding of sound and thought in the enunciation of particular words by great actors or orators? These jewels of speech should not be dulled and jumbled into incoherent sounds even in ordinary usage. There has lately arisen a new occupation which affords the public a striking example of the power that lies in the perfect use of English speech. I refer to the radio announcer. Some of these might delight the ears of Demosthenes by the round beauty of their full-spoken words. They give an apparently unheeded lesson to many of the speakers and singers who assail the public over the radio.

No doubt an influence upon the habits of speech is exercised by a certain impatience of business with the amenities. Industry and commerce bring wealth and luxury but in spite of that they injure the finer arts of life. A single word proves it—"standardization." This is the direst enemy that the spirit of art ever had. A kind of machine-chopped language grows up in the factories, the big plants, the power centers, and the laboratories. This spreads outside and readily affiliates with slang. Another stream of accelerated and cropped language joins from the whirlpool of trade. And, worst of all, fashion comes in and puts its up-to-date stamp on many of the linguistic atrocities.

Bible Passages

A Thanksgiving

(Psalm 21.)

THE king shall joy in thy strength, O Lord: and in thy salvation now greatly shall he rejoice!

Thou hast given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Selah.

For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness: thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.

He asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.

His glory is great in thy salvation: honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.

For thou hast made him blessed for ever: thou hast made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.

For the king trusteth in the Lord, and through the mercy of the most High he shall not be moved.

Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies: thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.

Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the Lord shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.

Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.

For they intended evil against thee: they imagined a mischievous device, which they are not able to perform.

Therefore shalt thou make them turn their back, when thou shalt make ready thine arrows upon thy strings against the face of them.

Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

My Task

A TASK have I: To bring always
My share of gladness to the days,
That other lives, perhaps less bright,
May glean some glimpses of delight
To cheer their shadowed ways.

A task have I: To find content
Though sun sometimes with shade is blent,
To seek some wiser hand than chance
In every quirk of circumstance
And solve the message sent.

A task have I: To pass along
The cadences of carefree song
And send their echoes far afield
Till right and beauty stand revealed
Where all had seemed but wrong.

For all that comes to me of good greet with truest gratitude;
Good gifts are given only in trust.
And I, who would be always just,
Share them in humble mood.

Isn't It So?

People who enjoy life are either admired or despised.

Morons at the White House

By Herbert Kaufman

DON'T forget a trip to Washington this spring. Horn in on your Senator and chatter him from action for at least half an hour.

Then cross over and draw Representative Bux off the floor, while in the midst of pressing business. He squanders several hundred hours a year on such tom-fool interruptions, so you might as well steal some of his time, too.

Or, better still, organize a delegation and call on Mr. Hoover. He'd feel very badly if you left the Capital without telling how you and the Missus helped elect him with your very important votes and influence.

But, especially, remember to give a thorough, whole-souled handshake. Probably not more than a thousand folk will similarly pester him that week.

He's YOUR President. And, under the equalities of citizenship, you have the same right to be a bore as any other moron.

Europeans can't do that with their kings. No, siree! But, "in the land of the free and the home of the brave," where everybody is as good as the next fellow, we just butt in as we please, and dissipate executive and legislative energy, regardless of national exigencies.

As you were about to observe, Hoover and the Cabinet, after all, are simply our hired men.

But it might occur to you that they are also our very tired men—working under strains that shallowpates and busybodies never experience.

The responsibility of administering this ponderous and complicated machine, called the United States, is a life-shortener and a man-killer.

The President must mentally digest the happenings of the universe every day—confer with Department officials, and advise them—consult with diplomats, grant audience to pollen-bearers—keep an eye on Federal plans and expenditures—analyze bills and budgets—read balance sheets and legal decisions—sign appointments, vouchers and statutes—cross-check reclamation and highway projects—flood and farm-relief programs—dictate and answer correspondence on consular matters, law enforcement, transportation and aviation.

He must constantly survey possibility, and consider anticipatory measures to insure prosperity, safety and employment to the whole community.

His precious vitality can't be frittered on autograph albums—patting child wonders—or listening to the bromides of small-town bosses.

But such things never concern the Babbits and Schmalzes, sitting up nights to invent stunts which will entice him out on the lawn to be photographed with the Chamber of Commerce of Podunk—nor do they halt the committee bringing the crocheted flag from Bingville's sewing circle.

For Heaven's sake, have a heart, and quit nagging the man. You arm-pumped and gabbled most of his predecessors to premature graves with like inconsideration.

He needs all his store of strength to handle Congress, foreign affairs and predacity; the gad-flies on Capitol Hill and the log-rollers of Wall Street and Europe.

You gave him his job, now give him his chance—to succeed —and survive.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, March 29.—Thoughts while strolling: Wonder if looking forward to children's hour on the radio means anything? Quick repair shoe shops with uniformed workers. The flood of Mexican candy kitchens. Who remembers when A. Reuben wore a long white delicatessen coat? Now look at him!

The former Fifi Widener. Why not speed laws for dangerous motorcycles? A "Ten-Day Sale" now in its second year. Whatever became of Kentucky Night Riders? Kresge, the 5 and 10-cent magnate. Girls trying to look and talk like characters in a Lonsdale drama.

There's one—a Dog Astrologer. The patent attorney with a window exhibit outside his office. Never hear of brass knucks any more. Ladies with heavily shadowed eyes who seem unaware the vampire stuff is passe. Bruno Zirato, once Caruso's secretary. Theaters announce best seats at box office. That's a lotta pop corn!

Will Hogg, a Quitman (Tex.) boy, who made good in the city. Overheard: "She only gets $30 a week and has to lunch with the boss." Cocktail shakers labeled "Drink Mixers." Little shops—struggling to stay little. Why do Shubert musical shows always have a Spanish scene?

Serene cosmopolites who sport lapel flowers. Owen Davis' son—now an actor. Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte. They are padding the shoulders again. One of those drug stores with a jar of rock candy in the window. And stuffed owls who sit all day in club windows. Edith Gordon, who had an idea and made it pay.

Nothing more dignified than a lighted Gothic window. Police officials who drive up suddenly and act mysterious as they do in mystery novels. Nurses returning from the park Mall. The head waiter who resembles Nick Longworth. A society women with her husband—small world. Douglas Stevenson.

The dead calm before Broadway turns topsy-turvey for the night. Glum men in dinner clothes who accompany wives under protest. Musicians taking a final drag at cigarets. Wish they would fix that electrical tooth paste sign in Longacre Square. We now return you to our studio.

A chain of restaurants seems to have survived a no-tipping manifesto. All prosper. They are "the better sort." Waiters are instructed, under penalty of discharge, not to accept a gratuity. On each check, it is announced, a 10 per cent of the total is added as a "service charge," which goes to the waiter. Others may care for it, but after paying high price for food it seems another impertinent gouge. One of the fairy tales is that the experienced tipper always gives 10 per cent. If the service is good he does and if extraordinarily superior much more. Tipping should be regulated by value received, and often it is not worth a plugged thin dime.

* * *

A great executive has a novel method of handling lieutenants. If something goes wrong in a department he summons the head, lets him do the talking, and at the finish remains in a studied and respectful silence. Few can endure this. They feel the silence demands defense, and they talk too much and thus reveal their weakness.

* * *

Nothing is so confusing as a calm gaze and a still tongue. A famous police quizzer has used this method successfully for years. He has the prisoner brought before him, greets him pleasantly enough, sits slowly tapping a pencil on his desk and never removing his eyes from the prisoner's face. Many, after several days of this, have broken down and babbled all.

* * *

While the talented Maurice Chevalier was being cheered to the echo singing in French in New York, Whispering Jack Smith was being unmercifully razzed in Paris with shouts of "Chantez en Francais!" while singing in English. Paris is Paris and New York is New York—if you know what I mean. I am not exactly clear myself.

One of the stuffy cellar speakeasies on Tenth avenue installed a huge brass cuspidor the other day. "What's the idea?" inquired one of the habitues. "Getting effeminate?"

A Columbia professor says most men become stubborn at 40. I know now why I used to spell it "thro," but lately you couldn't make me spell it that way with a big bribe. Well, anyway, for $4.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DON'T worry so much about your future years on earth that you unfit yourself for the work for which you are responsible.

Too many waste valuable time on the what-will-become-of-them-in-old-age problem.

They carry a sorrowful picture that robs them of the spirit to keep on.

It is sensible to think and plan for the future.

In fact it is the only safe course to pursue.

But to use one's energy in worry, with dark thoughts for the future will bring the dreaded result sooner than necessary.

It is easy to upset mental machinery.

When any machinery ceases to function properly, early decline in effort and accomplishment may result.

Of course, you cannot expect to grasp things as quickly as you did, say, thirty years ago.

You can't work at the same speed and keep it up, so as time goes on you should make your experience and mind training count for the lost speed.

More thought, fewer false moves, fewer mistakes, less worry.

Your brain should help to even things as you grow older.

Worry will shorten your life and efficiency.
